Exhibit A - Form of Registered Security

FISCAL AGENCY AGREEMENT dated as of October 19, 1994, between The Republic of Argentina (the "Republic") and Bankers Trust Company, a New York banking corporation, as fiscal agent.

1. Securities Issuable in Series. (a) The Republic may issue its notes, securities, debentures or other evidences of indebtedness (the "Securities") in separate series from time to time (each such series of Securities being hereinafter referred to as a "Series" or the "Securities of a Series"). The aggregate principal amount of the Securities of all Series which may be authenticated and delivered under this Agreement and which may be outstanding at any time is not limited by this Agreement. The text of the Securities of a Series delivered to the Fiscal Agent (as hereinafter defined) for authentication on original issuance pursuant to Section 3 of this Agreement shall establish (i) the specific designation of the Securities of such Series (which shall distinguish the Securities of such Series from all other Series); (ii) any limit on the aggregate principal amount of the Securities of such Series which may be authenticated and delivered under this Agreement (except for Securities authenticated and delivered upon registration of transfer of, or in exchange for, or in lieu of, other Securities of such Series pursuant to the provisions of this Agreement or of the Securities of such Series); (iii) the price or prices (expressed as a percentage of the aggregate principal amount thereof) at which the Securities of such Series will be issued; (iv) the date or dates on which the principal and premium, if any, of the Securities of such Series is payable; (v) the rate or rates (which may be fixed or floating) per annum at which the Securities of such Series shall bear interest, if any, the date or dates from which such interest, if any, shall accrue, the interest payment dates on which such interest shall be payable and the record dates for the determination of holders of the Securities of such Series to whom interest is payable; (vi) the place or places where the principal of, and premium, if any, and interest on the Securities of such Series are payable; (vii) the price or prices at which, the period or periods within which and the terms and conditions upon which Securities of such Series may be redeemed, in whole or in part, at the option of the Republic or otherwise; (viii) the obligation, if any, of the Republic to redeem, purchase or repay Securities of such Series pursuant to any sinking fund or analogous provisions and the price or prices at which, the period or periods within which such Series shall be redeemed, upon which Securities of such Series shall be redeemed, purchased or repaid, in whole or in part, pursuant to such obligation; (ix) the minimum denomination and any multiples thereof of the Securities of such Series, which may be in U.S. dollars, another foreign currency, units of two or more currencies or amounts determined by reference to an index; (x) the currency or currencies in which the principal, premium, if any, or interest on such Securities may be payable; (xi) the manner in which the amount of payments of principal, premium, if any, or interest on such Securities is to be determined and if such determination is to be made with reference to any index; (xii) any covenants or agreements of the Republic and events which give rise to the right of a holder of a Security of such Series to accelerate the maturity of such Security other than such covenants, agreements or events specified herein; and (xiii) any other terms of the Securities of such Series. Securities may be issuable pursuant to warrants (if so provided in the text of such Securities) and the Fiscal Agent may act as warrant agent or in any similar capacity in connection therewith.

Case 1:07-cv-00057 Document 2 Filed on 09/03/07 and Page 5 of 24

(b) The Securities of a Series are to be issued in fully registered form only, without interest coupons, and will be issuable in the denominations specified in the text of the Securities of such Series, substantially in the form of Exhibit A hereto ("registered Securities"). The Securities of a Series may also have such additional provisions, omissions, variations or substitutions as are not inconsistent with the provisions of this Agreement, and may have such letters, numbers or other marks of identification and such legends or endorsements placed thereon as may be required to comply with any law or with any rules made pursuant thereto or with the rules of any securities exchange or governmental agency or as may, consistent herewith, be determined by the officials executing such Securities, as evidenced by their execution of such Securities. All Securities of a particular Series shall be otherwise substantially identical except as to denomination and as provided herein.

(c) The Securities will constitute (except as provided in Section 11 below) direct, unconditional, unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of the Republic and shall at all times rank pari passu and without any preference among themselves. The payment obligations of the Republic under the Securities shall at all times rank at least equally with all its other present and future unsecured and unsubordinated External Indebtedness (as defined in this Agreement).

(a) The Republic hereby appoints Bankers Trust Company, at present having its office at 4 Albany Street, New York, New York 10006 as fiscal agent, transfer agent, registrar and principal paying agent of the Republic for the Securities, upon the terms and conditions set forth herein. Bankers Trust Company accepts such appointments, and along with its successors as such fiscal agent, is hereinafter referred to as the "Fiscal Agent". The Republic reserves the right to appoint different fiscal agents for different series of securities.

(b) The Republic may appoint one or more additional agents (hereinafter called a "Paying Agent" or the "Paying Agents") for the payment (subject to the applicable laws and regulations) of the applicable payment of principal, premium, if any, and interest or Additional Amounts (as defined in Section 7 hereof), if any, on the Securities at such place or places as the Republic may determine pursuant to an agreement (each, a "Paying Agency Agreement"); provided that the Republic will maintain at all times until no Security is outstanding a Paying Agent (who may be the Fiscal Agent) in the Borough of Manhattan, The City of New York. The Republic will keep the Fiscal Agent informed as to the name, address, and telephone and facsimile numbers of each Paying Agent appointed by it and will notify the Fiscal Agent of the resignation of any Paying Agent. The Fiscal Agent shall arrange with each Paying Agent for the payment, as provided herein, of the principal and interest or Additional Amounts, if any, on the Securities on terms previously approved in writing by the Republic (further references herein to principal and interest shall be deemed to also refer to any Additional Amounts).

3. Authentication. (a) The Fiscal Agent shall, upon delivery of the Securities to it by the Republic, and a written order or orders to authenticate and deliver Securities in a stated aggregate principal amount, (i) authenticate and register not more than said aggregate principal amount of Securities and deliver them in accordance with the written order or orders of the Republic and (ii) thereafter authenticate and register Securities and deliver them in accordance with the provisions of Sections 4, 5 and 9 of this Agreement. The total principal amount of the Securities to be issued and outstanding at any time shall not be limited hereby.

(b) The Fiscal Agent may, with the prior written consent of the Republic, appoint by an instrument or instruments in writing one or more agents (which may include itself) for the authentication of Securities of a Series and, with such consent, vary or terminate any such appointment upon written notice and approve any change in the office through which any authenticating agent acts. The Republic (by written notice to the Fiscal Agent and the authenticating agent whose appointment is to be terminated) may also terminate any such appointment at any time. The Fiscal Agent hereby agrees to solicit written acceptances from the entities concerned (in form and substance satisfactory to the Republic) of such appointments. In its acceptance of such appointment, each such authenticating agent shall agree to act as an authenticating agent pursuant to the terms and conditions of this Agreement.

(c) Until definitive Securities of a Series are prepared, the Republic may execute, and there shall be authenticated and delivered in accordance with the provisions hereof (in lieu of definitive Securities of such Series), temporary Securities of such Series. Such temporary Securities of a Series shall be subject to the same limitations and conditions and entitled to the same rights and benefits as definitive Securities of such Series, except as provided herein or therein. Temporary Securities of a Series shall be exchangeable for definitive Securities of such Series when such definitive Securities are available for delivery; and upon the surrender for exchange of such temporary Securities of a Series, the Republic shall execute and there shall be authenticated and delivered, in accordance with the provisions of Sections 3 and 4 hereof, in exchange for such temporary Securities of a Series, a like aggregate principal amount of definitive Securities of such Series and of like tenor. The Republic shall pay all charges, including (without limitation) stamp and other taxes and governmental charges, incident to any exchange of temporary Securities for definitive Securities. All temporary Securities shall be identified as such and shall describe the right of the holder thereof to effect an exchange for definitive Securities and the manner in which such an exchange may be effected.

4. Registration, Transfers and Exchanges. (a) The Fiscal Agent, as agent of the Republic for such purpose, will at all times keep at the office of the Fiscal Agent in the Borough of Manhattan, The City of New York, a register or registers for the registration and registration of transfers and exchanges of Securities, in which shall be entered the names and addresses of the registered holders of Securities and the particulars of the Securities held by such registered holders. Subject to Section 5 hereof, upon surrender for transfer of any Security of any Series at said office, the Fiscal Agent shall authenticate, register and deliver in the name of the transferor or transferee a new Security or securities of any Series for a like aggregate principal amount. Subject to Section 5 hereof, upon surrender of any Security at said office for exchange, the Fiscal Agent shall authenticate, register and deliver in exchange for such Security a new Security or new Securities of the appropriate authorized denomination(s) and for a like aggregate principal amount in accordance with the provisions of the Securities.

(b) All new Securities authenticated and delivered by the Fiscal Agent upon registration of transfer or in exchange for Securities of other denominations shall be so dated that neither gain nor loss of interest shall result from such registration of transfer or exchange.

(c) All Securities presented or surrendered for registration of transfer, exchange or payment shall be accompanied by a written instrument or instruments of transfer in form satisfactory to the Fiscal Agent, duly executed by the registered holder or its attorney duly authorized in writing and with the signatures thereon duly guaranteed by a commercial bank or trust company having its principal office in The City of New York or by a member of the New York Stock Exchange.

(d) The Fiscal Agent shall not impose any service charge on the registered holder on any such registration, transfer or exchange of Securities; however, the Republic may require of the party requesting such transfer or exchange, as a condition precedent to the exercise of any right of transfer or exchange contained in this Agreement or in the Securities, the payment of a sum sufficient to cover any stamp or other tax or other governmental charge payable in connection therewith.

(e) The Republic, the Fiscal Agent and any Paying Agent may treat the person in whose name any Security is registered as the owner of such Security for the purpose of receiving payment of principal of and interest on such Security, and all other purposes whatsoever, whether or not such Security be overdue, and none of the Republic, the Fiscal Agent or any Paying Agent shall be affected by any notice to the contrary and any such payment shall be a good and sufficient discharge to the Republic, the Fiscal Agent and any Paying Agent for the amount so paid.

(f) The Fiscal Agent shall not be required to register any transfer or exchange of Securities during the period from the Regular Record Date (as defined in such Securities) to the Interest Payment Date (as defined in such

5. Global Securities. The Securities of any Series may be issued in whole or in part in the form of one or more global securities ("Global Securities") that will be deposited with, or on behalf of, a depositary (the "Depositary") relating to such Series. Global Securities may be issued only in fully registered form and in either temporary or definitive form. Unless and until it is exchanged in whole or in part for Securities in definitive form, a Global Security may not be transferred except as a whole by the Depositary for such Global Security to a nominee of such Depositary or by a nominee of such Depositary to such Depositary or another nominee of such Depositary or by such Depositary or any nominee of such Depositary to a successor Depositary or any nominee of such successor.

Upon the issuance of a Global Security, the Depositary for such Global Security will credit on its book-entry registration and transfer system the respective principal amounts of the Securities represented by such Global Security to the accounts of Persons that have accounts with such Depositary ("Participants"). The accounts to be credited shall be designated by the agents or underwriters with respect to such Securities or by the Republic if such Securities are offered and sold directly by the Republic. Ownership of beneficial interests in a Global Security will be limited to Participants or Persons that may hold interests through Participants. Ownership of beneficial interests in a Global Security will be shown on, and the transfer of that ownership will be effected only through, records maintained by the applicable Depositary (with respect to interests of Participants) and records of Participants (with respect to interests of Persons who hold through Participants). Owners of beneficial interests in a Global Security (other than Participants) will not receive written confirmation from the applicable Depositary of their purchase. Each beneficial owner is expected to receive written confirmation providing details of the transaction, as well as periodic statements of its holdings, from the Depositary (if such beneficial owner is a Participant) or from the Participant through which such beneficial owner entered into the transaction (if such beneficial owner is not a Participant). The laws of some states require that certain purchasers of securities take physical delivery of such securities in definitive form. Such limits and such laws may impair the ability to own, pledge or transfer beneficial interests in a Global Security.

So long as the Depositary for a Global Security, or its nominee, is the registered owner of such Global Security, such Depositary or such nominee, as the case may be, will be considered the sole owner or holder of the Securities represented by such Global Security for all purposes under this Agreement. Except as specified below or with respect to the terms of Securities of a Series, owners of beneficial interests in a Global Security will not be entitled to have any of the individual Securities represented by such Global Security registered in their names, and will not receive or be entitled to receive physical delivery of any such Securities in definitive form and will not be considered the owners or holders thereof under such Securities or this Agreement. Accordingly, each Person owning a beneficial interest in a Global Security must rely on the procedures of the Depositary for such Global Security and, if such Person is not a Participant, on the procedures of the Participant through which such Person owns its interest, to exercise any rights of a holder under the Securities or this Agreement. The Republic understands that under existing industry practices, if the Republic requests any action of holders, or an owner of a beneficial interest in such Global Security desires to take any action which a holder is entitled to take under the Fiscal Agency Agreement, the Depositary for such Global Security would authorize the Participants holding the relevant interests to take such action, and such Participants would authorize beneficial owners owning through such Participants to take such action or would otherwise act upon the instructions of beneficial owners holding through them.

Payments of principal of and any premium and any interest on Securities registered in the name of a Depositary or its nominee will be made to the Depositary or its nominee, as the case may be, as the holder of the Global Security representing such Securities. None of the Republic, any Paying Agent or the Fiscal Agent, in its capacity as registrar for such Debt Securities, will have any responsibility or liability for any aspect of the records relating to or payments made on account of beneficial interests in a Global Security or for maintaining, supervising or reviewing any records relating to such beneficial interests.

The Republic expects that the Depositary for a series of Securities or its nominee, upon receipt of any payment of principal, premium or interest in respect of a Global Security representing such securities will credit

Participants' accounts with payments in amounts proportionate to their respective beneficial interests in the principal amount of such Global Security as shown on the records of such Depository. The Republic also expects that payments by Participants to owners of beneficial interests in such Global Security held through such Participants will be governed by standing instructions and customary practices, as is now the case with securities held for the accounts of customers in bearer form or registered in "street name". Such payments will be the responsibility of such Participants.

If at any time the Depository notifies the Republic that it is unwilling or unable to continue as Depository for the Securities, or if the Republic notifies the Depository that it will no longer continue as Depository for the Securities, or if at any time the Depository ceases to be a clearing agency registered under the United States Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended, or otherwise ceases to be eligible to be a Depository, the Republic shall appoint a successor Depository with respect to such Securities. If a successor Depository for such Securities is not appointed by the Republic within 90 days after the Republic receives such notice or becomes aware of such ineligibility, or if the Depository notifies the Fiscal Agent or the Republic of the acceleration of the indebtedness under the Securities in accordance with the terms of the Securities, the Republic will execute, and the Fiscal Agent upon receipt of such executed definitive Securities will authenticate and deliver, Securities in definitive registered form without coupons, in denominations of U.S.$1,000 and integral multiples thereof (unless some other denomination is specified in terms of the Securities of a Series), in an aggregate principal amount equal to the aggregate principal amount of the Global Securities.

The Republic may at any time and in its sole discretion determine not to have any of the Securities held in the form of Global Securities. In such event, the Republic will execute, and the Fiscal Agent, upon receipt of such executed definitive Securities will authenticate and deliver, Securities in definitive registered form without coupons, in denominations of U.S.$1,000 and integral multiples thereof (unless some other denomination is specified in terms of the Securities of a Series), in an aggregate principal amount equal to the aggregate principal amount of the Global Securities.

Upon the exchange of the Global Securities for Securities in definitive registered form the Global Securities shall be canceled by the Fiscal Agent.

~~Securities in definitive registered form issued in exchange for the Global Securities pursuant to this section shall be registered in such names as the Depositary, pursuant to instructions from its direct or indirect participants or otherwise, shall instruct the Fiscal Agent or the Republic. The Fiscal Agent shall deliver such Securities in definitive registered form to or as directed by the persons in whose names such definitive registered Securities are so registered and will direct all payments to be made in respect of such Securities in definitive registered form to the registered holders thereof on or after such exchange regardless of whether such exchange occurred after the record date for such payment.~~

All Securities in definitive registered form, issued upon the exchange of the Global Securities, shall be valid obligations of the Republic, evidencing the same debt, and entitled to the same benefits under this Agreement, as the Global Securities surrendered upon such exchange.

6. Payment. (a) The Republic will pay to the Fiscal Agent, the amounts, at the times and for the purposes set forth herein and in the text of the Securities of a Series, not later than 1:00 p.m. New York City time to an account to be specified by the Fiscal Agent, on the day on which the same shall become due, all amounts to be paid on the Securities of such Series as required by the terms of the Securities, and the Republic hereby authorizes and directs the Fiscal Agent, from the funds so paid to it, to make payments in respect of the Securities in accordance with their terms and the provisions set forth below. If any date for payment in respect of a Security is not a Business Day, such payment shall be made on the next following Business Day. "Business Day" means a day on which banking institutions in The City of New York and at the applicable place of payment are not authorized or obligated by law or executive order to be closed. The Fiscal Agent shall arrange directly with any Paying Agent who may have been appointed pursuant to the provisions of Section 2 hereof for the payment from funds so paid by the Republic of the principal of (and premium, if any) and any interest on the Securities of such Series as set forth herein and in the text of said Securities. Notwithstanding the foregoing, where the terms of such Securities expressly so provide and the Republic so notifies the Fiscal Agent the Republic may provide directly a Paying Agent with funds for the payment of the principal thereof and premium and interest, if any, payable thereon under an agreement with respect to such funds containing substantially the same terms and conditions set forth in this Section; and the Fiscal Agent shall have

~~no responsibility with respect to any funds so provided by the Republic to any such Paying Agent.~~

(b) All payments with respect to the Global Securities shall be made by the Fiscal Agent to the Depositary in accordance with the regular procedures established from time to time by the Depositary.

(c) Payment of principal and premium, if any, in respect of Securities in definitive registered form issued pursuant hereto shall be made at the office of the Fiscal Agent in the Borough of Manhattan, The City of New York, or at the office of any Paying Agent appointed by the Republic for such purpose pursuant to this Agreement against surrender of such Securities. Any interest on Securities of a Series shall be paid, unless otherwise provided in the text of the Securities of such Series, to the persons in whose names such Securities are registered on the register maintained for such purposes at the close of business on the record dates designated in the text of the Securities of such Series. If so provided with respect to the Securities of a Series, payments of interest due prior to or on maturity may be made by forwarding by post or otherwise delivering a check to the registered addresses of registered holders of Securities, or, at the option of the Republic, otherwise transferring funds to the registered holders of the Securities. Such check shall be made payable to the order of the registered holder or, in the case of joint registered holders, to the order of all such joint holders (failing instructions from them to the contrary) and shall be sent to the address of that one of such joint holders whose name stands first in the register as one of such joint holders. The Fiscal Agent shall mail or otherwise deliver such checks to the names and addresses of registered holders of Securities sufficiently in advance of the relevant due date for payment that receipt of such checks by registered holders on or before the due date is reasonably assured.

(d) All money paid to the Fiscal Agent under Section 6(a) of this Agreement shall be held by it in a separate account from the moment when such money is received until the time of actual payment, in trust for the registered holders of Securities to be applied by the Fiscal Agent to payments due on the Securities at the time and in the manner provided for in this Agreement and the Securities. Any money deposited with the Fiscal Agent for the payment in respect of any Security remaining unclaimed for two years after such principal or interest shall have become due and payable shall be repaid to the Republic upon written request without interest, and the registered holder

7. Additional Amounts. All payments of principal, premium, if any, and interest in respect of the Securities by the Republic will be made free and clear of, and without withholding or deduction for or on account of, any present or future taxes, duties, assessments or governmental charges of whatever nature imposed, levied, collected, withheld or assessed by or within the Republic or any authority therein or thereof having power to tax (together "Taxes"), unless such withholding or deduction is required by law. In such event, the Republic shall pay such additional amounts ("Additional Amounts") as will result in receipt by the holders of Securities of such amounts of principal, premium and interest as would have been received by them had no such withholding or deduction been required, except that no such Additional Amounts shall be payable with respect to any Security:

- (a) to a holder (or to a third party on behalf of a holder) where such holder is liable for such Taxes in respect of any Security by reason of his having some connection with the Republic other than the mere holding of such Security or the receipt of principal, premium or interest in respect thereof; or
- (b) presented for payment more than 30 days after the Relevant Date, as defined herein, except to the extent that the holder thereof would have been entitled to Additional Amounts on presenting the same for payment on the last day of such period of 30 days.

"Relevant Date" in respect of any Security means the date on which payment in respect thereof becomes due or (if the full amount of the money payable on such date has not been received by the Fiscal Agent on or prior to such due date) the date on which notice is duly given to the holders in the manner described in Section 21 below that such moneys have been so received and are available for payment. Any reference herein to "principal" and/or "interest" shall be deemed to include any Additional Amounts which may be payable under the Securities.

So long as any Security remains outstanding, the Republic covenants to maintain its membership in, and its eligibility to use the general resources of, the International Monetary Fund.

8. Mutilated, Destroyed, Stolen or Lost Certificates. (a) In case any Security certificate is mutilated, defaced, destroyed, stolen or lost, application for replacement shall be made to the Fiscal Agent who shall promptly transmit such application to the Republic. Such application shall be accompanied by the mutilated or defaced certificate or receipt of proof, satisfactory to the Republic in its discretion, of the destruction, theft or loss of the certificate, and upon receipt by it of an indemnity satisfactory to the Republic and the Fiscal Agent, the Republic shall execute a new certificate of like tenor, and upon written instructions from the Republic the Fiscal Agent shall thereupon cancel the mutilated or defaced certificate if applicable and authenticate, register and deliver such new certificate in exchange for the mutilated or defaced certificate or in substitution for the destroyed, stolen or lost certificate. Such new certificate will be so dated that neither gain nor loss in interest will result from such exchange or substitution. All expenses associated with procuring such indemnity and with the preparation, authentication and delivery of a new certificate will be borne by the registered holder of the mutilated, defaced, destroyed, stolen or lost certificate.

(b) Whenever any Security, alleged to have been lost, stolen or destroyed in replacement for which a new Security has been issued, is presented to the Fiscal Agent or any Paying Agent for payment at maturity or at redemption or for registration of transfer or exchange, the Fiscal Agent or the Paying Agent, as the case may be, shall immediately notify the Republic in respect thereof and shall deal with such security in accordance with the Republic's instructions.

9. Redemption and Purchases. (a) Unless otherwise permitted by the terms of the Securities of a Series, Securities will not be redeemable prior to maturity at the option of the Republic or the registered holders thereof.

(b) The Republic hereby authorizes and directs the Fiscal Agent to administer the sinking fund with respect to the Securities of any Series having a mandatory sinking fund or similar provision in accordance with the provisions set forth in the terms of the Securities of such Series. If the provisions of the Securities of a Series permit the Republic to redeem Securities of such Series at its option, then the Republic shall, unless otherwise provided in the terms of the Securities of such Series, give written notice to the Fiscal Agent of the principal amount of Securities of such Series to be so redeemed not less than 60 days prior to the optional redemption date. If the provisions of the Securities of a Series permit the Republic to redeem Securities of such Series only upon the occurrence or satisfaction of a condition or conditions precedent thereto, then prior to the giving of notice of redemption of the Securities of such Series, the Republic shall deliver to the Fiscal Agent a certificate stating that the Republic is entitled to effect such redemption and setting forth in reasonable detail a statement of facts showing that such condition or conditions precedent have occurred or been satisfied. If the provisions of the Securities of a Series obligate the Republic at the request of the holders to redeem Securities of such Series upon the occurrence of certain events (each hereinafter referred to as a "Redemption Event"), then the Republic shall promptly deliver written notice to the Fiscal Agent that a Redemption Event has occurred. Promptly after receiving written notice of a Redemption Event, the Fiscal Agent shall deliver written notice to each holder of the Securities of such Series stating that a Redemption Event has occurred and that such holder may tender its Securities by delivering written notice of its election to tender for redemption, together with the certificate or certificates for the Securities to be redeemed, to the Fiscal Agent within 60 days of the Fiscal Agent's notice (hereinafter referred to as the "Option Period"). Thereafter, the Republic shall (i) in the manner provided in the provisions of the securities of such Series and as contemplated by Section 6 hereof, arrange with the Fiscal Agent (and each Paying Agent for the purpose, if applicable) for the provision of funds sufficient to make payments to such holders in respect of such redemptions, and (ii) redeem such Securities within 60 days of the expiration of the Option Period. The Fiscal Agent shall provide the Republic from time to time during and upon expiration of the Option Period with reasonable detailed information as to Securities tendered for redemption.

All notices of redemption of or Redemption Events relating to Securities of a Series to the holders thereof shall be made in the name and at the expense of the Republic and shall be given in accordance with the provisions applicable thereto set forth in the terms of the Securities of such Series.

Whenever less than all the Securities of a Series with the same interest rate and maturity at any time outstanding are to be redeemed at the option of the Republic, the particular Securities of such Series with such interest rate and maturity to be redeemed shall be selected not more than 60 days prior to the redemption date by the Fiscal Agent from the outstanding securities of such Series not previously called for redemption by such usual method as the Fiscal Agent shall deem fair and appropriate, which method may provide for the selection for redemption of portions of the principal amount of registered Securities of such Series the minimum denominations of which, if any, will be specified in the terms of the Securities of such Series. Upon any partial redemption of a registered Security of a Series, the Fiscal Agent shall authenticate and deliver in exchange therefor one or more registered Securities of such Series, of any authorized denomination and like tenor as requested by the holder thereof, in aggregate principal amount equal to the unredempted portion of the principal of such Security.

(c) The Republic may at any time purchase Securities at any price in the open market or otherwise, provided that in any such case such purchase or purchases are in compliance with all relevant laws, regulations and directives. Securities so purchased by the Republic, may, at the Republic's discretion, be held, resold or surrendered to the Fiscal Agent for cancellation. The Securities so purchased, while held by or on behalf of or for the benefit of the Republic shall not entitle the registered holder thereof to vote at any meetings of registered holders of Securities and shall not be deemed to be outstanding for the purposes of calculating quorums at meetings of the registered holders of the Securities. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Republic will not acquire any beneficial interest in any Securities unless it gives prior written notice of each acquisition to the Fiscal Agent. The Fiscal Agent will be entitled to rely without further investigation on any such notification (or lack thereof).

(d) If the Republic elects to cancel any Securities when Securities have been issued in the form of a Global Security, it may request the Fiscal Agent to instruct the Depositary to reduce the outstanding aggregate principal amount of the Global Securities in accordance with the regular procedures of the Depositary in effect at such time.

10. Cancellation and Destruction. All Securities which are paid at maturity or upon earlier repurchase, or are mutilated, defaced or surrendered in exchange for other certificates, shall be cancelled by the Fiscal Agent who shall register such cancellation. The Fiscal Agent shall, as soon as practicable after the date of any such cancellation, furnish the Republic with a certificate or certificates stating the serial numbers and total number of Securities that have been cancelled. The Fiscal Agent shall destroy all cancelled Securities in accordance with the instructions of the Republic and shall furnish to the Republic, on a timely basis, certificates of destruction stating the serial numbers, dollar value and total number of all securities destroyed hereunder.

11. Negative Pledge and Covenants. So long as any Security remains outstanding, save for the exceptions set forth below, the Republic will not create or permit to subsist any lien, pledge, mortgage, security interest, deed of trust, charge or other encumbrance or preferential arrangement which has the practical effect of constituting a security interest ("Lien") upon the whole or any part of its assets or revenues to secure any Public External Indebtedness of the Republic unless, at the same time or prior thereto, the Republic's obligations under the Securities either (i) are secured equally and ratably therewith, or (ii) have the benefit of such other security, guarantee, indemnity or other arrangement as shall be approved by the holders of the Securities (as provided in Section 16).

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Republic may permit to subsist:

(i) any Lien upon property to secure Public External Indebtedness of the Republic incurred for the purpose of financing the acquisition of such property; any renewal or extension of any such Lien which is limited to the original property covered thereby and which secures any renewal or extension of the original secured financing;

(ii) any Lien existing on such property at the time of its acquisition to secure Public External Indebtedness of the Republic and any renewal or extension of any such Lien which is limited to the original property covered thereby and which secures any renewal or extension of the original secured financing;

(iii) any Lien created in connection with the transactions contemplated by the Republic of Argentina 1992 Financing Plan dated June 23, 1992 sent to the international banking community with the communication dated June 23, 1992 from the Minister of Economy and Public Works and Services of Argentina (the "1992 Financing Plan") and the implementing documentation therefor, including any Lien to secure obligations under the collateralized securities issued thereunder (the "Par and Discount Bonds") and any Lien securing indebtedness outstanding on the date hereof to the extent required to be equally and ratably secured with the Par and Discount Bonds;

(iv) any Lien in existence on the date of this Agreement;

(v) any Lien securing Public External Indebtedness of the Republic issued upon surrender or cancellation of any of the Par and Discount Bonds or the principal amount of any indebtedness outstanding as of June 23, 1992, in each case, to the extent such Lien is created to secure such Public Indebtedness on a basis comparable to the Par and Discount Bonds;

(vi) any Lien on any of the Par and Discount Bonds; and

(vii) any Lien securing Public External Indebtedness incurred for the purpose of financing all or part of the costs of the acquisition, construction or development of a project provided that (a) the holders of such Public External Indebtedness expressly agree to limit their recourse to the assets and revenues of such project as the principal source of repayment of such Public External Indebtedness and (b) the property over which such Lien is granted consists solely of such assets and revenues.

For purposes of this Agreement:

13. (a) Limit on Liability. In acting under this Agreement the Fiscal Agent and any Paying Agent are acting solely as agents of the Republic and do not assume any obligation or relationship of agency or trust for or with any of the holders of the Securities, except that all funds held by the Fiscal Agent for payment of principal or interest shall be held in trust, subject to the provisions of Section 6.

(b) Acceptance of Appointment. The Fiscal Agent and each Paying Agent accepts its obligations set forth in or arising under this Agreement, the Paying Agency Agreements and the Securities upon the terms and conditions hereof and thereof, including the following, to all of which the Republic agrees and to all of which the holders of the Securities shall be subject:

(i) the Fiscal Agent may consult as to legal matters with lawyers selected by it, who may be employees of or regular independent counsel to the Republic, and the Fiscal Agent shall be protected and shall incur no liability for action taken, or suffered to be taken, with respect to such matters in good faith and in accordance with the opinion of such lawyers; and

(ii) the Fiscal Agent and each Paying Agent, and their officers, directors and employees, may become the holder of, or acquire any interest in, any Securities, with the same rights that it or they would have if it were not the Fiscal Agent or a Paying Agent hereunder, or they were not such officers, directors, or employers, and may engage or be interested in any financial or other transaction with the Republic and may act on, or as depository, trustee or agent for, any committee or body of holders of Securities or other obligations of the Republic as freely as if it were not

In addition, the Republic shall pursuant to arrangements separately agreed upon by the Republic and the Fiscal Agent, transfer to the Fiscal Agent, upon presentation of substantiating documentation satisfactory to the Republic, amounts sufficient to reimburse the Fiscal Agent for certain out-of-pocket expenses reasonably incurred by it and by any Paying Agent in connection with their services. The Republic may remove the Fiscal Agent at any time by giving written notice to the Fiscal Agent specifying the date on which such removal shall become effective. Such resignation or removal shall only take effect upon the appointment by the Republic of a successor Fiscal Agent and upon the acceptance of such appointment by such successor Fiscal Agent. Any Paying Agent may resign or may be removed at any time upon like notice, and the Republic in any such case may appoint in substitution therefor a new Paying Agent or Paying Agents.

(c) The appointment of the Fiscal Agent hereunder shall forthwith terminate, whether or not notice of such termination shall have been given, if at any time the Fiscal Agent becomes incapable of performing its duties hereunder, or is adjudged bankrupt or insolvent, or files a voluntary petition on bankruptcy or makes an assignment for the benefit of its creditors or consents to the appointment of a liquidator or receiver of all or any substantial part of its property or admits in writing its inability to pay or meet its debts as they mature or suspends payment thereof, or if a resolution is passed or an order made for the winding up or dissolution of the Fiscal Agent, or if a liquidator or receiver of the Fiscal Agent of all or any substantial part of its property is appointed, or if any order of any court is entered approving any petition filed by or against it under the provisions of any applicable bankruptcy or insolvency law or if any public officer takes charge or control of the Fiscal Agent or its property or affairs for the purposes of rehabilitation, conservation or liquidation.

(d) Prior to the effective date of any such resignation or removal of the Fiscal Agent, or if the Fiscal Agent shall become unable to act as such or shall cease to be qualified as aforesaid, the Republic shall appoint a successor Fiscal Agent, qualified as aforesaid. Upon the appointment of a successor Fiscal Agent and its acceptance of such appointment, the retiring Fiscal Agent shall, at the direction of the Republic and upon payment of its compensation and expenses then unpaid, deliver and pay over to its successor any and all securities, money and any other properties then in its possession as Fiscal Agent and shall thereupon cease to act hereunder.

At any meeting each registered holder shall be entitled to one vote for each of those amounts held by such holder which represent the lowest denomination in which securities of such Series as to which such holder is a holder may be transferred. The persons entitled to vote a majority in principal amount of the Outstanding Securities of any Series shall constitute a quorum. At the reconvening of any meeting adjourned for a lack of a quorum, the persons entitled to vote 25% in principal amount of the Outstanding Securities of any Series shall constitute a quorum for the taking of any action set forth in the notice of the original meeting. not less than 56 2/3% in aggregate principal amount of the Securities of any Series then Outstanding (or of such other percentage as may be set forth in the text of the Securities of any Series with respect to the action being taken), the Republic and the Fiscal Agent may modify, amend or supplement the terms of the Securities of any Series or this Agreement, in any way, and the registered holders of Securities of any Series may make, take or give any request, demand, authorization, direction, notice, consent, waiver or other action provided by this Agreement or the Securities of any Series to be made, given, or taken by registered holders of securities of any Series; provided, however, that no such action may, without the consent of the registered holder of each Security of such Series, (A) change the due date for the payment of the principal of (or premium, if any,) or any installment of interest on any Security of such Series, (B) reduce the principal amount of any Security of such Series, the portion of such principal amount which is payable upon acceleration of the maturity of such Security, the interest rate thereon or the premium payable upon redemption thereof, (C) change the coin or currency in which or the required places at which payment with respect to interest, premium or principal in respect of Securities of such Series is payable, (D) amend the definition of Redemption Event in the Securities of such Series or the procedures provided therefore, (E) shorten the period during which the Republic is not permitted to redeem the Securities of such Series if, prior to such action, the Republic is not permitted to do so, (F) reduce the proportion of the principal amount of Securities of such Series the vote or consent of the holders of which is necessary to modify, amend or supplement this Agreement or the terms and conditions of the Securities of such Series or to make, take or give any request, demand, authorization, direction, notice, consent, waiver or other action provided hereby or thereby to be made, taken or given, or (G) change the obligation of the Republic to pay additional amounts.

The Fiscal Agent and the Republic may agree, without the consent of the registered holders of Securities of any Series, to (i) any modification of any provisions of the Fiscal Agency Agreement which is of a formal, minor or technical nature or is made to correct a manifest error and (ii) any other modification (except as mentioned in this Agreement), and any waiver or authorization of any breach or proposed breach, of any of the provisions of this Agreement which is in the opinion of the Fiscal Agent not materially prejudicial to the interests of the registered holders of Securities. Any such modification, authorization or waiver shall be binding on the registered holders of Securities of any Series and, if the Fiscal Agent so requires, such

It shall not be necessary for the vote or consent of the registered holders of the Securities of any Series to approve the particular form of any proposed modification, amendment, supplement, request, demand, authorization, direction, notice, consent, waiver or other action, but it shall be sufficient if such vote or consent shall approve the substance thereof.

(c) Any instrument given by or on behalf of any registered holder of a Security in connection with any consent to or vote for any such modification, amendment, supplement, request, demand, authorization, direction, notice, consent, waiver or other action will be irrevocable once given and will be conclusive and binding on all subsequent registered holders of such Security or any Security issued directly or indirectly in exchange or substitution therefor or in lieu thereof. Securities of any Series authenticated and delivered after the effectiveness of any such modification, amendment, supplement, request, demand, authorization, direction, notice, consent, waiver or other action with respect to such Series may bear a notation in the form approved by the Fiscal Agent and the Republic as to any matter provided for in such modification, amendment, supplement, request, demand, authorization, direction, notice, consent, waiver or other action. the Republic, authenticated by the Fiscal Agent (or any authenticating agent appointed pursuant to section 3 hereof) and delivered in exchange for outstanding securities of any Series.

(d) For purposes of the provisions of this Agreement and the Securities of any Series, any security authenticated and delivered pursuant to this Agreement shall, as of any date of determination, be deemed to be "Outstanding", except:

(i) securities of any Series theretofore cancelled by the Fiscal Agent or delivered to the Fiscal Agent for cancellation or held by the Fiscal Agent for reissuance but not reissued by the Fiscal Agent; or

(ii) securities of any Series which have become due and payable at maturity or otherwise and with respect to which monies sufficient to pay the principal thereof, premium, if any, and any interest thereon shall have been made available to the Fiscal Agent;

17. Further Issues. 18. Reporting. (a) The Fiscal Agent shall furnish to the Republic such reports as may be required by the Republic relative to the Fiscal Agent's performance under

(b) The Fiscal Agent shall (on behalf of the Holders) submit such reports or information as may be required from time to time in relation to the issue and purchase of Securities by applicable law, regulations and guidelines promulgated by the United States government.

Exchange. It, however, is unable to do so, having used such endeavors, or if the maintenance of such listing is agreed by the Fiscal Agent to be unduly onerous and the Fiscal Agent is satisfied that the interests of registered holders of the Securities would not thereby be materially prejudiced, it will instead use all reasonable endeavors to obtain and maintain a listing of the Securities on such other stock exchange or exchanges as it may decide.

(b) All notices to the registered holders of Securities of a Series will be published in such publications at such locations as any of the Securities of such Series are listed for the period of time of such listing and as otherwise provided pursuant to the terms of the Securities of such Series. If at any time publication in any such publication is not practicable, notices will be valid if published in an English language newspaper with general circulation in the respective market regions as the Republic with the approval of the Fiscal Agent, shall determine. [In addition, notices will be published in Spanish in a newspaper of general circulation in Argentina, as the Republic shall determine.] Any such notice shall be deemed to have been given on the date of such publication or, if published more than once or on different dates, on the first date on which publication is made. Written notice will also be given to the Depository, if at the time of such notice any of the Securities is represented by a Global Security.

Republic hereby appoints Banco de la Nación Argentina, at its office located at 299 Park Avenue, New York, New York 10171, and, if such person is not maintained by the Republic as its agent for such purpose, the Republic will appoint CT Corporation System to act as its agent for such purpose) as its authorized agent (the "Authorized Agent") upon whom process may be served in any action arising out of or based on the Securities or this Agreement by the holder of any Security which may be instituted in any state or federal court in The City of New York, and expressly accepts the jurisdiction of any such court in respect of such action. Such appointment shall be irrevocable until all amounts in respect of the principal of and any interest due and to become due on or in respect of all the Securities have been provided to the Fiscal Agent pursuant to the terms hereof, except that, if for any reason, such Authorized Agent ceases to be able to act as Authorized Agent or to have an address in the Borough of Manhattan, The City of New York, the Republic will appoint another person in the Borough of Manhattan, The City of New York, selected in its discretion, as such Authorized Agent. The Republic shall take any and all action, including the filing of any and all documents and instruments, that may be necessary to continue such appointment or appointments in full force and effect as aforesaid. Upon receipt of such service of process, the Authorized Agent shall advise the Subministry of Finance promptly by telecopier at 011-54-1-349-6080. Service of process upon the Authorized Agent at the address indicated above, as such address may be changed within the Borough of Manhattan, The City of New York by notice given by the Authorized Agent to each party hereto, shall be deemed, in every respect, effective service of process upon the Republic. The Republic hereby irrevocably and unconditionally waives, to the fullest extent permitted by law, any objection which it may now or hereafter have to the laying of venue of any aforesaid action arising out of or in connection with this Agreement brought in any such court has been brought in an inconvenient forum. Neither such appointment nor such acceptance of jurisdiction shall be interpreted to include actions brought under the United States federal securities laws. This appointment and acceptance of jurisdiction is intended to be effective upon execution of this agreement without any further act by the Republic before any such court and introduction of a true copy of this Agreement into evidence shall be conclusive and final evidence of such waiver.

Notwithstanding the foregoing, any action arising out of or based on the Securities may be instituted by the holder of any security in any competent court in the Republic of Argentina.

The Republic hereby irrevocably waives and agrees not to plead any immunity from the jurisdiction of any such court to which it might otherwise be entitled in any action arising out of or based on the Securities or this Agreement by the holder of any Security.

This is one of the Securities of the series designated therein referred to in the within-mentioned Fiscal Agency Agreement.

BANKERS TRUST COMPANY,
as Fiscal Agent

By _____ Authorized Signatory

This Security is one of a duly authorized issue of securities of the Republic (herein called the "Securities") issued and to be issued in one or more series in accordance with a Fiscal Agency Agreement, dated as of _____ (herein called the "Fiscal Agency Agreement"), between the Republic and Bankers Trust Company, as Fiscal Agent (herein called the "Fiscal Agent"), which term includes any successor fiscal agent under the Fiscal Agency Agreement), copies of which Fiscal Agency Agreement are on file and available for inspection at the corporate trust office of the Fiscal Agent in the Borough of Manhattan, The City of New York. This Security is one of the Securities of the Series designated on the face hereof[, limited in aggregate principal amount to U.S.$ ____]. The Fiscal Agency Agreement may be amended from time to time in accordance with the terms thereof.

The Securities will constitute the direct, unconditional, unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of the Republic. Each Series will rank pari passu with each other Series, without any preference one over the other by reason of priority of date of issue or currency of payment or otherwise, and at least equally with all other present and future unsecured and unsubordinated External Indebtedness (as defined in the Fiscal Agency Agreement) of the Republic.

The Securities of this Series are issuable only in fully registered form. The Securities are issuable in [the] authorized denomination(s) of [currency/U.S.$ ____] [and [any integral multiple thereof] [integral multiples of [currency/U.S.$ ____ above that amount]]].

Until all amounts in respect of the principal and interest due and to become due on or in respect of this Security have been paid, the Republic shall maintain in the Borough of Manhattan, The City of New York, an office or agency where Securities may be surrendered for registration of transfer or exchange. The Republic has initially appointed the corporate trust office of the Fiscal Agent as its agent in the Borough of Manhattan, The City of New York, for such purpose and has agreed to cause to be kept at such office a register in which subject to such reasonable regulations as it may prescribe, the Republic will provide for the registration of Securities and of transfers of Securities. The Republic reserves the right to vary or terminate the appointment of the Fiscal Agent as security other registrars or transfer agents or to appoint additional or other registrars or transfer agents or to approve any change in the office through which any security registrar or any transfer agent acts, provided that there will at all times be a security registrar in the Borough of Manhattan, The City of New York.

Subject to the provisions on the face hereof concerning transfer restrictions, the transfer of a Security is registrable on the aforementioned register upon surrender of such Security at the corporate trust office of the Fiscal Agent duly endorsed by, or accompanied by a written instrument of transfer in form attached hereto duly executed by, the registered Holder thereof or his attorney duly authorized in writing. Upon such surrender of this Security for registration of transfer, the Republic shall execute, and the Fiscal Agent shall authenticate and deliver, in the name of the designated transferee or transferees, one or more new Securities, dated the date of authentication thereof, of any authorized denominations and of a like aggregate principal amount.

Subject to the provisions on the face hereof concerning transfer restrictions, at the option of the registered Holder upon request confirmed in writing, Securities may be exchanged for Securities of any authorized denominations and of a like aggregate principal amount, upon surrender of the Securities to be exchanged at the corporate trust office of the Fiscal Agent. Any registration of transfer or exchange will be effected upon the Fiscal Agent being satisfied with the documents of title and identity of the person making the request and subject to such reasonable regulations as the Republic may from time to time agree with the Fiscal Agent. Whenever any Securities are so surrendered for exchange, the Republic shall execute, and the Fiscal Agent shall authenticate and deliver, the Securities which the registered Holder making the exchange is entitled to receive. The new Security issued upon such exchange shall be so dated that neither gain nor loss of interest shall result from such exchange. [If the Security is a permanent global Security, insert--Notwithstanding the foregoing, the exchange of this Security is subject to certain limitations set forth in the Fiscal Agency Agreement and on the face hereof.]

[In the event of a redemption of the Securities of this series in part, the Republic shall not be required (i) to register the transfer of or exchange any Security during a period beginning at the opening of business 15 days before, and continuing until, the date notice is given identifying the Securities to be redeemed, or (ii) to

~~register the transfer of or exchange any Security, or portion thereof, called for redemption.]~~

All Securities issued upon any registration of transfer or exchange of Securities shall be the valid obligation of the Republic evidencing the same indebtedness and entitled to the same benefits this Security has at the time of such registration of transfer or exchange.

No service charge shall be made for any registration of transfer or exchange, but the Republic may require payment of a sum sufficient to cover any tax or other governmental charge payable in connection therewith, other than an exchange in connection with a partial redemption of a Security not involving any registration of a transfer.

Prior to due presentation of this Security for registration of transfer, the Republic, the Fiscal Agent and any agent of the Republic or the Fiscal Agent may treat the person in whose name this Security is registered as the owner hereof for all purposes, whether or not this Security is overdue, and neither the Republic nor the Fiscal Agent nor any such agent shall be affected by notice to the contrary.

In any case where the due date or the payment of the principal of (and premium, if any, on) [or interest on] any Security[, or the date fixed for redemption of any Security,] shall be, at any place from which any check in respect thereof is to be mailed or where such Security is to be surrendered for payment [or, in the case of payments by transfer, where such transfer is to be made], a day on which banking institutions [If the Securities are denominated in U.S. dollars. insert--in The City of New York] [If the Securities are denominated in a currency other than U.S. Dollars. insert--in (name of financial center of the country in whose currency the securities are denominated)] are authorized or obligated by law to close [If the Securities are denominated in a currency other than U.S. Dollars. insert-- or a day on which banking institutions in (name of non-U.S. financial center) are not carrying out transactions in (name of non-U.S. currency)], then such payment need not be made on such date at such place but may be made on the next succeeding day at such place which is not a day on which banking institutions are authorized or obligated by law to close, with the same force and effect as if made on the date for such payment payable in respect of any such delay.

its principal office in the Borough of Manhattan, The City of New York, prior to each date on which a payment on or in respect of the Securities of this series shall become due, monies in such amounts which (together with any amounts then held by the Fiscal Agent and available for the purpose) are sufficient to make such payment. Any monies provided by the Republic to the Fiscal Agent for the payment on or in respect of the Securities of this series and remaining unclaimed at the end of two years after such payment shall have become due shall then be returned to the Republic, and upon the return of such monies all liabilities of the Fiscal Agent with respect thereto shall cease, without, however, limiting in any way any obligation the Republic may have to pay the principal of (or premium, if any, on); (or interest on) this Security as the same shall become due.

So long as any Security remains outstanding, save for the exceptions set forth in the Fiscal Agency Agreement, the Republic will not create or permit to subsist, or permit Banco Central to create or permit to subsist, any lien, pledge, mortgage, security interest, deed of trust, charge or other encumbrance or preferential arrangement which has the practical effect of constituting a security interest ("Lien") upon the whole or any part of its assets or revenues to secure any Public External Indebtedness (as defined in the Fiscal Agency Agreement) of the Republic or Banco Central unless, at the same time or prior thereto, the Republic's obligations under the Securities either (i) are secured equally and ratably therewith, or (ii) have the benefit of such other security, guarantee, indemnity or other arrangement as shall be approved by not less than 65 2/3% of the registered holders of Securities of any Series then outstanding.

If an Event of Default (as defined in the Fiscal Agency Agreement) occurs and is continuing then the holders of not less than 25 percent in aggregate principal amount of the Securities of this Series, by notice in writing to the Republic at the specified office of the Fiscal Agent, shall declare the principal amount of all the Securities of this Series to be due and payable as set forth in the Fiscal Agency Agreement.

All payments of principal, premium, if any, and interest on this Security by the Republic will be made free and clear of, and without withholding or deduction for or on account of, any present or future taxes, duties, assessments or governmental charges of whatever nature imposed, levied collected, withheld or assessed by or within the Republic or any authority therein or thereof having power to tax (together "Taxes"), unless such withholding or deduction is required by law. In such event, the Republic shall pay such Additional Amounts as will result in receipt by the holders of Securities of this Series of such amounts of principal, premium and interest which would have been received by them had no such withholding or deduction been required, save for the exceptions set forth in the Fiscal Agency Agreement.

So long as any Security remains outstanding, the Republic covenants to maintain its membership in, and its eligibility to use the general resources of, the International Monetary Fund.

[The Securities of this Series will not be subject to any sinking fund and will not be redeemable except as described below.]

[The Securities of this Series are subject to redemption upon not less than 30 days' notice given as hereinafter provided. (if applicable, insert--(1) on _____ in any year commencing with the year _____ and ending with the year _____ through operation of the sinking fund for this series at a redemption price equal to 100% of the principal amount, (2)] [at any time [on or after _____, 19____], as a whole or in part, at the election of the Republic, at the following redemption prices (expressed as percentages of the principal amount of the Securities to be redeemed): If redeemed [on or before _____, ____%, _____ of the years indicated, at the redemption price specified above for redemption through operation of the sinking fund. (The minimum amount of any sinking fund payment as specified in this Paragraph referred to as an "optional sinking fund payment".) The cash amount of any [mandatory] sinking fund payment is subject to reduction as provided below. Each sinking fund payment shall be applied to the redemption of Securities in this Series on such _____ as herein provided. (The right to redeem Securities of this Series through optional sinking fund payments shall not be cumulative and to the extent not availed of on any sinking fund redemption date will terminate.)]

[Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Republic may not, prior to _____, redeem any Securities of this Series as [and optional sinking fund payment] contemplated by the preceding paragraph as a part of, or in anticipation of, any refunding operation by the application, directly or indirectly, of monies borrowed having an interest cost to the Republic (calculated in accordance with general accepted financial practice) of less than _____ per annum.]

[Securities of this Series acquired or redeemed by the Republic otherwise than through [mandatory] sinking fund payments may be credited against subsequent [mandatory] sinking fund payments otherwise required to be made [in the inverse order in which they become due].]

[The Republic (i) may deliver outstanding Securities of this Series (other than any previously called for redemption) and (ii) may apply as a credit Securities of this series which have been redeemed otherwise than through the application of [mandatory] sinking fund payments, in each case in satisfaction of all or any part of any [mandatory] sinking fund payment and the amount of such [mandatory] sinking fund payment shall be reduced accordingly.]

In the case of any partial redemption or Securities of this series pursuant to the sinking fund or at the option of the Republic, the Securities to be redeemed shall be selected by the Fiscal Agent not more than 60 days prior to the redemption date from the outstanding Securities not previously called for redemption, by such method as the Fiscal Agent shall deem fair and appropriate and which may provide for the selection for redemption of portions (equal to U.S.$ _____ or any integral multiple thereof) of the principal amount of Securities of a denomination larger than U.S.$ _____].

[This Security shall be redeemed, at the option of the registered Holder thereof, upon the occurrence, on or after _____, of a Redemption Event (as hereinafter defined), at the redemption price equal to 100% of the principal amount of this Security, together with interest accrued thereon to the date of redemption; provided, however, that the right of the registered Holder to present

Republic gives a Notice of Redemption Event (as hereinafter defined), terminate upon expiration of the Option Period (as hereinafter defined) relating to such Redemption Event. In the event of the occurrence of more than one Redemption Event, each such Redemption Event shall be deemed to confer upon the registered Holder of this Security a separate right of redemption.]

[The Republic agrees that, if a Redemption Event occurs, it will promptly give written notice thereof to the Fiscal Agent (a "Notice of Redemption Event"). Promptly after receiving such Notice of Redemption Event, the Fiscal Agent shall give written notice to the registered Holder of this Security (a "Notice of Right to Tender") stating that a Redemption Event has occurred and including a form of notice
(a "Redemption Notice") pursuant to which the registered

[Insert description of those events, if any, which constitute Redemption Events.]

[If notice of redemption has been given in the manner set forth herein, the Securities so to be redeemed shall become due and payable on the redemption date specified in such notice and upon presentation and surrender of the Securities [if the Security is a permanent global Security, insert--, or evidence of ownership of the Securities represented by this permanent global Security satisfactory to the Fiscal Agent,] at the place or places specified in such notice, the Securities shall be paid and redeemed by the Republic at the places, in the manner and currency and at the redemption price herein specified together with accrued interest (unless the redemption date is an Interest Payment Date) to the redemption date. If monies for the redemption of the Securities are not made available for payment until after the redemption date, the Securities

[Any Security which is to be redeemed only in part shall be surrendered with, if the Republic or the Fiscal Agent so requires, due endorsement by, or a written instrument of transfer in form satisfactory to the Republic and the Fiscal Agent duly executed by, the holder thereof or such holder's attorney duly authorized in writing, and the Republic shall execute, and the Fiscal Agent shall authenticate and deliver to the registered Holder of such Security without service charge, a new Security or Securities of this Series, of any authorized denomination as required by such Holder, in aggregate principal amount equal to and in exchange for the unredeemed portion of the principal of the Security so surrendered.]

A meeting of registered holders of Securities of this Series may be called at any time and from time to time to make, give or take any request, demand, authorization, direction, notice, consent, waiver or other action provided by the Fiscal Agency Agreement or the Securities of this Series to be made, given or taken by registered holders of Securities of this Series or to modify, amend or supplement the terms of the Securities of this Series or the Fiscal Agency Agreement as hereinafter provided. The Fiscal Agent may at any time call a meeting of registered holders of Securities of this Series for any such purpose to be held at such time and at such place as the Fiscal Agent shall determine. Notice of every meeting of registered holders of Securities of this Series, setting forth the time and the place of such meeting and in general terms the action proposed to be taken at such meeting, shall be given as provided in the terms of the Securities of this Series, not less than 30 nor more than 60 days prior to the date fixed for the meeting. In case at any time the Republic or the registered holders of at least 10 $\frac{1}{2}$ in aggregate principal amount of the Outstanding Securities of this Series (as defined in the Fiscal Agency Agreement) shall have requested the Fiscal Agent to call a meeting of the registered holders of Securities of this Series for any such purpose, by written request setting forth in reasonable detail the action proposed to be taken at the meeting, the Fiscal Agent shall call such meeting for such purposes by giving notice thereof.

Securities of this Series then Outstanding, or (ii) with the written consent of the registered holders of not less than 66-2/3% [or 4] in aggregate principal amount of the Securities of this Series then Outstanding, the Republic [and the Fiscal Agent] may modify, amend or supplement the terms or provisions contained in the Securities of this Series, in any way, and the registered holders of Securities of this Series may make, take or give any request, demand, authorization, direction, notice, consent, waiver or other action provided by the Fiscal Agency Agreement or the Securities of this Series to be made, given, or taken by registered holders of Securities of this Series; provided, however, that no such action may, without the consent of the registered holder of each Security, (A) change the due date for the payment of the principal of or any installment of interest on any Security, (B) reduce the principal amount of any Security, the portion of such principal amount which is payable upon acceleration of the maturity of such Security or the interest rate thereon, (C) change the coin or currency in which or the required places at which payment with respect to interest or principal in respect of the Securities of this Series is payable, (D) reduce the proportion of the principal amount of Securities of this Series the vote or consent of the holders of which is necessary to modify, amend or supplement this Agreement or the terms and conditions of the Securities of this Series or to make, take or give any request, demand, authorization, direction, notice, consent, waiver or other action provided hereby or thereby to be made, taken or given, or (E) change the obligation of the Republic to pay additional amounts.

The Fiscal Agent and the Republic may agree, without the consent of the registered holders of Securities of this Series to (i) any modification of any provisions of the Fiscal Agency Agreement which is of a formal, minor or technical nature or is made to correct a manifest error and (ii) any other modification (except as mentioned in the Fiscal Agency Agreement), and any waiver or authorization of any breach or proposed breach, of any of the provisions of the fiscal Agency Agreement which is in the opinion of the Fiscal Agent not materially prejudicial to the interests of the registered holders of Securities. Any such modification, authorization or waiver shall be binding on the registered holders of Securities of this Series and, if the Fiscal Agent so requires, such modification shall be notified to the registered holders of Securities of this Series as soon as practicable.

All notices to the registered holders of Securities will be published in such publications at such locations as any of the Securities are listed for the period of time or such notice to the holders of the securities of this series. If timely publication in any such publication is not practicable, notices will be valid if published in an English language newspaper with general circulation in the respective market regions as the Republic with the approval of the Fiscal Agent, shall determine. In addition, notices will be published in Spanish in a newspaper of general circulation in Argentina, as the Republic shall determine. Any such notice shall be deemed to have been given on the date of such publication or, if published more than once or on different dates, on the first date on which publication is made.

No reference herein to the Fiscal Agency Agreement and no provision of this Security or of the Fiscal Agency Agreement shall alter or impair the obligation of the Republic to pay the principal of (and premium, if any[, on]) [and interest on] this Security at the times, place and rate, and in the coin or currency, herein prescribed.

Claims against the Republic for payment in respect of the Securities of this Series and interest payments thereon shall be prescribed and become void unless made within 10 years (in the case of principal) and 5 years (in the case of interest) from the appropriate Relevant Date in respect thereof.

This Security shall be governed by and construed in accordance with the laws of the State of New York, except with respect to authorization and execution by the Republic.

The Republic has in the Fiscal Agency Agreement irrevocably submitted to the jurisdiction of any New York state or federal court sitting in the Borough of Manhattan, The City of New York and the courts of the Republic of Argentina (the "Specified Courts") over any suit, action, or proceeding against it or its properties, assets or revenues with respect to the Securities of this Series or the Fiscal Agency Agreement (a "Related Proceeding"). The Republic has in the Fiscal Agency Agreement waived any objection to Related Proceedings in such courts whether on the grounds of venue, residence or domicile or on the ground that the Related Proceedings have been brought in an inconvenient forum. The Republic agrees that a final non-appealable judgment in any such Related Proceeding (the "Related Judgment") shall be conclusive and binding upon it and may be enforced in any Specified Court or in any other courts to the jurisdiction of which the Republic is or may be subject (the "Other Courts"), by a suit upon such judgment.

The Republic has in the Fiscal Agency Agreement agreed that (i) service of all writs, process and summonses in any Related Proceeding or any action or proceeding to enforce or execute any Related Judgment brought against it in the State of New York may be made upon Banco de la Nación Argentina, presently located at 299 Park Avenue, New York, New York 10171, and, if such person is not maintained by the Republic as its agent for such purpose, the Republic will appoint CT Corporation System to act as its agent for such purpose.

To the extent that the Republic or any of its revenues, assets or properties shall be entitled, in any jurisdiction in which any Specified Court is located, in which any Related Proceeding may at any time be brought against it or any of its revenues, assets or properties, or in any jurisdiction in which any Specified Court or Other Court is located in which any suit, action or proceeding may at any time be brought solely for the purpose of enforcing or executing any Related Judgment, to any immunity from suit, from the jurisdiction of any such court, from set-off, from attachment prior to judgment, from attachment in aid of execution of judgment, from execution of a judgment or from any other legal or judicial process or remedy, and to the extent that in any such jurisdiction there shall be attributed such an immunity, the Republic has irrevocably agreed not to claim and has irrevocably waived such immunity to the fullest extent permitted by the laws of such jurisdiction (and consents generally for the purposes of the Foreign Sovereign Immunities Act to the giving of any relief or the issue of any process in connection with any Related Proceeding or Related Judgment), provided that such waiver shall not be effective (i) with respect to the assets which constitute freely available reserves pursuant to Article 6 of the Convertibility Law (the "Convertibility Law"), the amount, composition and investment of which will be reflected on the balance sheet and accounting statement of Banco Central consistently prepared pursuant to Article 5 of the Convertibility Law and (ii) with respect to property of the public domain located in the territory of The Republic of Argentina or property owned by the Republic and located in its territory which is dedicated to the purpose of an essential public service, and provided further that such agreement and waiver, insofar as it relates to any jurisdiction other than a jurisdiction in which a Specified Court is located, is given solely for the purpose of enabling the Fiscal Agent or a holder of Securities of this Series to enforce or execute a Related Judgment. The waiver of immunities referred to herein constitutes only a limited and specific waiver for the purpose of the Securities of this Series and the Fiscal Agency Agreement and under no

CIRCUMSTANCES SHALL NOT BE CONSIDERED AS GIVING RISE TO A BREACH OF THE FISCAL AGENT AGREEMENT UNLESS IT IS DETERMINED THAT THE CIRCUMSTANCES ARE UNREASONABLE AND UNPREDICTABLE IN NATURE.
Case 1:07-cv-010657 or TPG will be valid with respect to proceedings Page 19 of 21 unrelated to the Securities of this Series or the Fiscal Agency Agreement.

Unless the certificate of authentication hereon has been executed by the Fiscal Agent by manual signature, this Security shall not be entitled to any benefit under the Fiscal Agency Agreement or be valid or obligatory for any purpose.

First Affirmative Defense

22. The Complaint fails to state a claim upon which relief may be granted.

Second Affirmative Defense¹

23. Plaintiffs' claims are barred by the act of state doctrine.

¹ The Republic recognizes that the Court has addressed the Second and Fifth Affirmative Defenses listed herein. See Lightwater Corp. Ltd. v. Republic of Argentina, No. 02 Civ. 3804 (TPG), 2003 WL 1878420, at *5 (S.D.N.Y. Apr. 14, 2003). The Republic pleads these Affirmative Defenses here to preserve them for potential appellate review. In connection with the Sixth Affirmative Defense facts may exist in the present case that were not before the Court in the cases covered by the Lightwater and EM Ltd. v. Argentina, No. 03 Civ. 2508 (TPG), 2003 WL 22120745 (S.D.N.Y. Sept. 12, 2003) (amended Sept. 16, 2003) Orders.

Third Affirmative Defense

Fifth Affirmative Defense

Sixth Affirmative Defense

27. Plaintiffs' claims are barred by N.Y. Judiciary Law Section 489.

Seventh Affirmative Defense

28. Plaintiffs' interest claims, if any, arising before November 28, 2002 are barred in part by the applicable statute of limitations/prescription period.

Eighth Affirmative Defense

29. Plaintiffs lack standing and/or capacity to sue, because they are not holders of bonds within the meaning of the 1994 FAA.

WHEREFORE, the Republic respectfully requests that the Court enter an order:

- (a) dismissing plaintiffs' claims with prejudice;
- (b) awarding the Republic costs and disbursements, including reasonable attorneys' fees; and

(c) granting the Republic such other and further relief as the Court may deem just and proper.

PLAINTIFFS' RESPONSES AND OBJECTIONS TO DEFENDANT'S FIRST REQUEST FOR THE PRODUCTION OF DOCUMENTS

Pursuant to Rule 34 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure ("FRCP"), plaintiffs, by their attorneys, Dreier LLP, hereby submit the following responses and objections to Defendant's First Request for the Production of Documents (the "Requests").

GENERAL OBJECTIONS

1. Plaintiffs object to the Requests on the ground that they were served in violation of Rules 26(d) and 34(b) of the FRCP.

2. Plaintiffs object to the Requests on the ground that they exceed and/or are inconsistent with the Court's ruling as to the types of documents plaintiffs are obligated to produce in order to demonstrate their ownership of the bonds upon which they bring their claims.

See Transcript from hearing before the Court on September 28, 2005, at p. 31.

3. Plaintiffs object to the Requests on the ground that this Court already denied identical requests in related proceedings. See, e.g., Mazzini v. The Republic of Argentina, No. 03 Civ. 8120 (TPG), 2005 WL 743090, at 3-4 (S.D.N.Y. March 31, 2005) (the "Mazzini Decision"); Lightwater Corp. Ltd. v. The Republic of Argentina, No. 02 Civ. 3804, 02 Civ. 3808,

02 Civ. 5932 (TPG), 2003 WL 1878420, at *4 (S.D.N.Y. Apr. 14, 2003) (the “Lightwater Decision”); Allan Applestein TTEE FBO D.C.A. Grantor Trust v. The Province of Buenos Aires, No. 02 Civ. 1773 (TPG), 2003 WL 1990206, at *4 (S.D.N.Y. Apr. 29, 2003) (the “Applestein Decision”); EM Ltd. v. The Republic of Argentina, No. 03 Civ. 2507 (TPG), 2003 WL 22120745, at *2 (S.D.N.Y. Sept. 12, 2003) (the “EM Ltd. Decision”); Etevob, et al. v. The Republic of Argentina, et al., 471 F. Supp.2d 431 (S.D.N.Y. 2007) (TPG) (the “Etevob” Decision) and Franceschi, et al. v. The Republic of Argentina, No. 03 Civ. 4693 (TPG), 2006 WL 2528460, at *1 (S.D.N.Y. Aug. 31, 2006) (the “Francesi Decision”); Transcript from the hearing before the Court on March 5, 2004, at pp. 30-32.

4. Plaintiffs object to the Requests to the extent that they seek information concerning defendant’s affirmative defense of N.Y. Judiciary Law Section 489 (champerty), because this Court has already considered and denied this affirmative defense in previous related proceedings. See Lightwater Decision, at *4-5; Mazzini Decision, at *3-4.

5. Plaintiffs object to the Requests on the grounds and to the extent that they exceed, are inconsistent with, or attempt to broaden the scope of discovery permitted by the FRCP and/or applicable case law.

6. Plaintiffs object to the Requests, including each of the “Definitions” and “Instructions” and each individual request, on the grounds and to the extent that they seek to impose obligations different from or in addition to those imposed by, and/or exceed the scope of permissible discovery under, the FRCP.

7. Plaintiffs object to each of the Requests on the grounds and to the extent that they call for the production of documents containing confidential or proprietary information, trade or business data or information, trade secrets, competitively sensitive information, other non-public or proprietary information, or any other information the disclosure of which would be harmful to the business interests of Plaintiffs, or invasive of their privacy. To the extent Plaintiffs agree to produce documents in response to the Requests, Plaintiffs expressly reserve the right to seek protective relief from the Court, if necessary, to protect their legitimate interests.

8. Plaintiffs object to the Requests to the extent that they seek information subject to any privilege, including without limitation, the attorney-client privilege, the work product doctrine and/or any other applicable privilege. In the event that Plaintiffs produce any document that is the subject of any privilege, claim of confidentiality, or other objection, such production is inadvertent and shall not constitute a waiver of any privilege, claim of confidentiality, or other objection, either generally or specifically, with respect to such material or the subject matter thereof.

9. Plaintiffs object to the Requests to the extent that they seek information not within the possession, custody or control of Plaintiffs.

10. These objections and responses are made without waiver of, or prejudice to, any further objections or rights of Plaintiffs. Plaintiffs reserve all objections to the relevance, materiality and admissibility of any information provided in these responses.

11. Plaintiffs object to each of the Requests to the extent that they call for the production of data in electronic form or data contained in any form of electronic storage media, on the grounds of overbreadth and undue burden.

12. Plaintiffs object to the Requests to the extent that they are vague, overly broad, indefinite, confusing, burdensome, oppressive, compound, conjunctive, disjunctive, lack sufficient precision to formulate a response or are not reasonably calculated to lead to the discovery of admissible evidence.

13. These General Objections apply to all of Plaintiffs' responses set forth herein. To the extent that Specific Objections are made in a specific response, they are provided because they are believed to be particularly applicable to the specific request and should not be construed as a waiver of any General Objection.

14. Plaintiffs reserve the right to amend or supplement these responses if and when they have the opportunity to obtain additional information.

 Civ. 5932(TPG).

April 14, 2003.

Background: Owners of bonds issued by the Republic of Argentina brought three separate actions against the Republic, seeking to recover amounts due as a result of the Republic's default on bonds. Following removal of the one action commenced in state court, owners moved for summary judgment, and the Republic requested that actions be stayed.

Holdings: The District Court, Griesa, J., held that:
 (1) owners did not violate New York statute prohibiting buying of bond with intent and purpose of bringing action thereon;
 (2) act of state doctrine did not apply to bar recovery by bond owners;
 (3) international law did not bar owners from suing on bonds because the Republic was experiencing severe economic crisis; and
 (4) one-month stay of execution of judgments in bond owners' behalf was warranted.
 Motions granted; execution on judgments stayed.

Owners of bonds issued by Republic of Argentina bought their bonds with the intention of collecting on them, and thus did not violate New York statute that prohibited buying of bond with primary intent and purpose of bringing action thereon, even though, when owners bought bonds, they clearly had in mind that lawsuits could be necessary to achieve collection. Republic of Argentina was not entitled to stay of actions in which owners of bonds issued by the Republic sought to recover amounts due on bonds following the Republic's default, so as to permit the Republic to arrive at restructuring of its overall debt, given that debt restructuring situation was uncertain as to possible success and timing.

respect to judgments granted in favor of bondholders on their claims for amounts owed following default on bonds by Republic of Argentina, given that two putative class actions brought on behalf of Argentine bondholders were before district court in which motions for class certification were pending, making it inappropriate to allow three individual bondholders to go forward with execution on their judgments until court was better informed as to what would occur as to other bondholders pursuing class claims.

OPINION

GRIESA, J.

*1 Plaintiffs in these three cases are owners of bonds issued by The Republic of Argentina. The Republic has defaulted on the bonds. Plaintiffs are suing to recover amounts due them by virtue of these defaults. They have moved for summary judgment, claiming that the Republic's obligations are unconditional and that there are no defenses.

The Republic opposes the motions, asserting various defenses. In addition, the Republic requests that these actions be stayed because the Republic is engaged in efforts to achieve a debt restructuring.

The motions of the three plaintiffs for summary judgment on their bond obligations are granted. The motion of the Republic for a stay of the proceedings is denied, except that the court stays execution of plaintiffs' judgments for a period of one month, until May 14, 2003.

Facts

Copies of the bonds themselves have not been submitted to the court. However, both sides rely on the prospectuses for the bonds as accurately stating their terms and conditions.

The Lightwater and Old Castle Bonds

The Bond Issue

The Lightwater and Old Castle bonds are part of $1,000,000,000 in 11.375% bonds, issued March 13, 2000 and due for principal payment on March 15, 2010, with interest to be paid on March 15 and September 15 of each year.

The Prospectus provides (p. 9) that failure to make any payment of principal or interest for 30 days after the applicable payment date constitutes an event of default. The Republic's declaration of a moratorium on the payment of principal or interest on its Public External Indebtedness is an event of default as well. Upon an event of default, a holder of the bonds may give notice declaring the principal amount immediately due and payable. The Prospectus further states (p. 11) that Argentina waives sovereign immunity and consents to jurisdiction in any state or federal court in the borough of Manhattan in the City of New York.

The Prospectus Supplement states (p. S-8) that the bonds are "direct, unconditional, unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of the Republic, backed by the full faith and credit of the Republic."

Lightwater bought $4,000,000 face value of the bonds on November 5, 2001 and $3,000,000 face value of the bonds on November 6, 2001. Old Castle bought $700,000 face value of the bonds on November 6, 2001.

Lightwater and Old Castle have not specified purchase prices or provided records of purchases. However, the Republic has provided trading prices--40.81 on November 5, 2001 and 41.88 on November 6, 2001.

Macrotecnic made purchases of two types of bonds, which will be referred to as the "2020 bonds" and the "2027 bonds."

Lightwater and Old Castle bonds. They also contain the same language about the bonds being "direct, unconditional, unsecured and unsubordinated obligations."

Purchases

$120,000 of 2027 bonds on May 27, 1999 at a price of 82.00

Defaults and Litigation

The Republic failed to make the March 15, 2001 interest payments on the bonds held by Lightwater and Old Castle. On May 1, 2002 Lightwater and Old Castle gave notice of default and declared acceleration of principal. Both Lightwater and Old Castle filed lawsuits in federal court on May 17, 2002.

The Republic failed to make the February 1, 2002 interest payment on Macrotecnic's 2020 bonds, and failed to make the March 19, 2002 interest payment on the 2027 bonds. On May 3, 2002 Macrotecnic gave notice of default and declared acceleration of principal. Macrotecnic commenced suit against the Republic in Supreme Court, New York County, on June 18, 2002. The action was removed to federal court on July 26, 2002.

The Argentine Economic Crisis

The Republic of Argentina is experiencing the worst economic crisis in its history. The country's gross domestic product ("GDP") has contracted severely each year since 1999, and tax collections have dropped sharply.

During 2001 many businesses and individuals were making substantial withdrawals of capital from the banking system, with at least $20 billion being withdrawn. As a result, on December 1, 2001 the Republic imposed restrictions on depositors' access to bank accounts, freezing $60 billion in pesos and dollars and limiting withdrawals to $1,000 per month.

On December 24, 2001, the Republic declared a moratorium on payments of principal and interest on the external debt of the Republic. This moratorium is still in effect.

As of the end of the second quarter of 2003 the Republic's public debt (both internal and external) was $115 billion. The Republic has not repudiated the debt, but is unable to meet its obligations as they come due. National Decree 256/2002, issued February 9, 2002, declared that the debt of the Republic "must be rescheduled in order to guarantee the operation of the National State in accordance with available resources."

The Republic has been engaged in discussions with the International Monetary Fund ("IMF"), which is the Republic's single largest creditor, holding debt of approximately $14.3 billion. On part of the debt owed to it the IMF has agreed to a refinancing and certain extensions. The Republic has commenced to meet with representatives of bond holders from various countries in an effort to restructure its debt. But no restructuring has yet occurred, and as of now it is uncertain what the result of the effort will be.

Discussion

*3 As indicated above, Lightwater, Old Castle and Macrotecnic seek summary judgment on their claims under the bonds. The Republic opposes the motions, and moves for a stay of the proceedings. The Republic relies on considerations of international comity and urges that it should be given an opportunity to achieve an overall debt restructuring, which would be interfered with by piecemeal judgments in favor of individual bond holders.

The Second Circuit has dealt with similar circumstances and similar issues in Pravin Banker Assoc. v. Banco Popular del Peru, 109 F.3d 850 (2d Cir.1997). There the plaintiff had invested in the debt of a bank owned by the Republic of Peru. The Republic guaranteed the debt. During a national economic crisis, the bank stopped making interest payments. The plaintiff demanded payment of the principal and unpaid interest. Peru's central bank appointed a committee of liquidators for the bank. Negotiations were also undertaken to resolve the overall debt of Peru. The plaintiff refused to take part in the liquidation proceedings or the other debt negotiations, and brought suit in the Southern District of New York against the bank and the Republic. The plaintiff moved for summary judgment.

The defendants opposed the motion and cross-moved to dismiss or stay the action, arguing that international comity should be extended to Peru so that it could resolve the debt problems of the bank and the Republic. The district court granted a six-month stay to allow the completion of the bank's liquidation proceedings. Apparently there was no resolution, and, after the six-month stay expired, the plaintiff renewed the motion for summary judgment. The district court granted an additional two-month stay to obtain more information about the course of events in Peru. At the conclusion of the second stay, the plaintiff again renewed the motion for summary judgment, which was granted by the district court. The defendants moved to stay the judgment, and this motion was denied. The defendants appealed.

The Court of Appeals, agreeing with the reasoning and the actions of the district court, stated that extending comity to Peru's debt negotiations was only appropriate if it was consistent with United States government policy. The Court recognized two United States policies as being implicated by the lawsuit. The first policy was that the United States encourages participation in foreign debt resolution procedures. Second, the United States has a strong interest in ensuring the enforceability of debts under contract law, and in particular, the continuing enforceability of foreign debts owed to United States lenders. The Court stated that the second interest limits the first, and went on to say that creditor participation in foreign debt negotiations "should be on a strictly voluntary basis." Id. at 855. The Court of Appeals expressed approval of the limited stays granted by the district court, but agreed with the district court that an indefinite stay to allow Peru to renegotiate its foreign debt "would prejudice United States interests." Id. at 855. The Court further reasoned that, if the plaintiff's rights were made conditional upon the debt restructuring process (which had no obvious termination date), this would have converted voluntary negotiations into "a judicially-enforced bankruptcy proceeding, for it would, in effect, have prohibited the exercise of legal rights outside of the negotiations." Id. at 855. The Court of Appeals thus ruled that the district court was correct in granting summary judgment to the plaintiff and denying a further stay.

*4 Having made these strong pronouncements, and having affirmed the actions of the district court, the Court of Appeals went on to say that an argument "might be made" that a stay of the proceedings or a stay of the execution of judgment would have been justified to "allow the completion of Peru's negotiations with its creditors without unduly threatening the ultimate enforceability of the debt." Id. at 855-56. How to reconcile this with the Court's earlier statements is not at all clear. In any event, the Court recognized that a decision on whether or not to grant a stay was to be reviewed for abuse of discretion, and ruled that the district court did not abuse its discretion in denying the stay. Id. at 856.

As will be shown by what is set forth below, the court in the present case has decided that it should move forward with the granting of summary judgment to the three plaintiffs on the bond obligations owing to them. The court believes that this is an appropriate means of giving effect to what Pravin declared to be the strong interest of the United States in having debt obligations enforced. The court declines to grant a stay of the proceedings in order to allow the completion of debt restructuring negotiations, since there is no assurance about the success or the timing of such negotiations. However, the court will grant a stay of execution of the judgments for a period of one month, for reasons which will be described.

Summary Judgment

The obligations of the Republic on the bonds involved in these lawsuits is unconditional. Sovereign immunity has been waived. The Republic defaulted on the bonds when it ceased to pay the interest. This would seem to mean that the Republic now owes the three plaintiffs principal and accrued interest. Aside from requesting a stay on the basis of comity, the Republic asserts three defenses to the summary judgment motion, which will now be discussed.

N.Y. Judiciary Law § 489

[1] The Republic contends that Lightwater and Old Castle violated Section 489 of the New York Judiciary Law, which prohibits buying a bond "with the intent and for the purpose of bringing an action or proceeding thereon." The Republic argues that there are factual issues in this regard which require discovery and possible trial, and cannot be dealt with by summary judgment.

Not Reported in F.Supp.2d
(Cite as: 2003 WL 1878420 (S.D.N.Y.))

The court disagrees. In Elliott Assoc. v. Banco de la Nacion, 194 F.3d 363 (2d Cir.1999), the Second Circuit provided an exhaustive discussion of how § 489 had been interpreted by the New York courts. The Circuit concluded that § 489 applies only where the primary purpose of the bond purchase is to enable the purchaser to commence a suit, to the exclusion of any other purpose. An example often used in New York cases is that of an attorney who purchases a bond with the intent of suing on it and obtaining costs. Id. at 373-75. But where a bond is purchased with the intent to collect on that bond, the statute is not violated even though there is also an intention to collect by a lawsuit if necessary. Id. at 379.

*5 The circumstances of the bond purchases by Lightwater and Old Castle demonstrate conclusively that these plaintiffs bought their bonds with the intention of collecting on them, even though they clearly had in mind that lawsuits might be necessary. There was no violation of § 489, as interpreted by the New York courts and Elliott. The court does not believe that discovery and trial could develop any set of facts which would contradict these conclusions.

The Act of State Defense

[2] The Republic asserts that all three plaintiffs are barred from recovery, because the Republic's actions in halting payments on the bonds constituted "acts of state" which this court must defer to. However, the Republic basically concedes that its argument runs contrary to the decision in Allied Bank Int'l v. Banco Credito Agricola, 757 F.2d 516 (2d Cir.1985). Recognizing that act of state doctrine applies only to actions of a nation within its territory, Allied Bank held that bond obligations have their situs where the bond holders are located. An act of a nation in failing to make payments on bonds held in other countries does not constitute an act of state dealing with property located within the nation. Thus, according to Second Circuit law, the act of state doctrine is not a defense to plaintiffs' claims in this case. The Republic concedes that it is only posing this defense with a view to possible review by the United States Supreme Court.

Abuse of Rights

[3] The Republic asserts that there is a principle of international law which would bar plaintiffs from suing on their bonds at a time when the issuer, The Republic of Argentina, is having a severe economic crisis. The court finds no merit in this argument as applied in the present case. No extended discussion is necessary.

The Application For A Stay

[4] In addition to presenting the above arguments in opposition to plaintiffs' summary judgment motion, the Republic urges that the lawsuits should be stayed in order to allow the Republic to arrive at a restructuring of its overall debt. At the oral argument, the Republic suggested a stay of six months. The court declines at present to grant a stay to the Republic for this purpose. The debt restructuring situation is uncertain as to possible success and timing.

[5] However, the court grants a stay of a more limited nature. Although the court is granting plaintiffs' motions for summary judgment, the court believes that execution of these judgments should be stayed. The court has before it two class actions brought on behalf of Argentine bond holders. Motions are now pending for class certification. These motions are returnable on April 25. The court believes that it is not appropriate to have the three individual plaintiffs go forward with execution on their judgments until the court is better informed as to what will occur regarding other bond holders who may be pursuing their claims in class actions.

The court directs that execution on plaintiffs' judgments in this action is stayed until May 14, 2003.

Conclusion

*6 Plaintiffs' motions for summary judgment are granted. Judgment will be entered for the principal amounts of their bonds plus accrued interest. The motion of the Republic for a stay of proceedings is denied, except that execution on plaintiffs' judgments is stayed until May 14, 2003. The court's ruling on the Republic's motion for a stay is without prejudice to a further application, if events provide a reasonable basis for such application.

EM LTD., Plaintiff,
v.
THE REPUBLIC OF ARGENTINA, Defendant.

No. 03 Civ.2507 TPG.

Sept. 12, 2003.
As Corrected Sept. 16, 2003.

Owner of foreign bonds sued republic that defaulted on them after they were issued, seeking to recover amounts due by virtue of default. Upon owner's motion for summary judgment and republic's motion for stay of proceedings to permit it to proceed on efforts to achieve debt restructuring, the District Court, Griesa, J., held that: (1) bond owner sufficiently alleged its unconditional legal right to collect on bonds; (2) bond owner was entitled to payment in United States dollars pursuant to terms of bond certificates; (3) bond owner's purchase of bonds with intention of collecting on them did not violate New York Judiciary Law; and (4) though republic was not entitled to stay of summary judgment in favor of bond owner, execution of judgment would be delayed for one month.

Plaintiff's motion granted, subject to one month stay of execution; defendant's motion denied.

OPINION

GRIESA, J.

*1 Plaintiff EM Ltd. ("EML") is the owner of bonds issued by the Republic of Argentina. The Republic has defaulted on the bonds. EML is suing to recover amounts due to it by virtue of the default. It has moved for summary judgment, claiming that the Republic's obligation is unconditional and that there are no defenses.

The Republic opposes the motion, asserting various defenses. In addition, the Republic requests that this action be stayed because the Republic is engaged in efforts to achieve a debt restructuring.

The motion of EML for summary judgment on its bond obligations is granted. The motion of the Republic for a stay of the proceedings is denied, except that the court stays execution of EML's judgment temporarily, as will be described.

Facts

The Bond Issue

This case involves a series of Argentine pesos (AR$) bonds, issued by the Republic of Argentina, called the "10 % New AR$ Global Bond" due September 19, 2008. The Series is numbered ISIN # XS0130278467. The Series was issued on June 19, 2001 and is due for principal payment on September 19, 2008. Interest payments on the bonds are paid bi-annually on March 19 and September 19 of each year.

EML owns bonds with a value of AR$ 595,396,345.

The Series was issued by the Republic of Argentina through its fiscal agent, Deutsche Bank AG, London. EML's claim, and defendants do not deny, that the Series is governed by the terms of (i) an October 19, 1994 Fiscal Agency Agreement ("FAA") between the Republic of Argentina and Bankers Trust Company (to which Deutsche Bank AG is the successor), (ii) an amendment to the FAA dated April 21, 1998, and (iii) two certificates setting forth the terms and conditions of the Series.

The FAA provides that failure to make any payment of principal or interest for 30 days after the applicable payment date constitutes an event of default. A declaration of a moratorium on the payment of principal or interest on its public external indebtedness is an event of default as well. Upon an event of default, a holder of not less than 25 % of the aggregate principal in the Series is entitled to declare the entire Series in default. Such bondholder may give notice declaring the principal amount immediately due and payable.

Section 22 of the FAA states that the Republic of Argentina waives sovereign immunity and consents to jurisdiction in any state or federal court in the borough of Manhattan in the City of New York.

The certificates state that the bonds in the Series are "direct, unconditional, unsecured and unsubordinated obligations of the Republic."

The documents governing the Series contain terms regarding event of default, consent to suit, and jurisdictional waiver that are essentially identical to those pertaining to the bonds about which this court entered summary judgement in favor of the plaintiff's on May 14, 2003. Lightwater Corporation Ltd. v. The Republic of Argentina, Nos. 02 Civ. 3804(TPG), 02 Civ. 3808(TPG), 02 Civ. 5832(TPG), 2003 WL 1878420. They also contain essentially identical language about the bonds being "direct, unconditional, unsecured and unsubordinated obligations."

Default and Litigation

*2 As discussed more extensively in the court's Lightwater opinion, 2003 WL 1878420 at *2, the Republic of Argentina is experiencing the worst economic crisis in its history. The country's gross domestic product has contracted severely each year since 1999, and tax collections have dropped sharply.

During 2001 many businesses and individuals were making substantial withdrawals of capital from the banking system, with at least $20 billion being withdrawn. As a result, on December 1, 2001 the Republic imposed restrictions on depositors' access to bank accounts, freezing $60 billion in pesos and dollars and limiting withdrawals to $1,000 per month.

Not Reported in F.Supp.2d
 (Cite as: 2003 WL 22120745 (S.D.N.Y.))

On December 24, 2001, the Republic declared a moratorium on payments of principal and interest on the external debt of the Republic. This moratorium is still in effect.

The Republic failed to make the March 19, 2002 interest payments on the bonds held by EML. On April 11, 2002, UBS Warburg, acting on behalf of EML, provided Deutsche Bank with notice of default and declared acceleration of principal.

EML filed this lawsuit on April 10, 2003. EML claims that it is owed about $ 700 million in principal and interest. Moreover, EML seeks payment in U.S. dollars, at the rate of one U.S. dollar to one Argentine peso, claiming that such election is provided for under the terms and conditions of the bonds.

Discussion

In the Lightwater, Old Castle, and Macrotecnic, cases this court has already granted summary judgment to the plaintiff bondholders seeking to collect on Argentine bonds which went into default as a result of the December 24, 2001 moratorium. This court found that:

The obligations of the Republic on the bonds involved in these lawsuits are unconditional. Sovereign immunity has been waived. The Republic defaulted on the bonds when it ceased to pay the interest. This would seem to mean that the Republic now owes the three plaintiffs principal and accrued interest.

[1] The court finds nothing in the record to distinguish this case as to EML's unconditional legal right to collect on the bonds. EML provided affidavits and statements of account to show that it is the beneficial owner of the bonds. Argentina has defaulted on the bonds by declaring a moratorium and failing to make interest payments. As the holder of not less than 25 % in aggregate principal amount of the securities of the Series, EML was entitled, by notice, to declare the principal amount owed to it due and payable immediately under the terms and conditions of the certificates and the FAA. EML has so notified Argentina's fiscal agent. The Republic has not provided evidence sufficient to raise doubt as to the validity of EML's claim.

U.S. Dollar Election

[2] The Republic claims that the acceleration provision in the certificate excludes the bondholder's election of payment of accelerated principal in U.S. dollars at the rate of one U.S. dollar for one Argentine peso. The Republic relies on the certificates, which provide:

*3 If an Event of Default (as defined in the Fiscal Agency Agreement) occurs and is continuing then the holders of not less than 25 % in aggregate principal amount of the Securities of this Series, by notice in writing to the Republic at the specified office of the Fiscal Agent, shall declare the principal amount (that is, the par value) of all the Securities of this Series to be due and payable as set forth in the Fiscal Agency Agreement.

The Republic argues that, because the par or face value of the Series is stated in Argentine peso, that is AR$, the acceleration provision excludes payment in U.S. dollars.

The court finds the Republic's argument to be without merit. The certificates provide for an election as defined by the following language:

with respect to any payment, the Holder of this Security elects to receive such payment in U.S. dollars by giving notice to the Fiscal Agent in writing not later than the close of business on the fifth business day prior to the applicable Interest Payment Date, the Maturity Date or other date of payment, as the case may be ... [emphasis added].

The date of payment of accelerated principal plus interest constitutes such "other date of payment," and notice of dollar election was given by EML in its notice of acceleration. Moreover, the certificates explicitly provide that such payment can be in U.S. dollars at the rate of one U.S. dollar for one Argentine peso:

The holder may elect to receive payments of principal and interest in U.S. dollars, in which case payment be made in U.S. dollars at the ratio of one U.S. dollar to one Argentine peso regardless of changes in foreign exchange rates.

Language in the acceleration provision that refers to "par value" therefore does not, in the opinion of the court, limit the accelerated payment to its par value in Argentine pesos. EML is thus entitled to the par value of its bonds at an exchange rate of one U.S. dollar to one Argentine peso.

The above reasoning applies not only to the accelerated principal but to the defaulted interest payment due March 19, 2002.

N.Y. Judiciary Law § 489

[3] The Republic contends that EML violated Section 489 of the New York Judiciary Law, which prohibits buying a bond "with the intent and for the purpose of bringing an action or proceeding thereon." The Republic argues that there are factual issues in this regard which require discovery and possible trial, and cannot be dealt with by summary judgment.

Relying on the Second Circuit's decision in Elliott Assoc. v. Banco de la Nacion, 194 F.3d 363 (2d Cir.1999), the court has already addressed this issue in Lightwater, 2003 WL 1878420 at *4-5, and concluded as follows. Where a bond is purchased with the intent to collect on that bond, the statute is not violated even though there is also an intention to collect by a lawsuit if necessary.

The circumstances of the bonds purchase by EML demonstrate conclusively that EML bought its bonds with the intention of collecting on them, even though they clearly had in mind that a lawsuit might be necessary. There was, therefore, no violation of § 489. The court does not believe that discovery and trial could develop any set of facts which would contradict these conclusions.

The Application for a Stay

*4 [4] The Republic asks the court to stay the proceedings under the doctrine of comity. The court, however, has addressed the basic issues regarding a stay in Lightwater, 2003 WL 1878420 at *5-6, and in that decision made an analysis of the controlling Second Circuit case, Pravin Banker Assoc. v. Banco Popular del Peru, 109 F.3d 850 (2d Cir.1997). As a result of that analysis the court declined, in Lightwater and the accompanying cases, to stay the motions for summary judgment, and granted the motions. The court, however, stayed execution of judgment for one month. In those cases two further limited stays were granted, the last of which expires midnight September 16, 2003.

Despite the argument of the Republic to the contrary, the court rules that the EML case should be dealt with no differently from the other cases, at least as to the granting of summary judgment.

Therefore application to stay the summary judgment motion is denied.

Conclusion

EML's motion for summary judgment is granted. Judgment will be entered for the par value of the bonds payable in U.S. dollars, plus accrued interest, at the rate of one U.S. dollar for one Argentine peso. The motion of the Republic for a stay of proceedings is denied, except that execution on EML's judgment is stayed until midnight September 16, 2003. A hearing will be held on September 15, 2003, regarding whether additional stays should be granted in this and other cases.

Jorge Marcelo MAZZINI, et al., Plaintiffs,
v.
THE REPUBLIC OF ARGENTINA, Defendant.
No. 03 Civ. 8120TPG.

March 31, 2005.

GRIESA, J.

INTRODUCTION

*1 Plaintiffs in this case are owners of certain bonds issued by defendant The Republic of Argentina. The Republic defaulted on its bonds in December of 2001 during a profound fiscal crisis. Plaintiffs are suing to recover amounts due to them by virtue of the default and have moved for summary judgment. The Republic opposes the motion asserting various defenses. Plaintiffs also have moved to strike certain discovery requests made by the Republic.

Plaintiffs' motion for summary judgment on the bond obligations is granted in part and denied in part. Plaintiffs' motion to strike certain discovery requests is granted.

FACTS*The Bonds and the Default*

Plaintiffs acquired certain bonds issued by the Republic. The bonds are governed by agreements that set forth the rights and obligations of the debtor and the creditor, including provisions governing terms of repayment, events of default, acceleration of defaulted loans, waivers of immunity, and forum selection. Some of the bonds at issue are governed by a Fiscal Agency Agreement between the Republic of Argentina and Bankers Trust Company, dated October 19, 1994 (the "1994 FAA"). Others of the bonds at issue are governed by a Fiscal Agency Agreement between the Republic of Argentina and Bankers Trust Company, dated December 10, 1993 (the "1993 FAA"). Finally, some of the bonds at issue are so-called Brady-Bonds, which are governed by a document entitled Floating Rate Bond Exchange Agreement, Dated as of December 6, 1992, Implementing Part I of the Republic of Argentina 1992 Financing Plan, Citibank, N.A., as Closing Agent (the "FRB" Agreement).

On December 24, 2001, the Republic declared a moratorium on payments of principal and interest on the external debt of the Republic. Plaintiffs brought this lawsuit for recovery of unpaid interest and claiming the right to accelerate payment of principal.

The 1994 Fiscal Agency Agreement

The 1994 FAA is the same agreement that governed the bonds on which this court granted summary judgment to the plaintiffs in Lightwater Corporation Ltd. v. The Republic of Argentina, 02 Civ. 3804(TPG), 2003 WL 1878420 (S.D.N.Y. April 14, 2003). Section 22 of the 1994 FAA states that the Republic waives sovereign immunity and consents to jurisdiction in any state or federal court in the Borough of Manhattan in the City of New York. The 1994 FAA provides that failure to make any payment of principal or interest for 30 days after the applicable payment date constitutes an event of default. A declaration by the Republic of a moratorium on the payment of principal or interest on its public external indebtedness is also an event of default. Upon an event of default, a bondholder is entitled to give notice declaring the principal amount of the bonds held by it immediately due and payable.

(Cite as: 2005 WL 743090 (S.D.N.Y.))

The 1993 Fiscal Agency Agreement

The 1993 FAA is a similar agreement to the 1994 FAA. Section 20 of the 1993 FAA states that the Republic waives sovereign immunity and consents to jurisdiction in any state or federal court in the City of New York. Section 4 provides that the bonds "will be substantially in the form attached hereto as Exhibit 1." Exhibit 1 to the 1993 FAA provides that failure to make any payment of principal or interest for 30 days after the applicable payment date constitutes an event of default. A declaration by the Republic of a moratorium on the payment of principal or interest on its public external indebtedness is also an event of default. Upon an event of default of the type described above, a bondholder is entitled to give notice declaring the principal amount of the bonds held by it immediately due and payable.

The Floating Rate Bond Exchange Agreement

*2 Section 6.07(a) of the FRB states that the Republic consents to jurisdiction in any state or federal court sitting in New York City. Section 6.07(d) of the FRB includes an irrevocable waiver by the Republic of its sovereign immunity. Section 9 of Exhibit 1A to the FRB, the Form of the Bearer Floating Rate Bond, and Section 9 of Exhibit 1B to the FRB, the Form of the Registered Floating Rate Bond, provide that failure to pay interest within 30 days after the applicable due date constitutes an event of default. A declaration by the Republic of a moratorium on the payment of principal or interest on its public external indebtedness also constitutes an event of default. Upon a continuing event of default, holders of 25% or more in aggregate outstanding principal amount of the bonds may declare the unpaid principal immediately due by written demand.

Standing

DISCUSSION

*3 Defendant's argument that plaintiffs lack standing based on the language in the agreements governing the bonds is essentially the same as what was rejected in Latinburg, S.A. v. The Republic of Argentina, 03 Civ. 8528(TPG), 2004 WL 1152243 (S.D.N.Y. May 24, 2004).

Acceleration of Principal

The Court has already granted summary judgment to the plaintiff bondholders seeking to collect on the Republic's bonds issued under the 1994 FAA in the Lightwater, supra, case. The Court wrote in Lightwater:

The obligations of the Republic on the bonds involved in these lawsuits are unconditional. Sovereign immunity has been waived. The Republic defaulted on the bonds when it ceased to pay the interest. This would seem to mean that the Republic now owes the three plaintiffs principal and accrued interest.

2003 WL 1878420, at *4.

The Court finds nothing in the record to distinguish the instant case as to this Court's jurisdiction and plaintiffs' unconditional legal right to collect the unpaid interest and to accelerate payment of principal on the bonds issued under the 1994 FAA.

The Court has not yet ruled on the 1993 FAA. However, as described above, the terms of the 1993 FAA are very similar to the terms of the 1994 FAA. The Court therefore will apply its reasoning in Lightwater. The Court now holds that it has jurisdiction over claims regarding bonds issued under the 1993 FAA, and that plaintiffs who have given proper notice have the unconditional legal right to collect the unpaid interest and to accelerate payment of principal on the bonds issued under that agreement.

The FRB has not yet been adjudicated. While the Republic's declared moratorium is clearly an event of default under Section 9 of Exhibit 1A to the FRB, plaintiffs have not shown a right to accelerate payment of principal. Plaintiffs do not contend that they are holders of at least 25% of the aggregate outstanding principal amount of the bonds, nor do they contend that repayment of the principal amount of bonds issued under the FRB has been otherwise accelerated. Therefore, the plaintiffs holding bonds issued under the FRB may claim only unpaid interest on their present motion.

Proof of Ownership

Plaintiffs provide a number of declarations and exhibits to prove their ownership of the bonds. However, the persuasiveness of these materials varies.

Each individual plaintiff, or a representative, provides a declaration asserting ownership of a specific bond or bonds. Declarations which meet the requirements of 28 U.S.C. § 1746 may be substituted for an affidavit on a motion for summary judgment. Local Civil Rule 1.10. 28 U.S.C. § 1746 requires that "substantially the following form" be used when making a declaration outside the United States under penalty of perjury:

"I declare (or certify, verify, or state) under penalty of perjury under the laws of the United States of America that the foregoing is true and correct. Executed on (date). (Signature)".

*4 28 U.S.C. § 1746 (2002). Many of the declarations made by the individual plaintiffs state that "to the best of my knowledge the foregoing is true and correct." This language is not substantially different from the statutory example. The Court considers these declarations to be sufficient.

Each individual plaintiff, or a representative, also provides documents that show the plaintiff's ownership of a bond or bonds. These documents typically take the form of account statements or letters from the plaintiff's bank or broker, usually accompanied by a translated copy. This Court has already decided, in a March 2004 conference covering acceptable proof of ownership in the Applestein case, 02 Civ. 4124(TPG), that account statements would generally be accepted as reasonable evidence of plaintiffs' account holdings. This Court will therefore generally rely on account statements provided by each plaintiff in deciding this motion.

This Court will grant summary judgment to plaintiffs who provide (1) evidence of ownership of

Slip Copy

Page 30

2005 WL 743090 (S.D.N.Y.)

a particular bond, and (2) evidence specifically identifying that bond. In most cases, a properly executed declaration and an account statement will be sufficient to prove that the bonds plaintiffs claim to own are in fact the bonds held in their accounts. Needless to say, the Court will also accept other evidence, so long as it specifically confirms that the bonds held in plaintiffs' accounts are the bonds they claim to own.

Applying the above standards, the Court finds that no issues of material fact remain.

The Republic's Discovery Requests and the Defense of Champerty

The Republic has requested discovery with respect to plaintiffs' proof of ownership. As discussed above, plaintiffs generally have produced sufficient evidence establishing their ownership of the bonds at issue. Further discovery on this issue is not necessary. The Republic also seeks discovery of information relating to the defense of champerty. Section 489 of the New York Judiciary Law prohibits the purchase of bonds for the sole purpose of bringing suit. See Elliott Assoc. v. Banco de la Nacion, 194 F.3d 363 (2d Cir.1999). This Court has already considered the issue of discovery in regard to that defense. See, e.g., Lightwater, 2003 WL 1878420, at *4; Applestein, 2003 WL 1990206, at *4. The Court believes, as it did in those cases, that discovery would not establish any set of facts which would establish a successful champerty defense. The evidence is clear that plaintiffs bought their bonds with the intention of collecting on them, even though they clearly were aware that a lawsuit might be necessary. There was therefore no champerty in violation of Section 489 of the New York Judiciary Law.

CONCLUSION

Plaintiffs' motion for summary judgment is granted in part and denied in part. Plaintiffs' motion for summary judgment is granted as to plaintiffs Ezequiel Hernan Baolini and Patricia Ruth Caronna; Ana Valeria Baravalle and Pablo Alejandro Baravalle; Enrique Cohen, Estella Bety Rosas de Cohen, and Debora Reina Cohen; Guillermo Jorge

*5 Plaintiffs' motion for summary judgment is granted only for payment of past due interest as to plaintiffs Alberto Haber and Heinrich Peter Zum Felde. Plaintiffs' motion for summary judgment as to accelerated principal on the bonds owed by Haber and Zum Felde is denied.

Plaintiffs motion to strike defendant's discovery requests is granted.

Plaintiffs shall submit an appropriate judgment.

OPINION

Plaintiff is the beneficial owner of certain bond indebtedness issued by defendant The Republic of Argentina. The Republic defaulted on such indebtedness in December 2001 during a profound fiscal crisis. Plaintiff is suing to recover amounts due to them as a result of the default and have moved for summary judgment. Plaintiff also moves to strike the Republic's discovery requests.

The motions are granted.

FACTS

The bond indebtedness at issue is governed by one of three agreements: (1) a Fiscal Agency Agreement dated October 19, 1994 (the "1994 FAA"), (2) a Fiscal Agency Agreement dated December 10, 1993 (the "1993 FAA"), and (3) a Floating Rate and Bond Exchange Agreement dated December 6, 1992 (the "FRB Agreement"). The 1994 FAA is the same agreement that governed the bond indebtedness on which this court granted summary judgment to the plaintiffs in Lightwater Corporation Ltd. v. Republic of Argentina, No. 02 Civ. 3804, 2003 WL 1878420 (S.D.N.Y. Apr. 14, 2003). Section 22 of the 1994 FAA, Section 20 of the 1993 FAA, and Section 6.07 of the FRB Agreement state that the Republic waives sovereign immunity and consents to jurisdiction in any state or federal court in the borough of Manhattan in the City of New York. All three agreements provide that the Republic's obligations on the bonds are unconditional and that failure to make any payment of principal or interest for 30 days after the applicable payment date constitutes an event of default. A declaration by the Republic of a moratorium on the payment of principal or interest on its public external indebtedness is an event of default as well. Paragraph 12 of the 1994 FAA provides for acceleration of principal if there is a failure to pay interest or a moratorium. If either of these events occurs,

each holder of Securities and such Series may by such notice in writing declare the principal amount of Securities of such Series held by it to be due and payable immediately

The 1993 FAA contains similar language.

The FRB Agreement permits acceleration of principal only by holders of at least 25% in aggregate of the outstanding principal amount of the bonds under each agreement.

On December 24, 2001 the Republic declared a moratorium on payments of principal and interest on the external debt of the Republic. The court refers to its previous opinions for a description of the circumstances of these defaults. Lightwater, 2003 WL 1878420, at *2; Applestein v. Republic of Argentina, No. 02 Civ. 1773, 2003 WL 1990206, at *1 (S.D.N.Y. Apr. 29, 2003). On February 3 and February 4, 2004, plaintiff sent notices to Bankers Trust Company, the Fiscal Agent of The Republic of Argentina, declaring the principal amounts of the debt securities governed by the 1994 FAA and 1993 FAA held by plaintiff to be immediately due and payable.¹

The bonds that are the subject of this action are listed hereafter. Also listed are the amounts of the beneficial interests owned by plaintiff.²

² The court notes the distinction between bonds and beneficial interests. In some previous opinions, the court has simply referred to the plaintiffs as owners of "bonds," when in fact plaintiffs are technically owners of "beneficial interests in bonds." The Republic actually issues "a bond" to a depository. The depository, in some form, issues "participations" to brokers, who sell "beneficial interests" to purchasers. These beneficial interests are identified by reference to the underlying bond (CUSIP or ISIN number or both; date of issuance and maturity; rate of interest) and the principal amount of the beneficial interest. This distinction is discussed more fully in Million Air Corp. v. Republic of Argentina, No. 04 Civ. 1048, 2005 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 23904 (S.D.N.Y. Oct. 17, 2005).

DISCUSSION

This Court has already granted summary judgment in other cases to plaintiffs seeking to collect on the Republic's defaulted bonds issued under the 1994 FAA, the 1993 FAA and the FRB Agreement. This has occurred in Lightwater, supra, Mazzini v. Republic of Argentina, No. 03 Civ. 8120, 2005 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 5692 (S.D.N.Y. Mar. 31, 2005), and other cases. Only certain specific issues need to be discussed in connection with the present motion.

Standing and Proof of Ownership

In the two opinions in Fontana v. Republic of Argentina, 415 F.3d 238 (2d Cir. 2005), and Applestein v. Province of Buenos Aires, 415 F.3d 242 (2d Cir. 2005), the Second Circuit has held that an owner of a beneficial interest, such as plaintiff here, must receive authorization from the registered holder of the bond before it may sue, but that such authorization may be granted subsequent to the filing of a lawsuit. Alternatively, the Republic may waive the authorization requirement.

The Republic has agreed to waive objections based on lack of authorization where the court makes a finding of current ownership. See Transcript, March 28, 2006, Cilli v. Republic of Argentina (04 Civ. 6594).

Here, plaintiff has adequately demonstrated through its account statements that it owned the beneficial interests as of November 2004. There is no evidence of any change of ownership thereafter.

CONCLUSION

The motion to strike defendant's discovery requests is granted.

Plaintiff's motion for summary judgment is granted. Judgment will be entered for the principal amount of the bonds issued under the 1993 FAA and 1994 FAA plus accrued interest. With respect to the bonds issued under the FRB Agreement, judgment will be entered for any payments on those bonds that are due and unpaid as of the time of judgment.

The parties shall consult with one another concerning the form of the judgment and the amounts of interest that should be awarded in the judgment. If the parties are unable to reach agreement on those subjects, they shall jointly submit an agreed proposed judgment to the court. If the parties are unable to reach agreement on those subjects, plaintiff shall submit a proposed judgment to the court, and the Republic shall submit any objections to plaintiff's proposed judgment within five business days thereafter. The court will then resolve any remaining disagreements.

OPINION

Plaintiffs are the beneficial owners of certain bond indebtedness issued by defendant The Republic of Argentina. The Republic defaulted on such indebtedness in December 2001 during a profound fiscal crisis. Plaintiffs are suing to recover amounts due to them as a result of the default and have moved for summary judgment. Plaintiffs also move to strike the Republic's discovery requests.

The motions are granted.

FACTS

The bond indebtedness at issue is governed by one of two agreements: (1) a Fiscal Agency Agreement dated October 19, 1994 (the "1994 FAA") and (2) an Indenture dated July 8, 1998 (the "1998 Indenture"). The 1994 FAA is the same agreement that governed the bond indebtedness on which this court granted summary judgment to the plaintiffs in Lightwater Corporation Ltd. v. Republic of Argentina, No. 02 Civ. 3804, 2003 WL 1878420 (S.D.N.Y. Apr. 14, 2003). Section 22 of the 1994 FAA and Section 113(c) of the 1998 Indenture state that the Republic waives sovereign immunity and consents to jurisdiction in any state or federal court in the borough of Manhattan in the City of New York. Both agreements provide that the Republic's obligations on the bonds are unconditional and that failure to make any payment of principal or interest for 30 days after the applicable payment date constitutes an event of default. A declaration by the Republic of a moratorium on the payment of principal or interest on its public external indebtedness is an event of default as well.

Paragraph 12 of the 1994 FAA provides for acceleration of principal if there is a failure to pay interest or a moratorium. If either of these events occurs,

each holder of Securities and such Series may by such notice in writing declare the principal amount of Securities of such Series held by it to be due and payable immediately

The 1998 Indenture permits acceleration of principal only by holders of at least 25% in aggregate of the outstanding principal amount of the bonds under each agreement.

On December 24, 2001 the Republic declared a moratorium on payments of principal and interest on the external debt of the Republic. The court refers to its previous opinions for a description of the circumstances of these defaults. Lightwater, 2003 WL 1878420, at *2; Applestein v. Republic of Argentina, No. 02 Civ. 1773, 2003 WL 1990206, at *1 (S.D.N.Y. Apr. 29, 2003). On August 3, 2004, plaintiffs sent notices to Bankers Trust Company, the Fiscal Agent of The Republic of Argentina, declaring the principal amounts of the debt securities governed by the 1994 FAA and held by each plaintiff to be immediately due and payable.

The bonds that are the subject of this action are listed hereafter. Also listed are the amounts of the beneficial interests owned by each plaintiff.¹

The following tables contain the necessary identifying information regarding each plaintiff's beneficial interests in bonds.

¹ The court notes the distinction between bonds and beneficial interests. In some previous opinions, the court has simply referred to the plaintiffs as owners of "bonds," when in fact plaintiffs are technically owners of "beneficial interests in bonds." The Republic actually issues "a bond" to a depository. The depository, in some form, issues "participations" to brokers, who sell "beneficial interests" to purchasers. These beneficial interests are identified by reference to the underlying bond (CUSIP or ISIN number or both; date of issuance and maturity; rate of interest) and the principal amount of the beneficial interest. This distinction is discussed more fully in Million Air Corp. v. Republic of Argentina, No. 04 Civ. 1048, 2005 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 23904 (S.D.N.Y. Oct. 17, 2005).

² The Republic has noted that the Kalbermanns have sought judgment on the beneficial interests in the same series of bonds in Applestein v. Republic of Argentina, 02 Civ. 4124, and Morata v. Republic of Argentina, 04 Civ. 3314. Nonetheless, the Kalbermanns have provided an account statement indicating that the beneficial interests in this series of bonds were purchased on several occasions, in amounts matching the claims in this matter and the Applestein and Morata matters. As such, the court is satisfied that the Kalbermanns have not sought relief on the same beneficial interests in multiple cases.

Alternatively, the Republic may waive the authorization requirement.

The Republic has agreed to waive objections based on lack of authorization where the court makes a finding of current ownership. See Transcript, March 28, 2006, Cilli v. Republic of Argentina (04 Civ. 6594).

Here, plaintiffs have adequately demonstrated through their account statements that owned the beneficial interests as of various dates in 2005. There is no evidence of any change of ownership thereafter.

CONCLUSION

The motion to strike defendant's discovery requests is granted.

The motions for summary judgment are granted. Judgment will be entered for the principal amount of the bonds issued under the 1994 FAA plus accrued interest. With respect to the bonds issued under the 1998 Indenture, judgment will be entered for any payments on those bonds that are due and unpaid as of the time of judgment.

The parties shall consult with one another concerning the form of the judgment and the amounts of interest that should be awarded in the judgment. If the parties are unable to reach agreement on those subjects, they shall jointly submit an agreed proposed judgment to the court. If the Republic and any plaintiff are unable to reach agreement on those subjects, that plaintiff shall submit a proposed judgment to the court, and the Republic shall submit any objections to that plaintiff's proposed judgment within five business days thereafter. The court will then resolve any remaining disagreements.

OPINION

Plaintiffs are the beneficial owners of certain bond indebtedness issued by defendant The Republic of Argentina. The Republic defaulted on such indebtedness in December 2001 during a profound fiscal crisis. Plaintiffs are suing to recover amounts due to them as a result of the default and have moved for summary judgment. Plaintiffs also move to strike the Republic's discovery requests.

The motions are granted.

FACTS

The bond indebtedness at issue is governed by one of four agreements: (1) a Fiscal Agency Agreement dated October 19, 1994 (the "1994 FAA"), (2) a Fiscal Agency Agreement dated December 10, 1993 (the "1993 FAA"), (3) a Floating Rate and Bond Exchange Agreement dated December 6, 1992 (the "FRB Agreement"), and (4) an Indenture dated July 8, 1998 (the "1998 Indenture"). The 1994 FAA is the same agreement that governed the bond indebtedness on which this court granted summary judgment to the plaintiffs in Lightwater Corporation Ltd. v. Republic of Argentina, No. 02 Civ. 3804, 2003 WL 1878420 (S.D.N.Y. Apr. 14, 2003). Section 22 of the 1994 FAA, Section 20 of the 1993 FAA, Section 6.07 of the FRB Agreement and Section 113(c) of the Indenture state that the Republic waives sovereign immunity and consents to jurisdiction in any state or federal court in the borough of Manhattan in the City of New York. All four agreements provide that the Republic's obligations on the bonds are unconditional and that failure to make any payment of principal or interest for 30 days after the applicable payment date constitutes an event of default. A declaration by the Republic of a moratorium on the payment of principal or interest on its public external indebtedness is an event of default as well. Paragraph 12 of the 1994 FAA provides for acceleration of principal if there is a failure to pay interest or a moratorium. If either of these events occurs,

each holder of Securities and such Series may by such notice in writing declare the principal amount of Securities of such Series held by it to be due and payable immediately

The 1993 FAA contains similar language.

The FRB Agreement and the 1998 Indenture both permit acceleration of principal only by holders of at least 25% in aggregate of the outstanding principal amount of the bonds under each agreement.

On December 24, 2001 the Republic declared a moratorium on payments of principal and interest on the external debt of the Republic. The court refers to its previous opinions for a description of the circumstances of these defaults. Lightwater, 2003 WL 1878420, at *2; Applestein v. Republic of Argentina, No. 02 Civ. 1773, 2003 WL 1990206, at *1 (S.D.N.Y. Apr. 29, 2003). On February 3 and February 4, 2004, plaintiffs sent notices to Bankers Trust Company, the Fiscal Agent of The Republic of Argentina, declaring the principal amounts of the debt securities governed by the 1994 FAA and 1993 FAA held by each plaintiff to be immediately due and payable.

The bonds that are the subject of this action are listed hereafter. Also listed are the amounts of the beneficial interests owned by plaintiff.¹

The following tables contain the necessary identifying information regarding plaintiff's beneficial interests in bonds.

¹ The court notes the distinction between bonds and beneficial interests. In some previous opinions, the court has simply referred to the plaintiffs as owners of "bonds," when in fact plaintiffs are technically owners of "beneficial interests in bonds." The Republic actually issues "a bond" to a depository. The depository, in some form, issues "participations" to brokers, who sell "beneficial interests" to purchasers. These beneficial interests are identified by reference to the underlying bond (CUSIP or ISIN number or both; date of issuance and maturity; rate of interest) and the principal amount of the beneficial interest. This distinction is discussed more fully in Million Air Corp. v. Republic of Argentina, No. 04 Civ. 1048, 2005 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 23904 (S.D.N.Y. Oct. 17, 2005).

DISCUSSION

This Court has already granted summary judgment in other cases to plaintiffs seeking to collect on the Republic's defaulted bonds issued under the 1994 FAA, the 1993 FAA, the FRB Agreement and the 1998 Indenture. This has occurred in Lightwater, supra, Applestein, supra, Mazzini v. Republic of Argentina, No. 03 Civ. 8120, 2005 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 5692 (S.D.N.Y. Mar. 31, 2005), and other cases. Only certain specific issues need to be discussed in connection with the present motion.

Standing and Proof of Ownership

In the two opinions in Fontana v. Republic of Argentina, 415 F.3d 238 (2d Cir. 2005), and Applestein v. Province of Buenos Aires, 415 F.3d 242 (2d Cir. 2005), the Second Circuit has held that an owner of a beneficial interest, such as plaintiffs here, must receive authorization from the registered holder of the bond before it may sue, but that such authorization may be granted subsequent to the filing of a lawsuit. Alternatively, the Republic may waive the authorization requirement.

The Republic has agreed to waive objections based on lack of authorization where the court makes a finding of current ownership. See Transcript, March 28, 2006, Cilli v. Republic of Argentina (04 Civ. 6594).

Here, plaintiffs have adequately demonstrated through their account statements that owned the beneficial interests as of various dates in 2004. There is no evidence of any change of ownership thereafter.

CONCLUSION

The motion to strike defendant's discovery requests is granted.

The motions for summary judgment are granted. Judgment will be entered for the principal amount of the bonds as indicated in the Tables in this opinion, plus accrued interest, with exception of the $83,000 of principal that plaintiffs Mechura and Donnantuoni failed to accelerate, as indicated in Table 60. With respect to the bonds issued under the FRB Agreement and the 1998 Indenture, judgment will be entered for any payments on those bonds that are due and unpaid as of the time of judgment.

The parties shall consult with one another concerning the form of the judgment and the amounts of interest that should be awarded in the judgment. If the parties are unable to reach agreement on those subjects, they shall jointly submit an agreed proposed judgment to the court. If the Republic and any plaintiff are unable to reach agreement on those subjects, that plaintiff shall submit a proposed judgment to the court, and the Republic shall submit any objections to that plaintiff's proposed judgment within five business days thereafter. The court will then resolve any remaining disagreements.

OPINION

Plaintiffs are the beneficial owners of certain bond indebtedness issued by defendant The Republic of Argentina. The Republic defaulted on such indebtedness in December 2001 during a profound fiscal crisis. Plaintiffs are suing to recover amounts due to them as a result of the default and have moved for summary judgment. Plaintiffs also move to strike the Republic's discovery requests.

The motions are granted.

FACTS

The bond indebtedness at issue is governed by one of three agreements:

(1) a Fiscal Agency Agreement dated October 19, 1994 (the "1994 FAA"), (2) a Fiscal Agency Agreement dated December 10, 1993 (the "1993 FAA"), and (3) a Floating Rate and Bond Exchange Agreement dated December 6, 1992 (the "FRB Agreement"). The 1994 FAA is the same agreement that governed the bond indebtedness on which this court granted summary judgment to the plaintiffs in Lightwater Corporation Ltd. v. Republic of Argentina, No. 02 Civ. 3804, 2003 WL 1878420 (S.D.N.Y. Apr. 14, 2003). Section 22 of the 1994 FAA, Section 20 of the 1993 FAA and Section 6.07 of the FRB Agreement state that the Republic waives sovereign immunity and consents to jurisdiction in any state or federal court in the borough of Manhattan in the City of New York. The FAAs and the FRB Agreement provide that the Republic's obligations on the bonds are unconditional and that failure to make any payment of principal or interest for 30 days after the applicable payment date constitutes an event of default. Under all three agreements, a declaration by the Republic of a moratorium on the payment of principal or interest on its public external indebtedness is an event of default as well.

Paragraph 12 of the 1994 FAA provides for acceleration of principal if there is a failure to pay interest or a moratorium. If either of these events occurs,

each holder of Securities and such Series may by such notice in writing declare the principal amount of Securities of such Series held by it to be due and payable immediately

The 1993 FAA contains similar language.

The FRB Agreement permits acceleration of principal only by holders of at least 25% in aggregate of the outstanding principal amount of the bonds under each agreement.

On December 24, 2001 the Republic declared a moratorium on payments of principal and interest on the external debt of the Republic. The court refers to its previous opinions for a description of the circumstances of these defaults. Lightwater, 2003 WL 1878420, at *2; Applestein v. Republic of Argentina, No. 02 Civ. 1773, 2003 WL 1990206, at *1 (S.D.N.Y. Apr. 29, 2003). On April 5, April 22, and December 8, 2004, plaintiffs sent notices to Bankers Trust Company, the Fiscal Agent of The Republic of Argentina, declaring the principal amounts of the debt securities governed by the 1994 FAA and 1993 FAA held by each plaintiff to be immediately due and payable.

The bonds that are the subject of this action are listed hereafter. Also listed are the amounts of the beneficial interests owned by plaintiff.¹

¹ The court notes the distinction between bonds and beneficial interests. In some previous opinions, the court has simply referred to the plaintiffs as owners of "bonds," when in fact plaintiffs are technically owners of "beneficial interests in bonds." The Republic actually issues "a bond" to a depository. The depository, in some form, issues "participations" to brokers, who sell "beneficial interests" to purchasers. These beneficial interests are identified by reference to the underlying bond (CUSIP or ISIN number or both; date of issuance and maturity; rate of interest) and the principal amount of the beneficial interest. This distinction is discussed more fully in Million Air Corp. v. Republic of Argentina, No. 04 Civ. 1048, 2005 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 23904 (S.D.N.Y. Oct. 17, 2005).

² The Republic has noted that the Kalbermanns have sought judgment on beneficial interests in Argentine bonds in Applestein v. Republic of Argentina, 02 Civ. 4124, and Moldes v. Republic of Argentina, 04 Civ. 6137. The Kalbermanns have provided an account statement indicating that the beneficial interests on which they have sought judgment were purchased on several separate occasions, and are distinct. As such, the court is satisfied that the Kalbermanns have not sought relief on the same beneficial interests in multiple cases.

DISCUSSION

This Court has already granted summary judgment in other cases to plaintiffs seeking to collect on the Republic's defaulted bonds issued under the 1994 FAA, the 1993 FAA and the FRB Agreement. This has occurred in Lightwater, supra, Mazzini v. Republic of Argentina, No. 03 Civ. 8120, 2005 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 5692 (S.D.N.Y. Mar. 31, 2005), and other cases. Only certain specific issues need to be discussed in connection with the present motion.

Standing and Proof of Ownership

In the two opinions in Fontana v. Republic of Argentina, 415 F.3d 238 (2d Cir. 2005), and Applestein v. Province of Buenos Aires, 415 F.3d 242 (2d Cir. 2005), the Second Circuit has held that an owner of a beneficial interest, such as plaintiffs here, must receive authorization from the registered holder of the bond before it may sue, but that such authorization may be granted subsequent to the filing of a lawsuit. Alternatively, the Republic may waive the authorization requirement.

The Republic has agreed to waive objections based on lack of authorization where the court makes a finding of current ownership. See Transcript, March 28, 2006, Cilli v. Republic of Argentina (04 Civ. 6594).

Here, all plaintiffs but one have adequately demonstrated through their account statements that they owned the beneficial interests as of various dates in 2004. There is no evidence of any change of ownership thereafter.

The one exception is Stefano Bistagnino, who along with his wife, Felicina Gaioli, claims ownership of beneficial interests in two bonds. As indicated in Tables 15 and 16, these plaintiffs attempted to prove their ownership of through an account statement from Cassa di Risparmio di Alessandria Spa dated January 5, 2005. The account statement is redacted and contains no information regarding the beneficial interests at issue here. As such, it is impossible to determine whether the account statement demonstrates Bistagnino and Gaioli's ownership of the beneficial interests.

Acceleration of Principal

As already mentioned, on April 5, April 22, and December 8, 2004, plaintiffs sent notices to Bankers Trust Company, the Fiscal Agent of The Republic of Argentina, declaring the principal amounts of the debt securities governed by the 1994 FAA and 1993 FAA held by each plaintiff to be immediately due and payable. Three plaintiffs sent faulty notices and thus cannot be granted judgment on the principal amount of their beneficial interests at this time:

- Laura Cosci – As indicated in Table 41, Ms. Cosci's notice of acceleration references the wrong bond.
- Luigi Vitiello – As indicated in Table 114, Mr. Vitiello's notice of acceleration fails to identify the bond he seeks to accelerate.

- Tommasino Vitiello - As indicated in Table 115, Mr. Vitiello's notice of acceleration fails to identify the bond he seeks to accelerate.

CONCLUSION

The motion to strike defendant's discovery requests is granted.

Stefano Bistagnino and Felicina Gaioli's motion for summary judgment is denied.

The summary judgment motions of Laura Cosci, Luigi Vitiello and Tommasino Vitiello are granted in part and denied in part. Those motions are granted as to accrued interest but not as to principal.

The remaining motions for summary judgment are granted. Judgment will be entered for the principal amount of the bonds as indicated in the Tables in this opinion, plus accrued interest. With respect to the bonds issued under the FRB Agreement, judgment will be entered for any payments on those bonds that are due and unpaid as of the time of judgment.

The parties shall consult with one another concerning the form of the judgment and the amounts of interest that should be awarded in the judgment. If the parties are unable to reach agreement on those subjects, they shall jointly submit an agreed proposed judgment to the court. If the Republic and any plaintiff are unable to reach agreement on those subjects, that plaintiff shall submit a proposed judgment to the court, and the Republic shall submit any objections to that plaintiff's proposed judgment within five business days thereafter. The court will then resolve any remaining disagreements.

OPINION

Plaintiffs are the beneficial owners of certain bond indebtedness issued by defendant The Republic of Argentina. The Republic defaulted on such indebtedness in December 2001 during a profound fiscal crisis. Plaintiffs are suing to recover amounts due to them as a result of the default and have moved for summary judgment. Plaintiffs also move to strike the Republic's discovery requests.

The motions are granted.

FACTS

The bond indebtedness at issue is governed by Fiscal Agency Agreements dated December 10, 1993 (the "1993 FAA") and October 19, 1994 (the "1994 FAA"). The 1994 FAA is the same agreement that governed the bond indebtedness on which this court granted summary judgment to the plaintiffs in Lightwater Corporation Ltd. v. Republic of Argentina, No. 02 Civ. 3804, 2003 WL 1878420 (S.D.N.Y. Apr. 14, 2003). Section 22 of the 1994 FAA and Section

20 of the 1993 FAA state that the Republic waives sovereign immunity and consents to jurisdiction in any state or federal court in the borough of Manhattan in the City of New York. Both FAAs provide that the Republic's obligations on the bonds are unconditional and that failure to make any payment of principal or interest for 30 days after the applicable payment date constitutes an event of default. A declaration by the Republic of a moratorium on the payment of principal or interest on its public external indebtedness is an event of default as well. Paragraph 12 of the 1994 FAA provides for acceleration of principal if there is a failure to pay interest or a moratorium. If either of these events occurs,

each holder of Securities and such Series may by such notice in writing declare the principal amount of Securities of such Series held by it to be due and payable immediately

The 1993 FAA contains similar language.

On December 24, 2001 the Republic declared a moratorium on payments of principal and interest on the external debt of the Republic. The court refers to its previous opinions for a description of the circumstances of these defaults. Lightwater, 2003 WL 1878420, at *2; Applestein v. Republic of Argentina, No. 02 Civ. 1773, 2003 WL 1990206, at *1 (S.D.N.Y. Apr. 29, 2003). On April 11, 2005, plaintiffs sent notices to Deutsche Bank Trust Company Americas (the successor to Bankers Trust Company, the Fiscal Agent of The Republic of Argentina), declaring the principal amounts of the debt securities held by plaintiffs to be immediately due and payable. The bonds that are the subject of this action are listed hereafter. Also listed are the amounts of the beneficial interests owned by each plaintiff.¹

The following tables contain the necessary identifying information regarding each plaintiff's beneficial interests in bonds.

¹ The court notes the distinction between bonds and beneficial interests. In some previous opinions, the court has simply referred to the plaintiffs as owners of "bonds," when in fact plaintiffs are technically owners of "beneficial interests in bonds." The Republic actually issues "a bond" to a depository. The depository, in some form, issues "participations" to brokers, who sell "beneficial interests" to purchasers. These beneficial interests are identified by reference to the underlying bond (CUSIP or ISIN number or both; date of issuance and maturity; rate of interest) and the principal amount of the beneficial interest. This distinction is discussed more fully in Million Air Corp. v. Republic of Argentina, No. 04 Civ. 1048, 2005 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 23904 (S.D.N.Y. Oct. 17, 2005).

DISCUSSION

This Court has already granted summary judgment in other cases to plaintiffs seeking to collect on the Republic's defaulted bonds issued under the FAAs. See Mazzini v. Republic of Argentina, No. 03 Civ. 8120, 2005 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 5692 (S.D.N.Y. Mar. 31, 2005). Only certain specific issues need to be discussed in connection with the present motion.

Standing and Proof of Ownership

In the two opinions in Fontana v. Republic of Argentina, 415 F.3d 238 (2d Cir. 2005), and Applestein v. Province of Buenos Aires, 415 F.3d 242 (2d Cir. 2005), the Second Circuit has held that an owner of a beneficial interest, such as plaintiffs here, must receive authorization from the registered holder of the bond before it may sue, but that such authorization may be granted subsequent to the filing of a lawsuit. Alternatively, the Republic may waive the authorization requirement.

The Republic has agreed to waive objections based on lack of authorization where the court makes a finding of current ownership. See Transcript, March 28, 2006, Cilli v. Republic of Argentina (04 Civ. 6594).

Here, plaintiffs have adequately demonstrated through their account statements that owned the beneficial interests as of various dates in 2005. There is no evidence of any change of ownership thereafter.

CONCLUSION

The motion to strike defendant's discovery requests is granted.

The motions for summary judgment are granted. Judgment will be entered for the principal amount of the bonds plus accrued interest.

The parties shall consult with one another concerning the form of the judgment and the amounts of interest that should be awarded in the judgment. If the parties are unable to reach agreement on those subjects, they shall jointly submit an agreed proposed judgment to the court. If the parties are unable to reach agreement on those subjects, plaintiffs shall submit a proposed judgment to the court, and the Republic shall submit any objections to plaintiffs' proposed judgment within five business days thereafter. The court will then resolve any remaining disagreements.

SO ORDERED.

ALLAN APPLESTEIN TTEE FBO D.C.A. Grantor
Trust and Pedro Kalbermann, Plaintiffs,
v.
THE REPUBLIC OF ARGENTINA. Defendant

THE REPUBLIC OF ARGENTINA, Defendant

No. 02 Civ. 4124(TPG),

Nov. 20, 2003.

Investors brought action against Republic of Argentina to recover amounts due to them by virtue of default on bonds issued. On investors' motions for summary judgment, the District Court, Griesa, J., held that: (1) Republic of Argentina owed principal and accrued interest on bonds it issued to one set of investors, but (2) fact issue existed as to whether other putative investors were beneficial owners of bonds.

Motions granted in part and denied in part.

58k0 k.

Republic of Argentina owed principal and accrued interest on bonds it issued to investors, after Republic defaulted by declaring moratorium and by failing to make interest payments, and investors declared principal amount owed to it due and payable immediately under terms and conditions of certificates and fiscal agency agreement (FAA) upon giving notice to Republic's fiscal agent, since Republic's obligations were unconditional, sovereign immunity had been waived, and investors demonstrated that they were beneficial owners of bonds.

[2] Bonds

Genuine issue of material fact existed as to whether putative investor was beneficial owner of bonds, precluding summary judgment, in action against Republic of Argentina to recover amounts due by virtue of default on bonds issued. Fed.Rules Civ.Proc.Rule 56, 28 U.S.C.A.

OPINION

GRIESA. J.

Introduction

*1 Plaintiffs Allan Applestein TTEE FBO D.C.A. Grantor Trust ("DCA") and Pedro Kalbermann ("Kalbermann") are owners of bonds issued by the defendant, The Republic of Argentina ("The Republic"). The Republic has defaulted on the bonds. Plaintiffs are suing to recover amounts due to them by virtue of the default and have moved for summary judgment. In their summary judgment motion plaintiffs claim that The Republic's obligation is unconditional and that there are no defenses.

The Republic opposes the motion asserting various defenses and moves to stay the proceedings.

Plaintiff's motion for summary judgment on their bond obligations is granted as to the DCA bonds, but denied as to the Kalbermann bonds. The motion of The Republic for a stay of the proceedings is denied, except that the court stays execution of the judgment temporarily in accordance with its decision on October 31, 2003 in Macrotecnic v. The Republic of Argentina, 02 Civ. 5932, EM Ltd. v. The Republic of Argentina, 03 Civ. 2507, Lightwater Corp. v. The Republic of Argentina, 02 Civ. 3804, and Old Castle Holdings v. The Republic of Argentina, 02 Civ. 3808.

January 30, 2001, with a principal amount of $245,000 issued by The Republic of Argentina. The series is numbered ISIN US040114AH3020. DCA has not submitted the notes or a prospectus. But as an exhibit to its Local Rule 56.1 Statement of Material Facts, DCA submits a recent statement of its brokerage account with Lehman Brothers that shows that these bonds were issued on December 20, 1993, have an interest rate of 8.375% and are due December 20, 2003. Plaintiff states that the bonds are governed by an October 19, 1994 Fiscal Agency Agreement ("FAA") between the Republic of Argentina and Bankers Trust Company (to which Deutsche Bank AG is the successor). The Republic does not contest these statements.

Plaintiff Kalbermann states that he acquired certain bonds with a principal aggregate amount totaling $1,030,000 issued by The Republic of Argentina. He declares that the bonds were issued under various series, with CUSIP Nos. 040114GD6, 040114BE9, 040114AN02. According to Kalbermann, the bonds are deposited with Euroclear under the name of Kalbermann's broker, Prudential Securities, Inc., and have been booked electronically by Prudential in Kalbermann's name. As part of his Local Rule 56.1 Statement of Material Facts, Kalbermann submits a copy of a recent brokerage statement, which shows various bonds purchased with various interest rates and maturity dates. Kalbermann's brokerage statement, however, does not list bonds that total the amount he here seeks to recover. The statement also does not list the series under which the bonds were issued. Moreover, the bonds listed on the brokerage statement appear to show seven different interest rates and maturity dates, which does not appear to support the claim that such bonds were issued under only three series. Kalbermann submits no additional information to prove that he owns the bonds, except that he submits a Notice of Acceleration written by his attorney to The Republic, that seeks to accelerate bonds with the above named CUSIP numbers with a total aggregate principal of $1,030,000.

*2 The Republic admits that Kalbermann has produced documents evidencing that he acquired certain bonds issued by the Republic, but denies all of the CUSIP numbers on the produced documents correspond with those listed in the Amended Complaint.

Kalbermann also declares that the bonds on which he seeks to recover were governed by the same October 19, 1994 FAA already mentioned above.

The FAA provides that failure to make any payment of principal or interest for 30 days after the applicable payment date constitutes an event of default. A declaration of a moratorium on the payment of principal or interest on its public external indebtedness is an event of default as well. Upon an event of default, a bondholder is entitled to give notice declaring the principal amount immediately due and payable.

Section 22 of the FAA states that the Republic of Argentina waives sovereign immunity and consents to jurisdiction in any state or federal court in the borough of Manhattan in the City of New York.

The FAA governing the above named series of bonds contains terms regarding event of default, consent to suit, and jurisdictional waiver that is identical to those pertaining to the bonds, about which this court entered summary judgement in favor of the plaintiffs on May 14, 2003. Lightwater Corporation Ltd. v. The Republic of Argentina, Nos. 02 Civ. 3804(TPG), 02 Civ. 3808(TPG), 02 Civ. 5832(TPG), 2003 WL 1878420.

Default

As discussed more extensively in the court's Lightwater opinion, 2003 WL 1878420 at *2, the Republic of Argentina is experiencing the worst economic crisis in its history. The country's gross domestic product has contracted severely each year since 1999, and tax collections have dropped sharply.

During 2001 many businesses and individuals were making substantial withdrawals of capital from the banking system, with at least $20 billion being withdrawn. As a result, on December 1, 2001 the Republic imposed restrictions on depositors' access to bank accounts, freezing $60 billion in pesos and dollars and limiting withdrawals to $1,000 per month.

On December 24, 2001, the Republic declared a moratorium on payments of principal and interest on the external debt of the Republic. This moratorium is still in effect.

Discussion

[1] In the Lightwater, Old Castle, Macrotecnic and EM Ltd. cases this court has already granted summary judgment to the plaintiff bondholders seeking to collect on Argentine bonds which went into default as a result of the December 24, 2001 moratorium. This court found that:

The obligations of the Republic on the bonds involved in these lawsuits are unconditional. Sovereign immunity has been waived. The Republic defaulted on the bonds when it ceased to pay the interest. This would seem to mean that the Republic now owes the three plaintiffs principal and accrued interest.

The court finds nothing in the record to distinguish DCA's case as to its unconditional legal right to collect on the bonds. DCA provides affidavits and statements of account that give the court no reason to doubt that it is the beneficial owner of the bonds. Argentina has defaulted on the bonds by declaring a moratorium and failing to make interest payments. DCA was entitled, by notice, to declare the principal amount owed to it due and payable immediately under the terms and conditions of the certificates and the FAA. DCA has so notified Argentina's fiscal agent. The Republic has not provided evidence sufficient to raise doubt as to the validity of DCA's claim. DCA is therefore entitled to summary judgment.

*3 [2] As to Kalbermann's bonds, there is simply insufficient evidence in the record to find that Kalbermann is the beneficial owner of the bonds for which he seeks summary judgment.

The Application for a Stay

The Republic asks the court to stay the proceedings. The court, however, has addressed the basic issues regarding a stay in Lightwater, 2003 WL 1878420 at *5-6. The court rules that the instant case should be dealt with no differently from the other cases on this issue.

A final stay of execution, however, has been granted in the Lightwater case, and the other above named cases, until January 29, 2004, or until The Republic presents its final offer to its private creditors in the current debt restructuring negotiations, whichever comes first.

Conclusion

Plaintiff's motion for summary judgment is granted as to the DCA bonds, but denied as to the Kalbermann bonds, without prejudice with regard to a future motion upon an appropriate Rule 56 submission detailing the beneficial ownership of the bonds. Judgment will be entered for the principal amount of the bonds plus accrued interest. The motion of the Republic for a stay of proceedings is denied, except that execution on plaintiff's judgments is stayed until January 29, 2004 or until The Republic presents its final offer to private creditors in the current debt restructuring negotiations, or whichever comes first.

1 (In open court)
2 THE COURT: What do we need to cover today?
3 MR. CHERNOV: Your Honor, Joel Chernov on behalf of 4 the plaintiffs.

5 We're here in connection with your Honor's recent 6 ruling in connection with the Cilli action, and I sent your 7 Honor a letter asking to be heard; twofold, your Honor.
8 There's a statement in -- one, your Honor required that the 9 plaintiffs in this action provide proof of when they acquired
10 their bonds and that was something that your Honor said would 11 not be required when we were at the September 28 hearing and 12 Mr. Blackman said he wouldn't require it on behalf of the 13 Republic.
14

THE COURT: If I got it confused, I'm sorry.
Page 1

15 63S9CILC.txt
 16 MR. CHERNOV: Your Honor, what was said -- I can tell 17 you what was said at the hearing. Mr. Blackman said as to the 18 pending motions, what I said when we had our meeting two weeks
 19 ago -- I have the transcript from the September 28 hearing your 20 Honor and --

21 THE COURT: What were we hearing?

22 MR. CHERNOV: We were hearing at that point the 23 question of whether your Honor was going to require that the 24 Republic waive their standing argument, the argument that the 25 beneficial bond holders did not have standing; or whether you were going to require the bond holders to obtain authorization

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
 (212) 805-0300

1 63S9CILC Conference 3
 2 from the depository trust company before maintaining their 3 suits.

4 THE COURT: My recent decision.

5 MR. BOCCUZZI: Your Honor, I have an extra one. Would 6 you like mine? It's clean.

7 MR. CHERNOV: On September 28, your Honor, we were 8 addressing that standing issue if you might recall.

9 And what the court determined at the conclusion of the 10 hearing was that if the Plaintiffs proved their ownership
 11 satisfactorily to the Court, the Republic would waive its 12 standing defense.

13 And it was agreed that for motions going forward, the 14 proof that the court would require would be a current account
 15 statement and proof of purchase of the securities or proof that 16 the plaintiffs had those securities in their accounts --

17 THE COURT: Can we start again. I didn't have in my 18 hand my recent decision. Just start again, if you don't mind.

19 MR. CHERNOV: Not at all, your Honor. What I was 20 saying was at the September 28 hearing we were addressing the 21 question of the proof that Plaintiffs needed to come forward
 22 with in order for the Republic to waive its standing argument,
 23 the argument that the beneficial bond holders needed to get
 24 authorization from the depository trust company.

25 And on September 28 your Honor said that for all motions going forward your Honor would require two things, a

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
 (212) 805-0300

1 63S9CILC Conference 4
 2 current account statement or other proof of current ownership
 3 and proof of when they acquired their bonds, proof of when the 4 plaintiffs either bought them, or if they didn't have that 5 proof, proof that they had the bonds in their account at the 6 time that the Republic defaulted, December, 2001.

7 That's what your Honor said we would require going 8 forward.

9 THE COURT: For future motions.

10 MR. CHERNOV: Correct.

11 But what we also said was that for all pending motions
 12 we would not be required to go back and supplement --
 13 automatically supplement the record.

14 And at that point what we had provided your Honor was 15 account statements, current account statements. We had not 16 provided your Honor with proof of purchase. And for that 17 proposition, I have the transcript from the hearing on 18 September 28 and that's annexed to my letter. And if you look 19 at page 30 and 31 of that you can see, on page 30 of the transcript, Mr. Blackman said in the middle of the page: "And 20 as to the pending motions, what I have said when we had our 21 meeting two weeks ago was that we would look at it on a

 22 case-by-case basis, which we'll do and see which ones we have.
 23 We want to see the confirms or other issues. We'll do it."
 24 And I believe what he was saying was that for the pending
 25 motions if they believed they needed to see a confirmation,
 SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
 (212) 805-0300

 1 63S9CILC Conference 5
 2 they would let us know.

3 Your Honor then stated in response to Mr. Blackman --
 4 THE COURT: What page are you on?

5 MR. CHERNOV: Page 30, your Honor.

6 At the bottom your Honor says if everything is in 7 order, and I'm reading from your Honor's statement that begins
 8 on line 22, "If everything is in order, according to the 9 standards I've used on pending motions, what I'm going to do is 10 to grant the motion, assuming everything is in order, subject
 11 to my possible need to supplement the record in accordance with 12 what has been stipulated today. So they will not be held up
 13 and we will not -- there will be no need to automatically go
 14 back and supplement the record."

15 Based on that, your Honor, we did not -- based on this 16 statement by Mr. Blackman and the statement by the court, we 17 did not go back and supplement the record in the Cilli action
 18 and provide your Honor with proofs of purchase. And we 19 represent the plaintiffs in --

20 THE COURT: I take it this was a pending motion.

21 MR. CHERNOV: This was a pending, fully submitted at 22 the time of this hearing, yes, your Honor. And we have six 23 other cases that are pending, still pending, your Honor, and 24 that have been pending for the longest -- more than two years
 25 now. And that's our concern, is we do not want to have to go back to plaintiffs, who have had motions sitting for such

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
 (212) 805-0300

 1 63S9CILC Conference 6
 2 significant amounts of time, and now tell them we need more
 3 documents.

4 These are foreigners, your Honor. These are 5 Argentinians, Italians. Already they're losing confidence in 6 the system, in the fact that they don't understand why they
 7 don't have a judgment yet. For me to go back and say we need
 8 to now get more documents from you, your Honor, we submit is 9 not in accordance with what was agreed and is not fair.

10 Now your Honor said --

11 THE COURT: I would think -- what does the Republic
 12 say?

13 MR. BOCCUZZI: Good afternoon, your Honor.

14 THE COURT: Do you agree?

15 MR. BOCCUZZI: As I understood the letter that 16 Mr. Chernov submitted for today's conference, he had put 17 forward three requests or statements to the court and we were 18 in agreement with them.

19 One, that plaintiffs said they were prepared to give 20 the proof of purchase for these folks, and we said that's fine.

21 Two, they said they would just attach them to a
 22 declaration, a lawyer's declaration as opposed to making people
 23 swear new declarations, and I said we were fine with that.

24 And three, they wanted to submit to the court a motion for reconsideration that they shouldn't have to, I guess in 25 other cases, put in proof of purchase. And they set a date for

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
(212) 805-0300

v 7

1 63S9CILC Conference
2 that, and I said that was fine as well.

3 I think to the extent your Honor's opinion says that 4 the need for proof of purchase is driven by the deal that was 5 struck on September 28, I think that is part correct and part 6 incorrect in that we all agreed that would be a case-by-case determination.

7 I don't think the issue that your Honor identifies,
8 the need to identify when interest begins to run is precisely
9 correctly stated.

10 However, I do think there is an issue in having to 11 prove that they own the bond as of the date they accelerated.
12 Because when you accelerate the bond, that is when you say I
13 get principal and interest as of that date and then you --
14 plaintiffs have said and the way the judgments have come out in 15 this case, you get the statutory interest based on that date
16 forward in addition to the principal and interest.

17 In this case, the complaint and acceleration were in 18 August, 2004 --

19 THE COURT: Let me just interrupt you. Look, I have 20 handed down a bunch of decisions and I think that I have had 21 reference to this September 28 conference before. I'll confess
22 I really didn't understand what we agreed to and I didn't 23 really completely understand the significance of whether 24 somebody was an owner as of December 24, 2001 or exact -- or 25 some later point or some earlier point. And so in working on

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
(212) 805-0300

1 63S9CILC Conference
2 this decision, I said I've got to put down something that will 3 make sense to me, and I guess it wasn't very successful, but at 4 least it made some sense to me to think of possible -- a
5 possible relation to the calculation of interest. Now,
6 apparently that is not completely accurate.

7 What I think we ought to do, frankly, is to do this --
8 the problem is there was an appeal and the court of appeals 9 said what it said and the Republic came down from the court of appeals with a -- with certain rights about standing.

10 Now, what we did after that was recognize that despite 11 getting that wonderful opinion from the court of appeals, it
12 would be preposterous to really take it seriously because if 13 the -- if the actual owners of the bonds were to insist that 14 they only -- they were the only people that had standing, they 15 would have to come in -- they would have a fiduciary obligation
16 to sue, and they weren't going to do that. So all of this was 17 a total waste of time.

18 Now, what we ought to do is to do something that 19 simplifies all of this. And as far as I'm concerned, all that 20 should be shown is current ownership. And frankly, I don't 21 think we should be bothered about whether there was ownership
22 as of December 24 -- whatever it is, 2001, or whether they 23 bought later. And I don't think we should be worried about 24 Mr. Blackman saying I'll take it on a case-by-case basis. You
25 see that -- in writing my decision that I just came out with, I

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

v 9

63S9CILC

Conference
Page 4

1 didn't feel that it was terribly clear what was agreed to on
2 September 28. But it ought to be clear, and what should be --
3 there should be standing if the person owns the interest as of 4 the time he sues or if it's a class action there might be
5 another relevant time, and that should establish standing.

6 Now, if at a later point, if it ever comes a time when 7 the judgment -- there is a judgment and it is being enforced,
8 there may need to be a more refined look at timing to see what 9 is due in the way of interest and so forth. But all I want to 10 do now is to eliminate the confusion and I don't think the 11 September 28 record is terribly clear or as clear as it should 12 be. It may be clear to you. It wasn't so clear to me. I
13 don't see -- there should not be anything but complete clarity
14 as to what constitutes standing and it should be something that 15 I can use in my decisions. There will be successions of law
16 clerks and decision after decision over I'm sure a fairly 17 substantial period of time. It's possible I simply forget what 18 went on in all of this. And that's the reason it should be 19 absolutely clear-cut and simple.

20 So I would say that standing is established if 21 somebody owns the bonds or the interest at the time of suit or 22 if it's a class action then when -- obviously, the class
23 representative has to own interest at the time of suit. And as 24 far as class members, they will have to show ownership as of 25 some relevant time, but that's for future consideration.

1 MR. CHERNOV: Your Honor, in light of your statement,
2 in this decision --

3 THE COURT: And I certainly will -- I really --
4 despite what I wrote here, I think it's absurd to ask you to go
5 back and get a lot of additional documents from your clients.

6 MR. CHERNOV: I appreciate that, your Honor. My 7 question to your Honor is in light of the decision, how would 8 you like us to proceed?

9 THE COURT: Well I want to hear, Mr. Bocuzzi, is it
10 satisfactory to simply say there is standing if there is proof
11 of ownership as of the time of suit?

12 MR. BOCCUZZI: Your Honor, as to that, the 13 agreement -- and we'll live by the agreement, it was clear from 14 Mr. Chernov -- I think we're just talking about these cases --
15 in the Cilli case, if that's how your Honor wants to proceed,
16 I'm fine with that.

17 THE COURT: I don't want some special rule for the 18 Cilli case.

19 MR. BOCCUZZI: Well in terms of pending cases.

20 THE COURT: I don't want some special rule for pending
21 cases. I wanted to rule, period. And if we have to have 22 Mr. Blackman come up, I'll have as many hearings as necessary
23 and you will waste as much of your time and your client's money
24 as you need to to get a simple rule, but that's what we're 25 going to get.

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

Conference

11

1 MR. BOCCUZZI: Your Honor I'm on board with the simple
2 rule. I thought the rule we had was simple.

3 THE COURT: It is not.

4 MR. BOCCUZZI: If I may, your Honor, if I can write to 5 the court either today or tomorrow to confirm.

63S9CILC.txt

6 THE COURT: I want some commitment right now and if
7 you have to go to the phone, go to the phone. If Mr. Blackman
8 has to come up, he'll come up. I don't want anymore of this.

9 MR. BOCCUZZI: So what the court is proposing is that 10 present proof of current ownership --

11 THE COURT: As of the time of suit.

12 MR. BOCCUZZI: -- as of the time of suit brings the 13 deal -- brings standing.

14 The only thing I would ask your Honor, if they're 15 acceleration as of the time, if there is a wide gap, can we 16 have proof as of the time they're accelerating the bond?

17 THE COURT: I don't understand what you're saying.

18 MR. BOCCUZZI: Under the bond documents, a bond holder
19 decides whether they're accelerating their bond at a certain
20 time and what happens usually in these cases that you
21 accelerate your bond saying I want the principal and all
22 interest going back that's due and then they bring a lawsuit.
23 If there's a gap between the acceleration and the lawsuit,
24 here -- and I don't know if this is what your Honor was seizing
25 on -- there is no proof that they have the bond when they

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
(212) 805-0300

v 63S9CILC Conference 12

1 accelerated; and obviously, they need to own the bond to 2 accelerate it. So if there was some gap here as a period of 3 time, the time of suit is not the same as the time of 4 acceleration.

5 THE COURT: I don't understand what you're saying.

6 MR. BOCCUZZI: When they send the letter accelerating
7 the bond, they have -- there is no proof in the record and the 8 in the Cilli case -- in other cases there is -- that they own
9 the bond as of that time. And so --

10 THE COURT: As of what time?

11 MR. BOCCUZZI: When they accelerated the bond.

12 THE COURT: Who accelerated?

13 MR. BOCCUZZI: The holder of the beneficial interest.
14 That's usually what prompts the lawsuit.

15 They send the notice of acceleration saying I am
16 demanding -- it's the standard acceleration clause, principal 17 and past interest and then they'll bring a lawsuit when they're 18 not paid the principal and past interest. Sometimes there's a 19 gap, as there was here, and I thought this is one of the things
20 your Honor was getting at. But I see you were more -- take a 21 step back on September 28, your Honor said there were two 22 things, the deal as to the standing and your Honor's own
23 standards as to what you will apply to get comfortable they own
24 it.

25 If your Honor just wants to look at proof of current
SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
(212) 805-0300

v 63S9CILC Conference 13

1 ownership, that's your Honor's decision and that's how you've
2 been ruling on these cases. The deal was a separate issue.

3 Here they never proved that they owned the bond as of 4 the time they accelerated and that has ramifications for CPLR
5 interest of 9 percent that accrues as of the date of 6 acceleration.

7 So as I said, in this case, if your Honor wants --

8 THE COURT: Let's suppose an owner of an interest --
9 and I guess we ought to be precise. We're talking about 10 interest, right?

63S9CILC.txt

11 MR. BOCCUZZI: Yes.
 12 THE COURT: An owner of interest accelerates, whatever
 13 he has to do, and he's accepted, that he does the proper thing, 14 he still owns the bond, he owns the interest, the interest is 15 still marketable, isn't it?

16 MR. BOCCUZZI: Yes.
 17 THE COURT: So he sells it. And so somebody buys it.
 18 Doesn't the person who buys take -- subject to the -- every 19 right that the purchaser -- that the seller has?

20 MR. BOCCUZZI: I believe so, yes, your Honor.

21 THE COURT: Well then what --

22 MR. BOCCUZZI: But there the right would be whether 23 you're the person who sold it or the person who bought the 24 interest, you would say I am entitled to principal and 25 accelerated interest as of the date of acceleration and then

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
 (212) 805-0300

 3 going forward from that statutory interest as well. But you'd 4 have to show that someone owned the bond and accelerated as of 5 that date.

6 THE COURT: Well, it seems to me that -- I don't think
 7 that problem occurs with your clients, does it?

8 MR. CHERNOV: No, your Honor, it doesn't. For one --
 9 and just to back up a little, if you remember, this whole proof
 10 issue to some extent was in lieu of a DTC authorization. A DTC
 11 authorization isn't at all necessarily tied into when one 12 accelerates.

13 Our clients come to us. We, as lawyers, based on our 14 understanding and their proof to us, showing us that they are 15 owner, we accelerate it on their behalf. Never in the four,
 16 five years your Honor has had these cases has there ever been a 17 requirement that one of the plaintiffs show ownership as of the 18 date of acceleration.

19 What your Honor has always required is current proof
 20 of ownership, and we've always followed that lead. To go
 21 back --

22 THE COURT: That's what gave -- that's what I was 23 doing and then that -- there was the issue about standing and 24 this appeal.

25 MR. CHERNOV: But the standing issue and the appeal
 1 would not be at all affected -- a DTC authorization just -- and 2 we've obtained those authorizations on behalf of our -- of some
 3 SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
 4 (212) 805-0300

 6 Conference
 7 of our clients. We obtained it on behalf of Mr. Applestein
 8 when we were before your Honor. That authorization doesn't say
 9 that he's an owner as of any particular date. It doesn't say
 10 he's the owner as of the acceleration date. There is no
 11 connection whatsoever between that authorization and the date
 12 of the acceleration.

13 MR. BOCCUZZI: Just to be clear, your Honor, I wasn't 14 proposing that this is required by the standing deal. I was 15 saying just as a matter of proving up ownership -- the standing
 16 is a separate thing. In terms -- and if your Honor is 17 rejecting this, then your Honor has rejected it.

18 But just in terms of proof to the court of the 19 elements of their claim, that proof that you own the bond when 20 you accelerated, it seems to be that -- I thought your opinion
 21 might have been getting at that, but if it was just a confusion

16 over the deal -- 63S9CILC.txt
17 THE COURT: It really wasn't.
18 MR. BOCCUZZI: Then I appreciate, your Honor --
19 THE COURT: Here's what I would think. All the bonds, 20 other than those which were turned in the exchange offer, are 21 marketable, right?
22 MR. CHERNOV: Yes, your Honor.
23 THE COURT: And if a plaintiff in a case wants to sell
24 his bonds, he can sell them. Now what it means is that he has 25 no further cause of action and the new owner would have a cause
SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
(212) 805-0300

v 1 63S9CILC Conference 16
2 of action.
3 So what I'm trying to get at is there may be events in 4 the way of purchases and sales that affect whether somebody has 5 a cause of action or doesn't have a cause of action. And if 6 somebody has bought an interest and -- from somebody who did 7 the -- took the steps to accelerate, it seems to me the complaint should allege that.
8 MR. CHERNOV: Your Honor, none of the plaintiffs --
9 THE COURT: Let me just finish.
10 MR. CHERNOV: Sure.
11 THE COURT: You've got possible ways a cause of action
12 could shape up and there -- it seems to me that whatever we 13 establish as far as standing should not try to anticipate every 14 variation that could arise.
15 The one thing, it seems to me, that has to be is that 16 the person has to own the interest at the time they sue. And 17 presumably if a motion for summary judgment is made and the 18 court isn't told differently, that same person owns the bond at 19 the time the motion is made and the time the motion is granted.
20 And if a judgment is actually entered, if the court doesn't
21 have any notice to the contrary, it's assumed that the person
22 still owns the interest; otherwise, he doesn't deserve the 23 judgment. But all of that is very routine, very standard.
24 And I go back -- I don't want to be insisting on 25 something that will lead the Republic to go to the court of
SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
(212) 805-0300

v 1 63S9CILC Conference 17
2 appeals again and worry the court of appeals about standing,
3 but I do not see that there is any need for anything other than 4 ownership at the time of suit to establish standing. And I
5 think anything else we introduce could cause confusion to 6 litigants. It could cause confusion to me and, you know, the 7 law clerks coming on and so forth. And in a way that's what's happened here.
8 There was this complication that, at least in my view,
9 on the September 28, 2005 hearing, and what I wanted to do
10 today is to eliminate that.
11 So what I'm going to do is to say that unless I hear
12 promptly to the contrary -- and I mean within 24 hours -- it
13 will be the rule of this court that standing is established,
14 and proof of standing is established by showing ownership at 15 time of suit. And the opinion of March 20, 2006 will be -- I
16 will consider that you're making a motion for reconsideration
17 and the motion is granted, and I'll issue an amended ruling
18 accordingly.

19 MR. CHERNOV: Thank you, your Honor.
20 MR. BOCCUZZI: Your Honor --

1 63S9CILC 18
2 the possible circumstances that might arise in this litigation.
2 Okay.

3 MR. CHERNOV: Thank you.

4 MR. BOCCUZZI: Thank you, your Honor.

5 May I ask, going forward in these cases, we have been 6 now getting proof of purchase provided to us by the plaintiffs,
7 and again separate and apart from standing.

In terms of the Republic's understanding and the Court's understanding, so we can bring it to your attention if there are permutations, can we continue with the practice where plaintiffs are producing -- not for this case but for future cases where we have been doing it, where they do provide us with that proof of purchase?

Because right now the pleadings, the way they're cast, it just says Mr. X owns a bond. There's nothing about the date they purchased it. There's nothing about in terms of how that relates to acceleration.

18 So if they just provided it, a simple document that 19 shows when they purchased and then if there's something weird, 20 that's what litigation is about, we could bring it to the 21 court's attention.

22 THE COURT: What form do they provide this? As part
23 of their pleading?

24 MR. BOCCUZZI: You mean the document or the -- right
25 now they file their complaint. The complaint generally just
SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.

63S9CILC Conference 19
says Mr. X owns a bond. It doesn't talk about when a person acquired it. Then we serve document demand. They don't respond. They object to those, and then they make a motion for summary judgment. And what we see are summary judgment papers that attach a piece of current ownership, proof of that, if it is, and then also a proof of purchase.

And all I'm saying is since they've gotten into this mode because of the agreement wherein these cases going forward, they give us the proof of purchase -- I'm not saying it's standing, your Honor. I'm just saying why not just keep having them produce it. There is no reason why they can't.

This way if there is some strange way a claim is shaped up, we have some basis to look at it and present it to the court if there is an issue.

THE COURT: In other words, you think that the -- as people are making motions now, they read the September 28 minutes, they are aware of what's required.

MR. BOCCUZZI: I know that's what Mr. Chernov is doing. He's here.

MR. CHERNOV: That's accurate, your Honor. Since September 28 when we've moved for summary judgment we have provided the Republic --

THE COURT: On your mark.

THE COURT: On new motions?
MR. CHERNOV: New motions. We've provided the Republic with a current account statement and proof of

63S9CILC.txt
SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
(212) 805-0300

v 1 63S9CILC Conference 20
acquisition of the bonds.

2 THE COURT: Forget what has been said. What do you
3 recommend as the format to go forward?

4 MR. CHERNOV: Your Honor, I recommend just what your 5 Honor found. Current ownership. That's what matters, how 6 these people acquired it and when they acquired it. If they 7 acquired it in 1996 or they acquired it in 2001 should not be 8 required.

9 My feeling is that it often causes the plaintiffs whom
10 we represent a burden. Not all these people have records --
11 they don't all do like I do and keep their securities nicely
12 ordered. They have to go to the brokerage houses. They have 13 to get them. They have to request them. Some of the brokerage 14 houses are out of business, and it hasn't been easy for them to 15 get them.

16 I don't think they serve a useful purpose. I don't 17 think they should be necessary, but obviously, that was how I
18 understood your ruling and we acted accordingly.

19 But if you're asking for my statement as to what I
20 believe should be required, I do not believe they should be 21 required. I believe that all that is necessary is a current 22 account statement as your Honor stated and for the reasons your 23 Honor stated.

24 THE COURT: Let's suppose -- let's just go through 25 this. Let's suppose somebody bought the interest before

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
(212) 805-0300

v 1 63S9CILC Conference 21
December 24, 2001, before the default, and still owns that 2 interest. Now, I take it normally that person would affect an
3 acceleration.

4 MR. CHERNOV: Correct, your Honor. What happens is 5 they retain us and on behalf of the plaintiffs we have then
6 accelerated, as counsel on their behalf.

7 THE COURT: Okay. And if that happens it's pleaded in 8 the complaint?

9 MR. CHERNOV: Correct, your Honor.

10 THE COURT: If it hasn't happened, it can't be 11 pleaded?

12 MR. CHERNOV: Correct again.

13 THE COURT: And if they have bought before
14 December 24, 2001, and if there's been an acceleration, then 15 principal is due and all the unpaid interest is due?

16 MR. CHERNOV: Correct.

17 THE COURT: And that unpaid interest would be whatever
18 was involved in the original default and going forward, right?

19 MR. CHERNOV: Correct.

20 THE COURT: Now, if somebody buys let's say on 21 January 1, 2003 and let's suppose the prior owner didn't 22 accelerate -- the prior owner just held the bond and knew that 23 the interest wasn't being paid and sold at a discounted value,
24 that person has a cause of action, right?

25 MR. CHERNOV: Correct.

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
(212) 805-0300

v 1 63S9CILC Conference 22
THE COURT: An owner of the bond still has a contract

63S9CILC.txt

2 with the Republic and the contract is not being fulfilled.
 3 Now the person can come to you and come to any 4 attorney; and if there's a right to accelerate, there's still a
 5 right to accelerate?
 6 MR. CHERNOV: Correct.
 7 THE COURT: And thus, if that right to accelerate is 8 properly exercised, the principal is due and all unpaid
 9 interest?
 10 MR. CHERNOV: Correct.
 11 THE COURT: Going back to December 24, 2001?
 12 MR. CHERNOV: Exactly.
 13 THE COURT: Now, if somebody sues -- let's say files
 14 suit July, 2003, all they have to plead is that -- they have to 15 plead ownership, right?
 16 MR. CHERNOV: Correct.
 17 THE COURT: If they want to recover principal, they've 18 got to plead acceleration, right?
 19 MR. CHERNOV: Correct.
 20 THE COURT: And as far as interest, they simply plead
 21 the interest as unpaid since December 24, 2001?
 22 MR. CHERNOV: Correct.
 23 THE COURT: That's their cause of action?
 24 MR. CHERNOV: Correct.
 25 THE COURT: And if they move for summary judgment, it
 SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
 (212) 805-0300

1 63S9CILC Conference 23
 2 seems to me that -- forgetting standing for a minute -- that's 3 all they have to show for summary judgment?
 4 MR. CHERNOV: That's our position, your Honor.
 5 THE COURT: They have a cause of action.
 6 If those things are done, they've got a cause -- if 7 they bought, there's acceleration and if -- if they bought,
 8 there's acceleration and of course there was the default, then 9 they have a cause of action and they can get summary judgment on principal and unpaid interest?
 10 MR. CHERNOV: Correct, your Honor.
 11 THE COURT: Just a minute. (Pause)
 12 Literally -- this was the subject of the appeal -- the 13 bond owners have to sue. They have standing. And without 14 anything more, although the interest might have a cause of 15 action in the sense we've just talked about, it's the bond
 16 holders who have the authority to sue, correct?
 17 MR. CHERNOV: Correct.
 18 THE COURT: Unless they authorize the interest holders
 19 to sue?
 20 MR. CHERNOV: Correct.
 21 THE COURT: That's the technical way it stands?
 22 MR. CHERNOV: Right.
 23 THE COURT: Now --
 24 MR. CHERNOV: That's the question that the court left
 25 open. The court didn't rule on it and your Honor never ruled
 SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
 (212) 805-0300

1 63S9CILC Conference 24
 2 on it.
 3 THE COURT: On what?
 4 MR. CHERNOV: Whether beneficial bond holders have 5 standing to sue under the terms of the physical agency
 6 I believe the court of appeals -- and I haven't gone

63S9CILC.txt

7 back and looked at it and I'm sure Mr. Bocuzzi can correct
 8 me -- I don't know that the court of appeals actually ruled
 9 that only the depository trust company and its nominee, Cede &
 10 Co., have standing.

11 I believe what the court ruled was that it wasn't 12 sufficiently developed in the record and sent it back to your 13 Honor for further consideration.

14 THE COURT: I think that's correct.

15 MR. CHERNOV: I don't know if there was an explicit 16 statement by the court.

17 THE COURT: The questions that were left open -- I
 18 can't remember but they were a little bit not so basic. They 19 were a little bit kind of -- but you're technically right, but 20 basically the message was that if there wasn't some kind of a 21 blanket waiver or something, the structure -- the written
 22 structure has to obtain.

23 Now it seems to me what should have been done, on the 24 remand, when we realized that the bond owners were never in 25 this world going to bring suit, what we should have done is to

SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
 (212) 805-0300

v 63S9CILC Conference 25
 1 say all that's necessary to prove standing and get by that 2 point is to show you've got a cause of action. And instead we
 3 got into this somewhat complicated rigmarole on September 28.

4 Now, I don't want to cause further confusion and 5 introduce a change which would cause confusion, but I do not 6 think -- these cases keep being brought and so forth, so we've 7 got a long road -- a lot ahead of us and it seems to me even 8 though there is a change from what was said on September 28, 9 2005, it really -- we ought to go back and have it as simple as 10 possible. If somebody wants to show the time of purchase when 11 they file a motion for summary judgment, they can do that. And 12 if there's some agreement between Cleary Gottlieb and 13 plaintiff's counsel to do something simply by agreement, they 14 can do that.

15 But as far as this court is concerned, it seems to me
 16 we ought to have a rule that what is necessary to show standing
 17 is simply to show a cause of action. And that means ownership, 18 somebody accelerated, if there's a request for principal, and 19 of course the interest follows as simply from the ownership.
 20 And that's what I'm going to say.

21 And again, I'll assume unless there's an objection
 22 that I hear about within 24 hours, that's the rule from here on 23 out.

24 If, as a matter of some convenience, if counsel for 25 plaintiffs and counsel for the Republic want to agree to have
 SOUTHERN DISTRICT REPORTERS, P.C.
 (212) 805-0300

v 63S9CILC Conference 26
 1 other documentation in connection with a motion for summary
 2 judgment, you can do whatever you want. But I want it as 3 simple as possible.

4 So, the motion for reconsideration is granted. And

1 (Case called)

2 THE COURT: I would like to talk about some broad
3 scheduling matters. The one principal privilege I exercise as 4 a senior judge is I take an extra month of vacation in the 5 summer, so I am gone June and July. This invariably works out.
6 Lawyers in cases know that and reschedule around that.

7 I think in this case we have to think about what is 8 coming up and work around that. If there are things that 9 cannot avoid coming up in that time period, we have ways to 10 handle that. We have Part I judges to take care of emergency 11 matters. We have undoubtedly a magistrate judge who is 12 available who will be called in on this case or in these cases.

13 I don't need to have any further discussion of that 14 now. Although June seems a long way away in one sense, it is 15 like tomorrow in another sense. That is the way time goes. So 16 let's just leave that subject for now. Maybe we can discuss it
17 as time goes on.

18 We have several cases that need attention today, and 19 there are certain cases where motions for summary judgment are 20 pending. There are issues about standing and issues about 21 ownership. I would like to discuss the standing issue and hear
22 what anybody would like to offer as far as argument in addition

23 to what is in the papers. The floor is open.

24 MR. BOCCUZZI: Your Honor, Carmine Boccuzzi for the 25 Republic of Argentina. I think the problems are pretty much

1 laid out in the papers. I would just draw your Honor's

2 attention to the language that we are relying on in the FAA,

3 which is on page 7.

4 What we are talking about here is a global security.

5 These lawsuits are based on the fiscal agency agreement, and

6 that is the document that is claimed to have been breached. If

7 your Honor applies the recently decided New York state cases,

8 the MacKay Shields case and the Oak Tree cases, those make very

9 clear that in this type of situation, where you have a

10 registered holder designated in the relevant agreement or

11 contract as the sole owner, then that registered holder is the 12 party with standing to pursue any claim, including claims based 13 on failure to make payments due under the contract.

14 That is really the issue. It is a simple straight-

15 forward application of the contractual language and there is

16 New York precedent, including by the First Department in New 17 York. That is what the basis of the motion is.

18 Plaintiffs seem to rely primarily on some prefatory

19 language that is found in the FAA on page 7 under the language

20 that says the registered holder is the sole owner for all

21 purposes under the agreement. They argue that because there is

22 a statement about the republic understanding that a depository
23 might authorize someone to do something, that the depository is 24 otherwise the sole party who can take the action, that means
25 they have standing to sue.

1 This language, of course, does not purport to undercut
2 the rest of the documentary language that we rely on.
3 Moreover, none of these plaintiffs, your Honor, even purport to 4 have an authorization for the depository. So the situation is 5 that language doesn't help the plaintiffs.

6 The other expects of these two cases, we raise the 7 Etevob and the Franceschi case, which are cases that involve 8 each having about 28 to 30 plaintiffs. As you have seen in our 9 papers that oppose plaintiffs' motion for summary judgment,
10 many of them failed to make a prima facie showing that 11 sufficient to get summary judgment that they are even 12 beneficial owners of the interests in the bonds that they claim 13 to own.

14 So the standing provision which focuses enforcement in 15 the registered holder, which, as the registered holder, has the 16 global security and sits on top of the system of book entries
17 that goes through the participant, through the participants'
18 participants, and then downward ultimately to the beneficial
19 owner, that is the best entity to be involved in this process.
20 As I said, your Honor, none of these folks, who 21 otherwise, as you see from the papers, have really failed to 22 establish the beneficial ownership, none of them has even 23 purported to get the authorization of this registered holder.

24 That is the basis of the motion.

25 There is a similar motion made in the case involving

1 Mr. Applestein in the Province case. Again it is also relying
2 on the MacKay Shields and Oak Tree cases.

3 THE COURT: Who are the depositories? What do they 4 do?

5 MR. BOCCUZZI: The depository is an entity like
6 Depository Trust Corporation, DTCC, and they are an entity that 7 holds the global security. They are identified in the 8 documents as holding the global security. They are the entity
9 that in turn has participants --

10 THE COURT: Wait a minute. Let's take the United 11 States. What company is it?

12 MR. BOCCUZZI: The Depository Trust Company, your 13 Honor, DTC.

14 THE COURT: What do they do?

15 MR. BOCCUZZI: They are a corporation that is involved
16 in -- they were established in the seventies, and they are 17 there to operate and be involved in overseeing the system that 18 has registered securities of this type.

19 THE COURT: That is a little vague.

20 MR. BOCCUZZI: They have participants, your Honor.

21 Participants are financial institutions.

22 THE COURT: So you have the Depository Trust Company.

23 MR. BOCCUZZI: Right.

24 THE COURT: Let's say the republic issues a bond, it

25 issues it to the Depository Trust Company.

1 MR. BOCCUZZI: They issue a global security, yes, and

2 the Depository Trust Company is the registered holder of that

3 global security.

4 THE COURT: What is meant by a global security?

5 MR. BOCCUZZI: It is opposed to something like a
6 bearer bond. The global security is a security --

7 THE COURT: Is it a bond?

8 MR. BOCCUZZI: Yes. It is an obligation of the 9 republic.

10 THE COURT: Is it a bond?

11 MR. BOCCUZZI: Yes, it is a bond.

12 THE COURT: It is a bond?

13 MR. BOCCUZZI: Right.

14 THE COURT: So the Republic of Argentina issues a 15 bond. You are saying it issues the bond to the --

16 MR. BOCCUZZI: The registered holder.

17 THE COURT: The Depository --

18 MR. BOCCUZZI: Trust Company.

19 THE COURT: -- Trust Company. Why does it issue it to 20 the Depository Trust Company? The Depository Trust Company is 21 not paying for the bond, right?

22 MR. BOCCUZZI: Right.

23 THE COURT: So how does the Depository Trust Company
24 know to get a bond issued to it?

25 MR. BOCCUZZI: Pursuant to the fiscal agency agreement

1 between the republic and the fiscal agent, that talks about
2 what the bonds or series of bonds are going to be. The 3 Depository Trust Company, its job is to hold the global 4 security.

5 THE COURT: I asked you a specific question. Some 6 individual or company decides to buy some Argentine bonds. How 7 do they buy the bonds?

8 MR. BOCCUZZI: They could call their broker.

9 THE COURT: They call their broker.

10 MR. BOCCUZZI: Right.

11 THE COURT: Their broker calls who?

12 MR. BOCCUZZI: Their broker would go into the market
13 and find a seller of the bonds and purchase the bond.

14 THE COURT: Who is the seller going to be?

15 MR. BOCCUZZI: It could be anyone, your Honor. These 16 bonds trade in the secondary market.

17 THE COURT: So somebody else who is owner of bond, 18 right?

19 MR. BOCCUZZI: Right.

20 THE COURT: Then the person wants to buy or become the 21 owner of these bonds, right?

22 MR. BOCCUZZI: Correct.

23 THE COURT: The Depository Trust Company is not in the 24 market, is it?

25 MR. BOCCUZZI: Not that I know of, your Honor.

1 THE COURT: Of course not.

2 MR. BOCCUZZI: But it is sitting on top of the market
3 in terms of when that sale happened.

4 THE COURT: Sitting on top doesn't mean anything. The 5 Depository Trust Company is not in the market selling or 6 buying, right?

7 MR. BOCCUZZI: Correct.

8 THE COURT: So somebody sells some bonds. These are 9 registered bonds and not bearer bonds?

10 MR. BOCCUZZI: Correct.

11 THE COURT: Now, these bonds are registered in whose 12 name? The Depository Trust Company's name?

13 MR. BOCCUZZI: Yes.

14 THE COURT: Obviously, the seller and the buyer, they 15 employ their brokers and the brokers are handling it. What do
16 the brokers do? What does the broker for the seller do after

17 the sale? Does the broker notify the Depository Trust Company 18 or what?

19 MR. BOCCUZZI: It depends. If the broker itself is a
20 participant -- and "participant" is the term of art for people
21 who are participants in Depository Trust Company -- then that 22 participant, the next link in the chain would be the Depository
23 Trust Company. So that book entry would be notified to the 24 Depository Trust Company.

25 THE COURT: What do you mean a book entry would be

1 notified?

2 MR. BOCCUZZI: The fact that there has been a transfer
3 of beneficial interest would have to be informed to the 4 Depository Trust Company. It is just a series of book entries,
5 your Honor.

6 THE COURT: I understand. In other words, certain 7 brokers are participants.

8 MR. BOCCUZZI: Yes.

9 THE COURT: They are listed with the Depository Trust
10 Company.

11 MR. BOCCUZZI: Correct.

12 THE COURT: What is the role of a participant?

13 MR. BOCCUZZI: They are just people, financial 14 institutions, who are in the market trading in these bonds or 15 themselves have customers, broker-dealers, who themselves are 16 trading in the bonds. The system is just meant to 17 facilitate -

18 THE COURT: Wait a minute. They are registered or 19 listed with the Depository Trust Company as brokers who are 20 trading in the bonds, right?

21 MR. BOCCUZZI: Correct.

22 THE COURT: Do they trade in their own name or do they 23 represent other people?

24 MR. BOCCUZZI: They would be trading in their own
25 name.

10

1 THE COURT: So they trade in their own name.

2 MR. BOCCUZZI: And they have their own books that
3 would trace to their customers for whom they are trading.

4 THE COURT: You said they trade in their own name.

5 Now, you mention customers. I suppose they do both.

6 MR. BOCCUZZI: Right. For example, there is a broker-
7 dealer and he may have customers. So he may be trading in his 8 own name. But the position that is reflected, for example,

9 with the DTC would be in the name of the participant. Some of 10 it may be for its own account and some of it may be 11 beneficially owned by the next -

12 THE COURT: So the Depository Trust Company doesn't 13 even list the beneficial owners at all, does it?

14 MR. BOCCUZZI: That is by and large correct.

15 THE COURT: They just list participants?

16 MR. BOCCUZZI: Correct.

17 THE COURT: And it is the participants who actually
18 list the beneficial owners?

19 MR. BOCCUZZI: They may or they themselves may have 20 another layer between themselves and the beneficial owners.

21 THE COURT: What layer would that be?

22 MR. BOCCUZZI: For example, it could be a participant,
23 which is Lehman Brothers, and then he could have someone, a 24 broker-dealer, under them. And that broker-dealer may be 25 trading for the ultimate beneficial owner. So there just could

11

1 be different layers, your Honor, in terms of what is between 2 the beneficial interest owner and the registered holder, the
3 Depository Trust Company.

4 THE COURT: So you have conceivably these layers: The 5 Depository Trust Company, the participants, other brokers who 6 are dealing with the participants, and the beneficial owners.
7 Conceivably those layers; it could be a little less. Anyway,
8 that is what could happen.

9 Now, if an interest payment is made, who does the 10 republic make it to?

11 MR. BOCCUZZI: The fiscal agent, Bankers Trust under 12 the fiscal agency agreement. That agent pays the depository.

13 THE COURT: So there is a fiscal agent of the bank,

14 and the bank pays the Depository Trust Company, and then it
15 goes on through the chain?

16 MR. BOCCUZZI: Exactly.

17 THE COURT: And gets to the beneficial owner.

18 MR. BOCCUZZI: Yes.

19 THE COURT: What is the language that prevents the 20 beneficial owner from suing?

21 MR. BOCCUZZI: If you look, your Honor, on page 7 of 22 the fiscal agency agreement, that first full paragraph that 23 begins with the language "So long as the depository for global 24 security or its nominee is the registered owner of such global 25 security, such depository or such nominee, as the case may be,

12

1 will be considered the sole owner or holder of the securities
2 represented by such global security for all purposes under this
3 agreement."

4 It goes on to state that beneficial owners are not
5 entitled to having a definitive note in their name and will not 6 be considered the owners or holders thereof under such 7 securities or this agreement.

8 Then, the next sentence says, "Accordingly, each 9 person owning a beneficial interest in a global security must 10 rely on the procedures of the depository for such global 11 security and, if such person is not a participant, on the 12 procedures of the participant through which such person owns

13 its interest to exercise any rights of a holder under the 14 securities or this agreement."

15 The next sentence is the language that plaintiffs have 16 relied on to rebut what precedes it.

17 THE COURT: Certainly the governing instruments
18 contemplate the possibility of legal action. That is why there
19 is a waiver of sovereign immunity. I think there is a choice
20 of law, there is an agreement to jurisdiction, all the things
21 that we covered in the earlier summary judgment motions.

22 It would be impossible to create the instruments here
23 without providing for the possibility of legal action. Who can 24 take the legal action?

25 MR. BOCCUZZI: All the rights in terms of the fiscal 13

1 agency, your Honor, are couched in terms of the holder, and the 2 holder is the registered holder, who is considered the sole
3 registered holder under the contract.

4 THE COURT: Is the Depository Trust Company filing any 5 lawsuits?

6 MR. BOCCUZZI: We have not heard from the 7 depository --

8 THE COURT: Is the Depository Trust Company
9 participating in any conferences about a debt workout?

10 MR. BOCCUZZI: I am not aware of, that your Honor.

11 THE COURT: No, of course, not. The Depository Trust

12 Company makes a little dab of money by performing ministerial
13 functions. They have no interest that would possibly cause

14 them to go to a meeting about a debt workout or even consider
15 the subject. They would have no interest in filing a lawsuit.

16 what you are talking about is giving them the sole

17 right of action, and that will never happen. They will never 18 sue. They will never sue. Never heard of it.

19 What is really important is the last clause, the last 20 sentence, beginning "The republic understands." That is the 21 important part of that whole paragraph for our purposes. What 22 it does say is that the republic understands that the 23 depositories and the participants will allow the beneficial
24 owners to sue. That is the important part of this paragraph.

25 MR. BOCCUZZI: Your Honor, that has not happened here.
14

1 There has been no showing that there has been any
2 authorization. This is relevant. I understand the Depository
3 Trust Company is not the one --

4 THE COURT: I am sure that that can be accomplished.

5 If the Court called the Depository Trust Company into court, I
6 am sure they would be quite upset that they had to pay a lawyer
7 to come to court, but they would have to. And I think on the 8 spot we would get as many authorizations as necessary. It
9 would just be done. They have no interest in doing it or 10 blocking it.

11 MR. BOCCUZZI: Your Honor, the language that you cite 12 to refers to the participants holding the relevant interest to 13 take such action. In other words, the Depository Trust Company
14 does have an interest in making sure that there is an accurate
15 bookkeeping up and down the chain of who actually is the 16 beneficial owner.

17 THE COURT: They have no interest in engaging in 18 expensive litigation, and they won't ever do it. You know that 19 perfectly well. Have you ever talked to them about the 20 subject?

21 MR. BOCCUZZI: Your Honor, I have not.

22 THE COURT: No, of course not. You know what they 23 would say if Cleary Gottlieb called up and said, look, we 24 represent the Republic of Argentina and we are going go into 25 court and say that you are the only people that can file suit,

1 what can we really represent to the court about what you will
2 or will not do, we would like to file an affidavit providing
3 the court with information of a practical nature, and would you
4 like to give us an affidavit saying what your intention is 5 about suing on all these defaults?

6 Did you contact them and try to obtain such an 7 affidavit so you could inform the court of what in practical
8 fact would happen with the depository? Did you do that?

9 MR. BOCCUZZI: No, your Honor.

10 THE COURT: Of course you didn't, because you knew
11 what you would find out.

12 MR. BOCCUZZI: If I may, your Honor. In terms of the 13 Province case, Mr. Applestein contacted through his participant
14 the DTCC. So what happens here is there is a verification 15 function that DTC plays, and this is relevant. If looked at -

16 THE COURT: That is another issue.

17 MR. BOCCUZZI: The issue is there is a letter from 18 DTCC to the participant and from the participant to Mr.
19 Applestein, so there is a role. That is authorizing the suit,
20 which at the very least is what this language references.

21 THE COURT: Maybe what we need to do is to have a
22 procedure whereby Cleary Gottlieb -- you are the one raising 23 the point. It seems to me the burden should be on you to 24 arrange the details.

25 MR. BOCCUZZI: Your Honor, the point is proof of 16

1 beneficial ownership. That is the plaintiff's burden. The 2 plaintiffs have to show. They are stating here, your Honor, we
3 want a judgment for X million dollars.

4 THE COURT: Maybe it shouldn't be placed on Cleary
5 Gottlieb. Maybe I will just issue a court order having them
6 come in. Do you suppose they could come in in a half an hour?
7 Somebody could come in.

8 MR. BOCCUZZI: In terms of coming in in a half hour, I

9 am just not sure what you would want them to --

10 THE COURT: Where are they located? Are they down on 11 Wall Street?

12 MR. BOCCUZZI: They are in New York, yes, your Honor.

13 THE COURT: Where?

14 MR. BLACKMAN: They are down on Water Street.

15 THE COURT: That isn't very far. We could adjourn
16 until they are here. I am sure they would sign any one you
17 want them to sign. Do you want to go through that?

18 MR. BOCCUZZI: No, your Honor.

19 THE COURT: Of course not. We are not going to do a 20 lot of foolishness. We are going to get down to practical 21 fact. The fact is that these beneficial owners are entitled to 22 sue. If there are some formalities that have to be carried 23 out, they can be easily carried out, and that's that. That 24 solves the issue of standing, and that is all there is to it.
25 That is the end of it.

1 MR. BOCCUZZI: Yes, your Honor.

2 THE COURT: If you want to insist on formalities, we 3 will have all the formalities, and the question will be who 4 will pay the cost of getting those formalities accomplished.
5 Anyway, we won't worry about that now. We take care of the 6 formalities and that can be agreed upon and that is that.
7 Next question: Ownership.

8 MR. BOCCUZZI: Your Honor, we have raised an issue as 9 to the showing on summary judgment that these folks have done.
10 They started with a lawyer's affidavit, which is proof of 11 nothing. Since then, there have been a variety of affidavits.

12 There are discrepancies in terms, for example, of the 13 amount pleaded and the amount that is shown on the brokerage 14 statement that was submitted. It just doesn't tie together in 15 many places.

16 The burden has been on us, and I think we have met the 17 burden in terms of summary judgment to point out the 18 discrepancies in the failures of proof. That is really the 19 issue.

20 THE COURT: The issue of ownership is a real issue,
21 not something that can be passed over lightly. Let's take it
22 case by case. I know on Kalbermann I denied the motion for 23 summary judgment because there was an issue of ownership. So
24 that is where we need to spend some time.

25 MR. CHERNOV: Can I be heard, your Honor, on Mr.

1 Kalbermann?

2 THE COURT: Yes. You represent?

3 MR. CHERNOV: Your Honor, my name is Joel Chernov. I
4 am with the law firm of Dreier LLP, and we represent Mr.
5 Kalbermann.

6 THE COURT: All right.

7 MR. CHERNOV: Your Honor surely did deny Mr.
8 Kalbermann's first motion, finding that the evidence was 9 insufficient. Your Honor, with all due respect, we believe
10 there was sufficient evidence before the Court, and we made a 11 motion for reconsideration or reargument and submitted a new 12 declaration that hopefully clarified the original evidence and 13 supplemented that evidence.

14 If I can direct the Court's attention to that 15 evidence, I believe you will see that it is plenty clear that 16 Mr. Kalbermann does own the bonds he claims to own. First, I
17 don't know if your Honor has before you Mr. Kalbermann's
18 accounts.

19 THE COURT: Mr. Boccuzzi, he has a good point in that 20 on the issue of ownership one satisfactory way to deal with 21 that would be to go through the process which is outlined on 22 page 7 of the fiscal agency agreement. I was trying to dispose 23 of the standing issue quickly, which I think ought to be done.
24 But there are requirements of these instruments, and I am
25 certainly not ready to say the instruments don't have to be

1 complied with. I think compliance could be easy and it should
2 be easy. And it should be done with a minimum of expense.

3 Is there not a requirement to go through the 4 procedures talked about in the fiscal agency agreement? Your 5 client is suing --

6 MR. CHERNOV: Mr. Kalbermann is suing the republic.

7 THE COURT: What about those procedures? The thing

8 that does strike me is Mr. Bocuzzi's idea that -- if those

9 procedures are complied with, then that is a very sure way of 10 resolving the issue of ownership. If they have to be complied

11 with, why not do it and then not fight about whether one

12 particular piece of evidence is OK or not?

13 MR. CHERNOV: Your Honor, I don't believe complying

14 with this proceeding would actually solve the problem.

15 THE COURT: Let's go back. Don't you have to comply

16 with the procedures?

17 MR. CHERNOV: Your Honor, we submit that you are

18 exactly correct, that the paragraph you pointed to means that

19 people do not need to go get authorization. It means that

20 everyone understood the way the industry works is that you

21 don't need to go get authorizations.

22 THE COURT: I read it another way. Am I wrong?

23 MR. CHERNOV: I read it, your Honor, that the republic

24 understands that under existing industry practice, if we went

25 out and asked for the authorization, we would be given it or 20

1 DTC would give it to Lehman Brothers, for example, and then

2 Lehman Brothers would give it to the beneficial holder. But it

3 is understood. It is not something that has to be done. DTC,

4 as you said, has no interest in having everyone call them up

5 and go through this process.

6 THE COURT: Let's read the sentence, could we?

7 MR. CHERNOV: Surely.

8 THE COURT: "The republic understands that under 9 existing industry practice, if the republic requests any action
10 of holders" – that language is irrelevant.

11 MR. CHERNOV: Correct.

12 THE COURT: Let's start again. "The republic
13 understands that under existing industry practices, if an owner
14 of a beneficial interest in such global security desires to 15 take any action which a holder is entitled to take under the 16 fiscal agency agreement, the depository for such global 17 security would authorize the participants holding the relevant 18 interests to take such actions, and the participants would 19 authorize beneficial owners, owning through such participants,
20 to take such action or would otherwise act upon the 21 instructions of beneficial owners holding through them."

22 Mr. Bocuzzi is certainly correct that the earlier
23 part of the paragraph talks about the depository being the sole 24 owner and being the sole party who can take action, and so
25 forth, does it not?

1 MR. CHERNOV: It does, your Honor. But if you read
2 the entire agreement, you will see that they repeatedly
3 throughout the agreement reference the registered holder. When

4 they wanted to talk about the registered holder, they talked
5 about the register holder. They talked about that repeatedly.
6 In the jurisdiction paragraph, though, notably they don't use
7 the word "registered holder," they only use the word "holder."
8 They also talk in the agreement about aggregating the 9 interests of the holdings, that 25 percent of the holders can 10 accelerating rate and that acceleration can overridden by other 11 percentages of holders.

12 THE COURT: You are saying holders as used in two 13 senses.

14 MR. CHERNOV: Exactly, your Honor. This 15 interpretation that the republic is now putting before the 16 Court doesn't square with what the document intended, and it is 17 the paragraph that you pointed to that shows the true intent.

18 What also shows the true intent, your Honor, is that 19 we have now been before you for the better part of two years
20 and this argument was never raised. The only reason they are 21 raising it now is as a last straw to once again try to stop
22 these lawsuits.

23 This paragraph clearly provides that holders,
24 beneficial owners, have a right to bring suits and they have 25 that right without going back each time to DTC and trying to

- 1 get DTC to give authorizations. DTC says it is understood that
- 2 if someone went and asked, they would get it.

3 With respect to the proof problems, this really
4 doesn't address the proof problems. The proof problems is DTC
5 doesn't even know, your Honor, as you recognize, who holds
6 what. DTC has no knowledge. The person who has knowledge is 7 either the participant who sells to the beneficial owner --
8 THE COURT: The broker.

9 MR. CHERNOV: That's right, the broker. The broker
10 knows who has it. So if we get an authorization from DTC, that 11 is not going to help our proof problem. Our proof problem has 12 to be addressed by the broker.

13 That is what we have done, your Honor. We have given
14 you the account statements from the broker, we have given you 15 letters from the brokers. The issues they are raising with 16 respect to the proof are things such as the names cut off at 17 the top.

18 Now, they say the names cut off at the top. But did 19 they call me, your Honor, and say, can I have a new copy of 20 that piece of paper so I can see the top? Did they go to 21 court, where we had the originals submitted, so that they could 22 see the name at the top? No.

23 Again, your Honor, they are making mountains out of 24 molehills. They are raising red herrings.

25 The account statement shows the ownership. The 23

1 letters from the brokers show the ownership. Going back and

2 getting authorization from DTC, who has no idea what beneficial
3 people have or don't have, is not going to help us address the 4 ownership question.

5 THE COURT: I suppose Merrill Lynch is a participant.

6 MR. CHERNOV: Excuse me? Merrill Lynch?

7 THE COURT: You have submitted account statements from 8 Merrill Lynch.

9 MR. CHERNOV: Yes. I don't know each of their 10 participants, but I believe Merrill is a participant.

11 THE COURT: I guess your argument is that Depository
12 Trust Company isn't going to know.

13 MR. CHERNOV: Correct.

14 THE COURT: Merrill Lynch knows, but what you are 15 basically saying is you have enough information from Merrill
16 Lynch in the account statements.

17 MR. CHERNOV: That is correct, your Honor, and those 18 are the statements we have put before you. To the extent some 19 of those statements have issues, we can address those issues.
20 But I don't see why we should be going back to DTC to try to 21 help us resolve the issue.

22 THE COURT: How many bonds did Kalbermann own?

23 MR. CHERNOV: That is the subject of this lawsuit,
24 your Honor. He had five separate purchases, but they are three 25 series of bonds. He has $840,000 worth of bonds that have an

1 interest rate of 12.375 percent, I believe. He has a $90,000
2 bond which is at 11 or 11.5 percent, and then a 100,000 bond.
3 That totals 1,030,000, which is exactly what he sued
4 for when he brought the action. He submitted his account
5 statement which shows that. He submitted a letter from his 6 broker which shows that. He submitted the confirmation slips
7 in the original bank statement that shows that.

8 When we first moved for summary judgment, the republic
9 didn't even contest that ownership. Now they do, saying that 10 one of the CUSIP numbers, your Honor, is wrong. Clearly, it 11 was a clerical error. It has the right maturity date, it has 12 the right interest rate.

13 THE COURT: Help me out. There are a lot of papers.

14 It is all in the papers. He owns three sets of bonds?

15 MR. CHERNOV: Yes. If you look at Mr. Kalbermann's, 16 for example, his July declaration, Exhibit A to that 17 declaration.

18 THE COURT: I have it. 90,000 in bonds. There is a 19 confirmation slip.

20 MR. CHERNOV: There is a confirmation slip that he 21 actually in his declaration submitted his confirmation slips
22 that tie in.

23 THE COURT: So he got a confirmation slip dated trade
24 date 2/14/2000, 90,000 bonds bought, right?

25 MR. CHERNOV: Yes.

1 THE COURT: Then you have 200,000 bonds bought, trade
2 date 4/23/2001, confirmation slip. Then 540,000 4/25/2001,
3 that is a confirmation slip. That is all Merrill Lynch.

4 Was the other one the Prudential?

5 MR. CHERNOV: The Prudential, your Honor, which was a
6 purchase for 100,000 on 5/15.

7 Then, your Honor, if you go to the next exhibit, it is
8 not a confirmation slip but I believe it is Mr. Kalbermann's
9 original statement from Bank Leu, and that shows a purchase on 10 the second item, a purchase of a $100,000 note with an 11
11 percent interest rate and a maturity date of I believe it is 12 October 9, 2006.

13 That is evidenced also, your Honor, if you go to 14 Exhibit C to this declaration. Exhibit C to the declaration, 15 your Honor, has the letter from Mr. Kalbermann's broker, and 16 that is a November 26, 2003 letter. Here he totals those up,

17 And you have the three series of bonds owned by Mr.
18 Kalbermann that again total 1,030,000: The 100,000 bond with 19 the rate of 11 percent, the 90,000 bond with the rate of 11.75
20 percent, and then the 840,000 in bonds with the rate of 12.375
21 percent.

22 He has given the Court the confirmation slips, a 23 letter from his broker, his account statement. We submit, your 24 Honor, that that is sufficient evidence to prove his ownership.

25 MR. BOCCUZZI: Your Honor, if I might?

26

1 THE COURT: Yes.

2 MR. BOCCUZZI: Mr. Kalbermann did come back and re-go
3 over evidence that was before your Honor when your Honor denied
4 his motion for summary judgment because of discrepancies. We 5 acknowledge that he did clear up some of that. But there is,
6 for example, still an outstanding discrepancy where he is 7 claiming in his declaration at paragraph 4 to be holding a face
8 amount of $100,000 in principal with a CUSIP number that does
9 not match the CUSIP number on the slip he submitted at Exhibit
10 A to his declaration. So at least as to that amount, there is 11 a remaining discrepancy.

12 THE COURT: What is that number?

13 MR. BOCCUZZI: If you look at his declaration, you
14 will see there is a CUSIP number there for 100,000 face amount,
15 040114GD6. And then if you go to Exhibit A, the third page,
16 which D527 is the Bates number, the CUSIP number there is a
17 different CUSIP number there on the bottom. It is 9949L9C.
18 And this is for $100,000.

19 So we don't have a complete match or corroboration
20 between the documentary evidence and what Mr. Kalbermann is 21 claiming. Of course, the reason why the republic opposed the 22 motion for reconsideration is because of the initial problems
23 your Honor identified in the November 19th denial of summary

24 judgment. They went back, they tried to prove it up, and there
25 is still at least one outstanding discrepancy.

27

1 MR. CHERNOV: Your Honor, clearly that is a clerical
2 error. If you look at Mr. Kalbermann's account statement, it
3 lists -

4 THE COURT: Where is the account statement?

5 MR. CHERNOV: The account statement, your Honor, is 6 annexed to Mr. Kalbermann's original declaration, his 7 declaration of July 8, 2003. Your Honor, I have a copy. If 8 you would like, I could hand it up.

9 THE COURT: What is shown there?

10 MR. CHERNOV: If you look at the last page of the 11 account statement, it shows Argentina, Republic of, global 12 bond. It shows the same bond with the same interest rate, the 13 same maturity date, and it shows that Mr. Kalbermann owns 14 $840,000 worth of that bond or face value amount of that bond.

15 The last page of it, page 3 of 5, it is listed on top.

16 That is also exactly what Mr. Kalbermann's broker told 17 the Court that Mr. Kalbermann owed, and that is annexed as 18 Exhibit C to Mr. Kalbermann's most recent declaration, his 19 December declaration. If you add together the amounts from the 20 confirmation slips, you again get to 840,000. Each of the 21 confirmation slips gives us the same interest rate of 12.375
22 percent, each gives the same maturity date.

23 Your Honor, the republic is not contending they have 24 issued any other bonds with this maturity date and with this 25 interest rate. Clearly that CUSIP number was a clerical error.

28

1 The proof is the account statement and the letter from the
2 broker. The fact that the confirmation slip has an incorrect
3 CUSIP number should not be allowed to defeat Mr. Kalbermann's
4 motion.

5 MR. BOCCUZZI: What normally governs, your Honor, is a
6 confirmation slip. The letter that is annexed as Exhibit C to 7 the Kalbermann declaration itself disclaims that it is going to 8 govern in the event of a dispute. So, again, the document that 9 Mr. Chernov is referring to as Exhibit 1, this is the original
10 document that represents a whole bunch of other bonds, and that 11 is the original source of the discrepancy identified in the 12 November 19th denial of summary judgment. So we are just 13 building on evidence that didn't establish what plaintiff says
14 it is establishing.

15 To get back to the point, at the end of the day for 16 that $100,000 nobody knows on this record what CUSIP number it
17 is, and that is the way you track a security. This could be 18 cleared up if you got the chain of letters, potentially cleared
19 up, because then someone would have to drill down on what exact
20 CUSIP number we are talking about.
21 Again, CUSIP number is not a mere formality or detail

22 or something minor. It goes to the bond that this plaintiff
23 says they have a beneficial ownership interest in. That is 24 relevant, because at the end of the day that bond will have to 25 be written down at the global level if there is a judgment

29

1 entered.

2 THE COURT: It is really preposterous to have a
3 courtroom full of people and two sets of lawyers and a judge
4 haggling about these details. Anybody who has been in the law
5 practice of the kind that is characteristic of the lawyers
6 here, my former law practice, my experience as a judge, we have 7 seen actions brought on behalf of holders of securities. We 8 have all relied on confirmation slips. There is almost never 9 any issue. There are a lot of other issues that you have to 10 worry about, fraud or something like that, but the ownership
11 generally is not a problem.

12 I did deny summary judgment in the first instance.

13 Really, the idea there was to get the situation clarified. I
14 never really doubted that Mr. Kalbermann owned bonds. I didn't 15 think that the lawyer was coming in with a balloon full of hot 16 air. It was a matter of straightening out the accounting and 17 getting things accurate.

18 I am not going to spend a lot of time, as we are doing
19 now, on the ownership issue. If there is a reasonable set of 20 confirmation slips or declarations or whatever, that settles it

21 as far as I'm concerned. It settles it because that is the way
22 it is settled in lawsuits that deal with these subjects.
23 Nobody engages in this kind of exercise, and we are not going
24 to have it.
25 I don't know why there is a difference in CUSIP

30

1 numbers. If, as time goes on, it turns out that there is some 2 problem, well, there is a problem. But I do have a set of 3 confirmation slips, I have an account statement, I have some 4 correspondence. I'm sorry to have to worry about a problem of 5 addition. What do you say is the number of bonds he owns?

6 MR. CHERNOV: A million 30,000 in total. 840 plus the 7 90 plus the 100.

8 THE COURT: What is it, 840 plus?

9 MR. CHERNOV: 840,000 was one series, plus 100, plus
10 90.

11 THE COURT: So it is 840 plus 100.

12 MR. CHERNOV: Plus 90, your Honor. Which is 13 1,030,000, and that is what he sued for in the complaint.

14 THE COURT: Again, we have confirmation slips. I am
15 looking at Exhibit A, Merrill Lynch, 90,000, 200,000, 540,000.

16 Then you have the Prudential for 100,000. That is 930,000.

17 Where is the other?

18 MR. CHERNOV: It is the next exhibit, your Honor,
19 which was the Bank Leu statement.

20 THE COURT: I see. That is an additional?
21 MR. CHERNOV: That is the additional hundred.
22 THE COURT: All right. Motion granted.
23 MR. CHERNOV: Thank you, your Honor.
24 THE COURT: Is there any other ownership issue worth
25 talking about, or are we just dealing with matters of detail

31

1 which should be straightened out between the lawyers?
2 MR. CHERNOV: I will be happy to deal with the details
3 with Cleary Gottlieb if your Honor would prefer us to proceed
4 in that manner.

5 MR. BOCCUZZI: Your Honor, I am happy to speak with 6 plaintiffs.

7 THE COURT: We are not going to take up time in this 8 courtroom. what I intend to do is to grant the motions for 9 summary judgment that are pending. Any details about ownership
10 can be resolved in the course of pretrial. But I don't think 11 they will need to be resolved. I think there is sufficient
12 evidence.

13 The standing issue, I engaged in a little rhetoric
14 about having all those procedures followed. Nobody in their 15 right mind is going to tax the parties and the Depository Trust
16 Company and Merrill Lynch, and so forth, with a lot of useless
17 procedures. So I am holding that the beneficial owners have 18 standing.

19 If the republic is going to insist that we get some 20 kind of permission from the Depository Trust Company and from 21 the so-called participants, then that could be done at some 22 stage. I don't think that the republic and Cleary Gottlieb 23 will really end up wanting to do that. If they insist on that,
24 I will have to consider who will pay the cost of having that 25 done.

32

1 The other problem I think is the problem of Mr.
2 Gleizer's, the Macrotecnic. We had better get to that.
3 MR. BOCCUZZI: Your Honor, just as a housekeeping
4 matter, there was one other motion, I think it just needs to be 5 put on the record, that we had made. That involved Franceschi.

6 After we had made our initial opposition to summary
7 judgment because of the proof issues, there was more
8 information provided in the next wave by plaintiffs of who 9 bought when and the like. That led us, the republic, to want 10 to amend the answer to assert -- and I know your Honor has 11 dismissed the affirmative defense in the past, but it is very 12 fact-intensive -- to assert the affirmative defense of 13 champerty, because some of these plaintiffs we learned in 14 subsequent evidence had bought in 2003 and then sued weeks
15 later.

16 THE COURT: I certainly want you to have your record.
17 The amendment will be permitted. You need to have your record.

18 MR. BOCCUZZI: Thank you, your Honor.

19 THE COURT: All right, Mr. Gleizer.

20 Before we get to Mr. Gleizer, there is an issue about 21 so-called Brady bonds. What is that?

22 MR. CHERNOV: Your Honor, certain of the plaintiffs
23 whom we represent bought bonds not just under the fiscal agency
24 agreement but under other agreements that also provide for 25 jurisdiction before this court. Those are euphemistically

33

1 known as "Brady bonds." There is another set known as "Yankee
2 bonds" that certain of the plaintiffs hold.

3 THE COURT: Are the instruments the same?

4 MR. CHERNOV: They have certain differences in them,
5 but for purposes of payment --

6 THE COURT: For our purposes.

7 MR. CHERNOV: For our purposes, it is exactly the 8 same. There is a complete waiver of immunity, a complete
9 waiver of jurisdiction.

10 THE COURT: Unconditional obligation?

11 MR. CHERNOV: Unconditional obligation. All those are 12 exactly the same, your Honor.

13 MR. BOCCUZZI: They lack the language that your Honor
14 referenced in terms of the depository would authorize 15 beneficial interest holders to sustain a suit.

16 THE COURT: I will grant the motions on all those 17 cases.

18 Now Mr. Gleizer. Well, I think we had better hear
19 from Cleary Gottlieb first, because Cleary Gottlieb asserts
20 that there are no grounds for this.

21 MR. BLACKMAN: Actually, your Honor, I think you ought 22 to really hear from counsel for the trustee and Correo, Ms.
23 Bolatti. We put in papers, but she in fact does represent the 24 person who does own this account, not the republic. I am happy
25 to speak to some of the other legal issues.

34

1 THE COURT: I will certainly do that.

2 MR. GLEIZER: I apologize, your Honor. Does Mr.
3 Dreier have an interest in this?

4 THE COURT: I am not trying to exclude anybody.

5 Please. I just used you as a shorthand.

6 MR. GLEIZER: But they are not in my motion.

7 THE COURT: What is your problem?

8 MR. GLEIZER: I don't know. They are sitting here.

9 THE COURT: There is plenty of room. There are four 10 empty seats at the front table.

11 MR. GLEIZER: Also, your Honor, they are trying to use
12 the work paid by my clients to obtain this, and they have done
13 no work, and they are trying to take credit and get the money
14 from my clients. They are not in this motion.

15 THE COURT: Maybe this will all be academic when we 16 get into the depth of the problem.

17 Your name, ma'am?

18 MS. BOLATTI: My name is Silvia Bolatti.

19 THE COURT: All right. You gave me a letter March 20 3rd.

21 MS. BOLATTI: I did, your Honor. Let me start by 22 saying that I represent Correo Argentino, who is the owner of 23 the accounts that have been restrained in New York. I also 24 represent --

25 THE COURT: Has an account or have accounts been 35

1 restrained?

2 MS. BOLATTI: Yes, your Honor.

3 THE COURT: Where are then restrained?

4 MS. BOLATTI: We are taking about the B&P bearer bond
5 account in New York and the Lehman account in Argentina. This 6 court has granted the plaintiffs in this case, Mr. Gleizer, an 7 ex parte permission to serve restraining orders on those 8 accounts. That occurred on February 13, 2004, your Honor.

9 That was granted based on the representations made by Mr.

10 Gleizer regarding the meaning of decrees issued by the 11 Argentine government and order issued by the Argentine court.

12 It is our position, your Honor, that the translations
13 that were submitted are inaccurate, they are incomplete, and 14 they fail to represent accurately the meaning of these

15 documents. The plain language of these documents establishes 16 that these accounts are and continue to be the sole ownership
17 of Correo Argentino.

18 THE COURT: What is Correo?

19 MS. BOLATTI: Correo, your Honor, is a concession that 20 was created in 1997 by public bid that was won by a private 21 company, and it basically runs the post office service in 22 Argentina. On November 19 -

23 THE COURT: You say it is a private company?

24 MS. BOLATTI: It is, your Honor.

25 THE COURT: Who owns the company?

1 MS. BOLATTI: The company is owned by three major
2 stockholders. One is Sedeco Argentina. The other is the 3 International Finance Corporation, and I believe Banco Belizia.

4 THE COURT: They are not branches of the Argentine
5 government?

6 MS. BOLATTI: Absolutely not, your Honor.

7 THE COURT: Go ahead.

8 MS. BOLATTI: We believe, your Honor, and we have 9 explained in detail in the declaration of legal counsel to the 10 trustee of Correo Argentino, Mr. Julio Rivera, that the 11 statements submitted by counsel are incorrect and inaccurately
12 state that somehow the rescission that the Argentine republic
13 has made of this concession to Correo which occurred by a

14 presidential decree on November 19, 2003, somehow this decree

15 reverted ownership of bank accounts, the bank accounts in New 16 York, to the government.

17 Also, Mr. Gleizer makes a representation that in fact

18 all of the assets of Correo have reverted to the government.

19 We submit, your Honor, this is absolutely false, untrue.

20 We have filed this motion this morning with your

21 Honor, a motion for excessive cost because of the vexatious

22 conduct of counsel. We are ready, your Honor, today to point

23 out, if I may just give you a couple of examples of the 24 seriousness of the inaccuracies that have been submitted to 25 this court which have caused my client to expend fees to appear

37

1 here today.

2 THE COURT: I think when Mr. Gleizer first came in and

3 presented material ex parte to me, he relied on a press report.

4 Did you not, Mr. Gleizer?

5 MR. GLEIZER: The first time, yes, your Honor. It was

6 supplemented by the concession agreement Article 26.

7 THE COURT: All right. Go ahead.

8 MS. BOLATTI: Your Honor, since Mr. Gleizer raises

9 Article 26, the first thing I would like to point out to the 10 Court is that plaintiff's counsel, on his February 19th

11 affidavit to the Court in support of his motion to confirm at 12 paragraph 3, states the following: "Concession agreement."

13 THE COURT: This is an affidavit?

14 MS. BOLATTI: Yes, your Honor. It is his translation
15 of Article 26.4 of the concession agreement. It is at Exhibit
16 K, I believe, to Dr. Julio Rivera's declaration.

17 THE COURT: What does he say?

18 MS. BOLATTI: Mr. Gleizer cites paragraph 26.4 and 19 says, "The concessionaire must take responsibility for payment
20 of all its assets and liabilities and under no circumstances
21 may transfer them to the concession grantor."

22 Then he concludes, "By Article 26 of the concession 23 agreement, the Republic of Argentina gets all of the assets and 24 none of the liabilities," implying to your Honor that Correo no
25 longer has any assets and the bank accounts in New York are now

38

1 the property of the republic.

2 But, your Honor, he omits to provide the Court with 3 the last portion of the same paragraph 26.4, which says,
4 "Concomitantly, the concessionaire will have the right to 5 collect all the credits in its favor accrued as of that date,"
6 speaking about the date of terms of the concession. This 7 means, your Honor, that it is not true that all of the assets
8 of Correo have been transferred to the republic. It is not 9 true that the bank accounts in New York are the -

10 THE COURT: What did happen between the republic and 11 Correo? What did happen? What is your version?

12 MS. BOLATTI: Your Honor, these are two parties that 13 entered into a contract. The republic and Correo entered into 14 a contract that was a concession. The government alleges that 15 Correo breached the contract, and Correo alleges also that it
16 is the government that has breached that contract.

17 What happened was that on November 19, 2003, the 18 government rescinded the concession, alleging in decree 1075
19 that counsel has cited that they are rescinding the concession 20 because Correo has failed to comply basically with its end of 21 the bargain.

22 What happened subsequently, your Honor, was that 23 certain assets reverted to the government, certain very 24 specific assets, their tangible assets, physical assets, that 25 were necessary in order to run the concession, because the 39

1 government has an interest in the continuity of the service
2 pending the reprivatization of the concession, your Honor. But
3 it is not true that all of the assets were transferred, and it
4 is not true that these bank accounts in any way have been 5 transferred to the government.

6 In fact, the government has made no allegation in any 7 of the decrees, in any of the resolutions, it has not taken a
8 position in Correo's insolvency proceeding in Argentina that it
9 is entitled or claims any ownership interest in these accounts.

10 THE COURT: Let me see if I understand. At some point

11 in the past the republic gave the concession to Correo to 12 handle the mail, right?

13 MS. BOLATTI: Yes, your Honor.

14 THE COURT: Last fall the government took the position

15 that it was going to rescind that concession or withdraw that 16 concession for various reasons.

17 MS. BOLATTI: Correct.

18 THE COURT: What you are saying is that certain assets

19 of Correo were taken simply to allow the republic to carry on 20 the postal service?

21 MS. BOLATTI: Yes, your Honor.

22 THE COURT: Such as maybe post offices and equipment

23 and that kind of thing, is that what you are telling me?

24 MS. BOLATTI: That is correct, your Honor. If I may 25 just add to that, that when the concession commenced, the 40

1 government gave certain assets to the company that existed with

2 the service at that time. The contract says those assets, if

3 the concession is rescinded, come back to the government.

4 THE COURT: What you are saying is that the government

5 has not seized all of the assets of Correo?

6 MS. BOLATTI: Yes, your Honor.

7 THE COURT: Particularly, the government has not

8 seized or appropriated the bank accounts we are talking about.

9 MS. BOLATTI: That's correct, your Honor. In 10 addition, they have not asserted in any of the decrees that 11 have been cited by counsel or in any decree that they are 12 entitled to those accounts. There is a very clear provision in 13 the concession agreement that says that Correo, upon 14 termination of the concession, yes, it is responsible for the 15 liabilities that accrued prior to the termination of the 16 concession, but it also has the right to continue to receive or 17 collect receivables that accrued prior to the date of 18 termination of the concession. So it would be illogical and it

19 doesn't make any sense to say that it has no assets left. That 20 is not the case.

21 THE COURT: How long did the concession last?

22 MS. BOLATTI: I believe six years, your Honor, 23 approximately.

24 THE COURT: So Correo did this business for six years?

25 MS. BOLATTI: That's right, your Honor.

41

1 THE COURT: Let's assume they earned some money, at 2 least they had some cash from their conduct of the business. I
3 guess what Mr. Gleizer asserted was that basically somebody had 4 appropriated the whole company, correct?

5 MS. BOLATTI: That's correct. It is incorrect, but 6 that is what he said.

7 THE COURT: That is what you say he said.

8 MS. BOLATTI: Correct.

9 THE COURT: I guess in the history of the world there
10 are times that a government has seized a company, right?

11 MS. BOLATTI: Yes.

12 THE COURT: You are saying that that did not occur
13 here.

14 MS. BOLATTI: That is correct, your Honor.

15 THE COURT: And the company is actually, what, in a
16 bankruptcy proceeding?

17 MS. BOLATTI: It is in an insolvency proceeding, which 18 is called "concorso" in Argentina.

19 THE COURT: In Argentina it is an insolvency
20 proceeding. It has some assets, right?

21 MS. BOLATTI: It has some assets, absolutely, your 22 Honor.

23 THE COURT: And it has some liabilities?

24 MS. BOLATTI: That is correct, your Honor.

25 THE COURT: The government of Argentina has not taken
42

1 over that whole situation; that situation is being handled in
2 the insolvency proceeding in Argentina?

3 MS. BOLATTI: Yes, your Honor. There is a bankruptcy
4 judge that is handling the issues of the assets and liabilities
5 and the claims from creditors. One very important thing to 6 point out to the Court, your Honor, is that Correo has appealed 7 the decree, the November 19th decree, 1075, that rescinds the 8 concession. So there is a possibility that Correo will

9 continue to run this operation in the future.

10 THE COURT: Didn't the insolvency judge prepare

11 something addressed to this Court?

12 MS. BOLATTI: Yes, your Honor, an exhorto, which is a

13 communication from his court clarifying (a) that the accounts

14 are of Correo's ownership and (b) that Correo continues to have

15 assets and liabilities that are subject to the oversight and 16 the supervision of the estate and of the Argentine bankruptcy

17 court.

18 THE COURT: I don't see, Mr. Gleizer, how you overcome

19 all that.

20 MR. GLEIZER: May I, your Honor?

21 THE COURT: Yes.

22 MR. GLEIZER: Your Honor, there is a concession

23 agreement. Unfortunately, to confuse the issues, counsel

24 starts by pointing to 26.4. Why not start by point 26.1, which

25 is where the Article 26 starts?

43

1 There is a concession agreement that gave to Correo

2 Argentino the possibility of exploiting Correo. It says when

3 this concession terminates, for any reason, and I quote from

4 Exhibit F of Correo Argentino's attorney --

5 THE COURT: Rivera's declaration?

6 MR. GLEIZER: Yes, your Honor. Excuse me, your Honor.

7 He is the attorney for the trustee, not for Correo Argentino.

8 THE COURT: Mr. Rivera's declaration?

9 MR. GLEIZER: Yes, sir.

10 THE COURT: You point to Exhibit F, as in Frank?

11 MR. GLEIZER: Exhibit F, yes, your Honor.

12 THE COURT: That is the concession agreement?

13 MR. GLEIZER: Yes, your Honor.

14 THE COURT: What part are you now referring to?

15 MR. GLEIZER: Article 26.

16 THE COURT: I have it.

17 MR. GLEIZER: It says that if the concession -- I have

18 my own translation which I believe is better, but I am using

19 the opposition's translation here. It says if the concession

20 is terminated, then the following consequences shall arise. It

21 says what will happen.

22 "26.1. On the expiry date of the concession period,

23 the concessionaire" -- that is Correo Argentino S.A., the 24 private company -- "must turn over the service to the grantor

25 with all assets pertaining thereto."

1 THE COURT: The question is, what are the assets

2 pertaining thereto?

3 MR. GLEIZER: Correct. That's right. Now it is all

4 assets.

5 THE COURT: It doesn't say all assets. It says all

6 assets pertaining thereto.

7 MR. GLEIZER: That's correct, your Honor. Pertaining 8 thereto to what? That is to the service to the grantor, the 9 service that they are providing, which is the provision of 10 mailing services.

11 So we go to the bylaws of this company to see what 12 does it do.

13 THE COURT: Where are the bylaws?

14 MR. GLEIZER: The bylaws, your Honor, are attached as 15 an exhibit to the declaration in Article 4 to the bylaws.

16 THE COURT: Where are the bylaws, what exhibit?

17 MR. GLEIZER: Exhibit E to the declaration, I believe,
18 your Honor. In the middle of the page, it says what is this 19 company. We notice two things, and I will get back to it,
20 number 3, the term of the company. The term of the company
21 will be 40 years, four-zero.

22 THE COURT: I don't see where you are reading.

23 MR. GLEIZER: Page 2 of Exhibit E.

24 THE COURT: I have page 2.

25 MR. GLEIZER: In the middle of the page, your Honor,
45

1 it says number 3 under line "Article 3: Term."

2 THE COURT: OK.

3 MR. GLEIZER: The term of the company will be 40 years
4 from its registration.

5 THE COURT: Right.

6 MR. GLEIZER: There is another paper that shows that 7 registration was the same day that the decree granted the 8 concession. Will be for 40 years.

9 THE COURT: What company is this?

10 MR. GLEIZER: Correo, Correo Argentino, S.A., which I
11 called CASA, C-A-S-A.

12 THE COURT: When was this charter promulgated?

13 MR. GLEIZER: The same day of the decree granting the 14 concession: August 25, I think, 1997.

15 THE COURT: What does this have to do with the 16 interpretation of Article 26.1 of the concession?

17 MR. GLEIZER: It has to do with the fact that it says
18 this is not a regular corporation that lasts forever. This is 19 a corporation that will last 40 years. Why is it 40 years? We 20 look at another exhibit I will find, the exhibit that shows 21 what are the terms and conditions of the bid under which they 22 won and they obtained the concession.

23 THE COURT: I don't see that you are leading anywhere
24 that has to do with what information Ms. Bolatti has provided.
25 I don't see that this is leading anywhere.

1 MR. GLEIZER: The company is for 40 years because the
2 concession was for 40 years. This is a company that at Article
3 4, the following article, says that it has one sole purpose,

4 one sole purpose by law. The purpose of the corporation is to 5 provide a basic universal postal service and the ancillary
6 services. It has no other purpose. And it lasts exactly for 7 the period of the concession. The only purpose it has is to 8 provide the basic universal postal service and the ancillary
9 services.

10 THE COURT: May I interrupt you. I do see where you
11 are going. You are arguing that the only purpose of this 12 corporation Correo is to provide the postal service. So you 13 are saying that assets pertaining thereto would be all the 14 assets, right?

15 MR. GLEIZER: That is one of the arguments, yes.

16 THE COURT: When you are talking about handing over 17 assets, it is a question of fact. It is not inevitable under 18 the language of paragraph 26.1 that the assets pertaining 19 thereto have to include all the cash of the company. It is not 20 inevitable.

21 It is a question of fact, it seems to me. Under 22 Article 26.1 the republic might have required these bank
23 accounts to be handed over or they might not. The question is 24 what did they do. It seems to me that that is not something to 25 be resolved by an interpretation of the corporate charter or

- 1 the articles of incorporation which say what you said they say;
- 2 it is to be determined as a matter of fact.

3 We have, it seems to me, a detailed body of 4 information that in fact these bank accounts were not turned 5 over. So I don't think that we can deal by implication. We 6 have to take the facts.

7 MR. GLEIZER: Your Honor, if I may?

8 THE COURT: And you have the judge in the insolvency
9 court, who certainly is familiar with what is going on in his 10 proceeding.

11 MR. GLEIZER: The insolvency judge, your Honor, tells 12 you -- and if you read the translation that the trustee has 13 presented, the insolvency judge does two things. He tells 14 you --

15 THE COURT: What exhibit is that now?

16 MR. GLEIZER: In Exhibit A, your Honor, if you can 17 find the translation. They have not put it on top, so it is 18 difficult to find. If I may, your Honor, in Exhibit A on page
19 1 of the translation, underlined in the original I guess, it 20 says -- this is what the judge is telling you with respect to 21 the situation: "It should be noted that such accounts do not
22 constitute attachable property of the Argentine republic
23 located in the United States."

24 He is very clear. According to him, his opinion is 25 that they are not attachable property, they are property of the

2 THE COURT: No, no, no.

3 MR. GLEIZER: If I may finish, your Honor.

4 THE COURT: Please. If all that he said was telling
5 me about how to apply New York law, that would be one thing.

6 But look at page 2. He says CASA -- CASA is a shorthand for 7 Correo -- CASA's bank accounts were not transferred to the 8 Argentine government. Certainly he must know that. That is 9 not an interpretation of New York law.

10 MR. GLEIZER: Your Honor, that's correct. The 11 accounts were not transferred. That is why we are trying to 12 move them. But they have to be transferred. If you notice,
13 the judge has already ordered two payments from these accounts,
14 one for $2.5 million and for $2.2 million. They have already 15 been transferred actually, if you want to talk fact, have 16 actually been transferred from the Lehman bank accounts, and 17 Lehman bank has provided the bank statements to the court and 18 to counsel, and they were provided.

19 If your Honor would like, I can give my copy. It 20 says, "On December 24th and on December 23rd the funds wired to 21 Banco Nacional Antilogorio Official Unidad Administrativa, that 22 is the administrative unit created by the president of 23 Argentina to administer the Argentinian assets. It was already 24 transferred.

25 This is not the only factual basis I have. The judge

1 in Argentina says the account names have not been transferred,
2 but the funds yes.

3 THE COURT: Just a minute. Those transfers --

4 MS. BOLATTI: Your Honor, may I?

5 THE COURT: This was not really sort of like an 6 appropriation by the government, I don't think.

7 MR. BLACKMAN: No, it was not.

8 MR. GLEIZER: May I, your Honor?

9 MR. BLACKMAN: It was a transfer to pay the wages of 10 Correo's employees. The reason the bankruptcy judge ordered it
11 in Argentina is that under Section 26.3 of the concession
12 agreement Correo is required to pay those wages and benefits up 13 to the time, that accrued up to the time of the handover of 14 service. That is why the bankruptcy judge ordered those 15 moneys.

16 THE COURT: Those payments were passed?

17 MR. BLACKMAN: Yes. These are wages before decree
18 1075 and the bankruptcy judge ordered them to be sent to 19 Argentina and the administrative unit which now is the employer
20 of those people since the handover, in turn used those moneys
21 to pay.

22 THE COURT: But before, past employee obligations.

23 MR. BLACKMAN: Exactly, your Honor. The money did not 24 go one penny to the Republic of Argentina.

25 THE COURT: For current operations?

1 MR. BLACKMAN: Absolutely not. Absolutely not. That
2 is what the bankruptcy judge said, that is what the trustee
3 said. It really is quite unseemly for Mr. Gleizer to --

4 THE COURT: Don't get into that.

5 MR. GLEIZER: If I may, your Honor. At this time I am
6 filing and serving the proof showing that it is untrue,
7 absolutely untrue, that those moneys went to pay past salaries.
8 In the documents, it is difficult to see because you have to go
9 step by step. I am filing something for the Court to look at 10 and for counsel to see.

11 Maybe, there is a possibility that 70, 75 percent of 12 the 4.7 million were used for salaries. But there is the 13 certainty that between 20 and 25 percent of the 4.7 million
14 went for future salaries.

15 THE COURT: The 4.7 million is the total amount in the 16 account or what?

17 MR. GLEIZER: No. The part they already took out, 2.5
18 plus 2.2.

19 Your Honor, if you allow me for a second to try to 20 paint the big picture here. What happened was this. Correo
21 Argentino, S.A. went into bankruptcy in 2001, over one year
22 before the rescission of this money, went into the bankruptcy
23 proceeding. They were in the bankruptcy proceeding. The whole
24 bankruptcy proceeding thing, there is the trustee, there is

25 Correo Argentino, S.A., and there is the administrative unit in 51

1 front of the Argentinian judge.

2 They are doing like anybody anywhere else does, deals,

3 they are making deals. Yes, it says here we will give you

4 everything. But wait with those accounts in New York. Wait

5 with those accounts in New York. These are big amounts of 6 money, like $11 million.

7 THE COURT: How much did you tie up?

8 MR. GLEIZER: $11 million, approximately. 9.5 in

9 Lehman Brothers and 1.5 in Paribas.

10 They make deals. They make deals. Give me the money

11 now, wait a little bit, we are going up on appeal. Factually,

12 as your Honor says, my opinion is that this whole bankruptcy

13 proceeding has nothing to tell you.

14 However, the judge in the bankruptcy proceeding is

15 constantly saying – and there is an argument, and I will show

16 you what Black's Law Dictionary says, that shows that the judge

17 in the bankruptcy proceeding has consistently held,

18 consistently held, Correo Argentino, S.A. has no assets.

19 Notably, on February 11, when, as counsel was saying,

20 the appellate court reversed and put it back in the liquidation

21 system, CASA appeared before the judge and told the judge,

22 well, Judge, now we are back in business, we don't have

23 anything except those $11 million in New York, give them back

24 to me.

25 What did this judge say in the February 11 decision
52

1 which is attached to the papers? What did the judge say? Yes,
2 you are sent back, but you have no assets. And it says in 3 black and white --

4 THE COURT: Who said you have no assets?

5 MR. GLEIZER: The judge, the judge that sent you this 6 letter. You have no assets.

7 The judge is very careful, Judge Favier Dubois is very
8 careful to tell you that the accounts are in Correo Argentino, 9 S.A.'s name. That is true. We are not disputing that. But he 10 tells you this is not nonattachable property of Argentina.

11 Why is it nonattachable? He agrees this is property
12 of Argentina. But why is it nonattachable?

13 THE COURT: Where does he agree that it is property of 14 Argentina?

15 MR. GLEIZER: In the underlying part, your Honor, of 16 his letter, in the translation Exhibit A, he says --

17 MS. BOLATTI: Your Honor, all that says is they do not 18 constitute property of Argentina.

19 MR. GLEIZER: Read it, your Honor. "These said
20 accounts do not constitute attachable" --

21 THE COURT: Where are you reading?

22 MR. GLEIZER: Page 1 of attached Exhibit A in the 23 translation, your Honor.

24 THE COURT: We have seen that before.

25 MR. GLEIZER: Yes.

53

1 THE COURT: It says it is not attachable property.

2 That is not a meaningful statement, because that is up to me to

3 decide under New York law. I thought you were saying that the 4 insolvency judge said several times that Correo has no assets.

5 MR. GLEIZER: Yes, your Honor.

6 THE COURT: Did he ever say that the bank accounts up

7 here are the property of the republic?

8 MR. GLEIZER: I believe that by implication he said

9 it, because in two opportunities he took the money, and at 10 least 25 percent of that money was used to pay salaries for the 11 future.

12 MS. BOLATTI: Your Honor, may I respond?

13 THE COURT: One at a time. How do we know it is for 14 the future?

15 MR. GLEIZER: I just served it and I am filing with 16 the Court. You have to look at these things, at several 17 exhibits at the same time. It is a long process. Basically,

18 what it is is --

19 MR. BLACKMAN: This is no evidence. This is another

20 declaration of Mr. Gleizer. There is not a single new 21 document.

22 MR. GLEIZER: But I tell you how to look. The 23 bankruptcy was in place from two years before the rescission.
24 On those two years or one year, they were trying to make deals.
25 What happened was in November 16, 2003, I believe, the judge
54

1 said, OK, full bankruptcy, you have no assets. Excuse me.
2 December 16, 2003, no assets. They used an old Spanish word
3 which Black's Law Dictionary defines as the full estate, that 4 is the assets. The full estate it says, Black's Law
5 Dictionary.

6 THE COURT: The full estate what?

7 MR. GLEIZER: Of Correo's, there is no more. It has 8 no estate. Correo has nothing, no tangible assets and no
9 intangible assets. That is on December 16, I believe.

10 THE COURT: Where does he say that?

11 MR. GLEIZER: In his declaration, in one of his orders
12 of December 16.

13 THE COURT: Is that before me? Is that part of the 14 record here?

15 MR. GLEIZER: It is, your Honor. One of the places,
16 for example, is Exhibit J.

17 THE COURT: Exhibit J. Where does it say --

18 MR. GLEIZER: In paragraph 2, the translation for the 19 attorney for the trustee says, currently, the entity in 20 concorso, that is the word he uses for this stage of the 21 bankruptcy proceeding, lacks "hacienda." And the judge tells 22 us what "hacienda" means.

23 MR. BLACKMAN: Your Honor, could he please read the 24 rest that have sentence?

25 MR. GLEIZER: Let me finish, please. Lacks hacienda.
55

1 That is the tangible and intangible assets organized for the 2 exploitation of the enterprise. Lacks them. It has no
3 tangible and no intangible. What other assets can there be?
4 Tangible and intangible. There is no more assets. Lacks them.
5 There is no assets in CASA since December 16, 2003.

6 It is on that basis, your Honor, that the judge tells 7 you that the only reason that these are not attachable assets
8 of Argentina -- because he says the only reason is CASA is the 9 account holder in the name. That is for sure. Otherwise,
10 there is no need to be here.

11 He says the only reason that Mr. Gleizer cannot attach 12 for his clients is that I ordered it before Judge Griesa,
13 ordered it, and Gleizer notified, that is, physically
14 restrained the goods. The only reason that Judge Favier gives,
15 your Honor, is that: That he issued the order for the freeze
16 of the assets. And this may be so.

17 My argument is that, yes, you ordered it before Judge
18 Griesa but you didn't garnish, you didn't notify the parties,
19 you didn't notify the holders of that property. The Court can

20 see that he did not notify, because CASA doesn't present any 21 evidence that there was notification actually. Because the 22 order says that the trustee, her client, the trustee had to do
23 the notification, so that the attachment --

24 THE COURT: Can I interrupt. I can see the 25 possibility, we can all see the possibility, of the republic

56

1 wanting the $11 million if this is money that the republic
2 could seize or require to be transferred, if the republic would
3 like to have it to help run the postal service. It doesn't 4 take too much imagination to realize that the republic might 5 take that money or might require the transfer of that money. I
6 imagine under the concession agreement paragraph 26.1 the 7 republic could require that. But the representation to this 8 Court by Mr. Rivera and what has been stated by the judge in 9 that insolvency, it seems to me that is really what Ms. Bolatti
10 is saying.

11 There may be a hidden agenda here. Maybe there is a 12 credibility problem. I don't know. I don't know. And I hope
13 the Argentine press does not quote me as saying there is a 14 credibility problem, but that is really what you are trying to 15 say.

16 So it is possible. But it is also possible that the 17 Republic of Argentina would leave some assets in Correo. There
18 are undoubtedly creditors of Correo. If Correo is insolvent,

19 what the republic might very well do is to take things like
20 post offices, equipment at post offices, trucks, mailbags,
21 stamps, all of those things which are necessary to continue the 22 running of the postal service.

23 But the republic might very well decide, we are not 24 going to simply strip it to the bone of all its assets, because 25 this company has been in business, it has creditors, it has

57

1 stockholders, and we want to interpret paragraph 26.1 of the 2 concession agreement maybe a little more narrowly rather than a
3 little more broadly, and we are going to take what we feel is 4 necessary to run the postal service, and we don't need to take
5 every dollar of cash, we are going to leave some assets there
6 to be handled in the insolvency to help pay creditors, and so
7 forth.

8 That is a completely logical way to approach things,
9 and that is what the judge basically has said. Not in those 10 words, but that is the essence of what emerges from the judge's
11 statement. That is what Mr. Rivera has said. That is what Ms.
12 Bolatti has said.

13 Am I characterizing your presentation correctly?

14 MS. BOLATTI: That is correct, your Honor, yes.

15 THE COURT: Am I going to continue to tie up the $11
16 million which is tied up on the basis of what I think is not 17 much more than a possibility that you have shown? Tying up

18 money is a very serious thing for a court to do.

19 MS. BOLATTI: Your Honor, may I add something?

20 MR. GLEIZER: May I say something?

21 THE COURT: Everybody, yes.

22 MS. BOLATTI: Your Honor, just to go back to Exhibit

23 A, which is the exhorto or the communication of the Argentine

24 court, I just want to clarify for the Court that Judge Favier

25 Dubois says to this court such accounts are private property of 58

1 CASA, not transferred to the government, on the date of

2 November 19, 2003, the date on which he took over and regained

3 control of the official postal service.

4 On the next page, your Honor, where it speaks about

5 resolution 32, which has been quoted by Mr. Gleizer as

6 transferring all of the assets --

7 THE COURT: Let me look at the translation. Where are 8 you reading now?

9 MS. BOLATTI: I am at Exhibit A to the Rivera

10 declaration, on the second page of the English. You have to go

11 a little bit back to find the English text.

12 THE COURT: Yes, I'm there.

13 MS. BOLATTI: It has a little (a) on the left

14 paragraph margin. It is all the way up by the Velobind, your

15 Honor.

16 MR. GLEIZER: What exhibit is this now?

17 MS. BOLATTI: We are talking about Exhibit A.

18 THE COURT: Exhibit A, I have it. Where in the 19 Exhibit A?

20 MS. BOLATTI: It is in the second page of the English
21 translation. There is a little (a) on the margin. Judge
22 Favier Dubois says to this court, your Honor, that such 23 accounts are the private property of CASA, not transferred to 24 the government on November 10, 2003 -- I think he means
25 November 19th -- the date on which it took over and regained

59

1 control of the official postal service. It is accurate, your
2 Honor, that the only thing the government took back were the 3 physical assets to run the service.

4 THE COURT: You referred to some decree, 32 or 5 something?

6 MS. BOLATTI: That is on the next page, your Honor. I
7 am saying that if you turn to --

8 THE COURT: Resolution number 32.

9 MS. BOLATTI: That's right. I think Mr. Gleizer had 10 cited that at the February 17th hearing as evidence that all of 11 the assets were transferred to the government. That is 12 absolutely not so. In fact, the judge says, resolution number
13 2 of the Argentine communications department was issued 14 recently, on February 12, 2004. This resolution acknowledges 15 the investments made by former concessionaire, the former

16 concessionaire of the post office service Correo Argentino.

17 "Under the terms of paragraph 6.4 of the concession

18 contract, in respect to the period from December 1, 1998, to 19 November 19, 2003, the concession contract was terminated and 20 the property incorporated into government domain was

21 identified: Software, hardware, office supplies, land,

22 building, and machinery. Such property does not include the 23 debtor's bank accounts."

24 One last thing, your Honor, that I would like to add,

25 which is that there is nothing in the concession agreement that

60

1 would allow the government to assert a right over these bank

2 accounts. That is the reason that the government has not

3 asserted a right over the bank accounts in its own decrees, in 4 the resolutions, or in any other document.

5 One last thing, your Honor. The court in Argentina,

6 the payments that were made from these New York accounts were

7 made strictly with the authority of the Argentine Judge Favier

8 Dubois in the insolvency proceeding. That means that Judge

9 Favier Dubois believes these accounts to be assets of the 10 estate and not of the republic.

11 MR. GLEIZER: If I may?

12 THE COURT: The $11 million that you mentioned, does

13 that remain after payment of the 4.5 or 4.7? What was it?

14 MR. GLEIZER: Yes, your Honor.

15 THE COURT: 4 point what?

16 MR. GLEIZER: 4.7.

17 THE COURT: Ms. Bolatti, has the insolvency judge ever
18 dealt with his proceeding on the basis of there being no assets
19 of Correo? That is one of the things that Mr. Gleizer speaks 20 of.

21 MS. BOLATTI: It is absolutely wrong, your Honor.

22 That is not the case. I believe that the confusion that Mr.
23 Gleizer has is his interpretation of the word "hacienda." The 24 word "hacienda," I have a translation here if you would like,
25 your Honor, of the context in which that word is used. It is a

61

1 word used by doctrine in Argentina. It does not mean assets.

2 Basically, what it means is that because the 3 government rescinded the concession agreement and basically
4 took away the license to operate the post office. It has no
5 ability, it is not an ongoing concern, and it no longer
6 provides the postal service.

7 The exact translation, your Honor, of the December 16
8 resolution of the Argentine court that uses that term says, and 9 this is an English translation attached to Dr. Rivera's
10 declaration, "As a consequence of the administrative 11 disempowerment following the rescission of the concession,
12 currently the entity in concorso lacks hacienda, that is, the 13 tangible and intangible assets organized toward the 14 exploitation of the enterprise." That doesn't mean it has no 15 assets. It means it lacks the ability to continue to provide 16 the service, your Honor.

17 MR. GLEIZER: In fact, your Honor, the judge on 18 February 11, and I have it here, translation by Dr. Rivera,
19 Exhibit O, on February 11, 2004, by Judge Favier Dubois on page 20 2 of the translation, your Honor, page 2 in I believe it is the 21 third paragraph, "Consequently" -- this is returning from the 22 Appellate Division, so the judge says -- "the letter has been 23 temporarily returned to the situation of interim bankruptcy
24 proceeding, but with the following particular conditions."

25 I go now to (c), the condition number (c) or letter
62

1 (c). In English translated by Mr. Rivera it says, "It is 2 lacking a business, since all assets and personnel were 3 transferred to the national state." And of course the only
4 residual activity is accounts payable and receivable.

5 MR. BLACKMAN: Which is what we are talking about
6 here.

7 THE COURT: But he goes on -- what is this document,
8 Mr. Gleizer?

9 MR. GLEIZER: This is Judge Favier Dubois setting the 10 terms once the case came back a few weeks, three weeks ago.

11 THE COURT: It is the same judge?

12 MR. GLEIZER: Yes. Your Honor, if I may --

13 THE COURT: Wait a minute. He was doing what?

14 MR. GLEIZER: The case went up on appeal.

15 THE COURT: Correo objected to being put in 16 bankruptcy, right?

17 MR. GLEIZER: No. CASA went into bankruptcy two years
18 ago.

19 THE COURT: Voluntarily?

20 MR. GLEIZER: I don't know.

21 MR. BLACKMAN: Your Honor, if I could help. The 22 concorso proceeding is a Chapter 11, in effect. That began

23 several years ago. After the government withdrew the 24 concession, the judge said this entity can't reorganize, it is

25 not a going concern anymore, and he threw it into what we would

63

1 call Chapter 7.

2 Correo appealed and said, no, we still think we should

3 be allowed to reorganize. The appellate court agreed and

4 reversed and it sent it back. This is a decision actually on

5 an application by Correo to say, well, now we want to use these

6 moneys in New York.

7 What the judge says here is you still lack a business,

8 a hacienda, because you are not a going concern, and your only

9 residual activity is pending accounts, i.e., these accounts.

10 Two paragraphs down, "Indeed, the debtor possesses sufficient

11 funds in the accounts open in different banking institutions to 12 attend to its residual activity."

13 The point is this is an entity that is not doing a lot

14 but it still has assets. That is what all of these documents

15 say in different ways. That is what the bankruptcy judge says.

16 This is what Mr. Rivera says. And Mr. Gleizer just doesn't

17 want to accept reality.

18 THE COURT: My eye drifted to the lower part of the 19 page, and I saw that paragraph. You are right, there is this 20 statement "is lacking a business since all assets were 21 transferred." But it goes about two paragraphs on and says

22 exactly what Mr. Blackman reads. We can all read it. "Indeed,

23 the debtor possesses sufficient funds in the accounts open in 24 different banking institutions in this country to attend to its 25 residual activity," and so forth and so on.

64

1 MR. BLACKMAN: Maybe you could look at the next-to-

2 last paragraph.

3 THE COURT: I know you said it, but I sometimes have

4 to ask, the appeal was from what?

5 MR. BLACKMAN: The appeal was from the decision to put

6 them into bankruptcy.

7 THE COURT: And not allow them to reorganize?

8 MR. BLACKMAN: Right.

9 THE COURT: The appellate court said they have a right

10 to reorganize?

11 MR. BLACKMAN: The appellate court sent it back on 12 what we would say is a remand.

13 MS. BOLATTI: In the interim, your Honor, Correo
14 continues to be in possession of the assets. That is the 15 difference between insolvency proceedings. It continues to be 16 in possession of the assets.

17 Also on the same page, if you read lower down, it 18 says, "in addition to this," and cites that it is important to 19 preserve such an important bankruptcy asset, speaking about the 20 New York account it can possibly use but it is not in the 21 creditor's interest. I am reading right below the "indeed"
22 that you just read before, your Honor.

23 So we are in the same exhibit, reading just the next 24 paragraph down. It refers to these accounts and the fact that 25 it is appropriate to preserve them, to preserve such important
65

1 bankruptcy assets from a possible use that is not in the 2 creditors' interest.

3 This is in response to Correo's application to have 4 use of the accounts in New York, and the court is saying you
5 have bank accounts also in Argentina, you should be able to use
6 the money in Argentina, and for the time being I am going to 7 preserve these funds in the New York account.

8 THE COURT: The way I interpret this document, the 9 insolvency judge has blocked the use of the New York accounts.

10 MS. BOLATTI: That is absolutely correct, your Honor.

11 He blocked the accounts by virtue of two court orders, on

12 December 19th, and again he confirmed that on December 22nd,

13 for the benefit of the asset. It is an asset for the benefit

14 of the asset, an asset of Correo.

15 THE COURT: I just don't see how, Mr. Gleizer, I can 16 rely on that one phrase "it is lacking a business since all

17 assets were transferred." That one phrase has to be taken in 18 the context of the rest of the document.

19 MR. GLEIZER: Your Honor, that is not what I want to 20 rely on at all. Let's do one experiment. The court in the 21 order to show cause directed Argentina to stand up and say do

22 you claim that you own these $11 million or there is no claim,

23 you give up claims to this $11 million? Is it like Judge

24 Favier says these are your assets but I don't think they are 25 attachable because I ordered? There was an order, but the 66

1 judge ordered to stop the funds in Argentina, not to stop the

2 funds in New York and the funds happened to be in New York.

3 That is a different story.

4 But what Argentina is not telling this court, your

5 Honor, is that, yes, in effect they want to use this $11

6 million that belong to people, to these creditors that are

7 suing before you, and that they will claim them from Judge

8 Favier in Buenos Aires as they have already, and they have been

9 used, the 4.7 million have already been taken.

10 THE COURT: Are you saying that you believe that the 11 Republic of Argentina has already claimed ownership of these 12 funds?

13 MR. GLEIZER: Your Honor, if you notice on this letter
14 which was written of February 23rd that we are reading, Exhibit
15 A, if you notice who went there? Did the administrative unit
16 go? Did the unit created by the government go and tell the 17 judge this? No. He went the Attorney General of Argentina,
18 not the party in this bankruptcy, but the Attorney General.

19 THE COURT: Where does it say the Attorney General
20 went?

21 MR. GLEIZER: On page 1 of the translation, Roman 22 numeral II in the first page of the translation in Exhibit A.
23 Exhibit A, Roman numeral II.

24 THE COURT: You are saying that I should draw an 25 inference from the presence of what is called the treasury

67

1 general attorney's office?

2 MR. GLEIZER: It says, "in light of the request made
3 by the treasury general attorney." That is the Attorney
4 General.

5 THE COURT: It says in "the preceding brief." I don't 6 think the preceding brief is before me, is it?

7 MR. GLEIZER: No. That is one of the little stories

8 that they are not telling you what is going on behind the 9 scenes, your Honor. Let Argentina stand up now and say we have 10 no interest in the funds.

11 MR. BLACKMAN: We have no interest in the funds. We 12 have never had any interest in the funds. Our brief makes that 13 quite clear that we have no interest in this account or in 14 these funds, period, full stop.

15 MS. BOLATTI: Your Honor, we contest any interest of 16 the republic in these funds. These funds are the ownership of 17 my client until a court in Argentina determines otherwise. And 18 we have contested claims of the republic. We are appealing
19 their decree.

20 THE COURT: You are appealing what decree?

21 MS. BOLATTI: The decree that rescinds the concession,
22 your Honor, is being appealed by my client. So we contest any 23 claim that the republic may have to these funds. We are 24 contesting them presently in Argentina, your Honor.

25 MR. GLEIZER: Should there be a factual issue, your 68

1 Honor, the account in Paribas has at least something that we
2 can trace. I mean we would need the discovery, $750,000 paid
3 by UPU. UPU is the Universal Postal Union, Universal Postal 4 Union.

5 In Annex 1 of resolution number 32 it says the 6 financial contributions of UPU are transferred from Correo

7 Argentino S.A. to the administrative unit. Of the $1.5 million
8 approximately in Paribas, and this $750,000 explicitly, this is 9 not all assets, these are the assets that are being transferred 10 now. I request that Ms. Bolatti check if it is not true that 11 it says addendum 1, the financial payments of UPU are 12 transferred to the administrative unit.

13 THE COURT: What is the administrative unit? The 14 government?

15 MR. GLEIZER: The government created, by the 16 rescission decree, the administrative unit to administer, and 17 it says, to administer all assets.

18 MS. BOLATTI: Your Honor, I believe Mr. Gleizer's
19 statements are just inconsistent with the plain language of 20 this document. If you look at resolution 32, the only thing it
21 says is we need to identify which assets were purchased by the 22 concessionaire with a minimum annual investment requirement
23 made under paragraph, I believe, 6.4 of the concession 24 agreement. It lists them. It has an Annex 1 and it has an 25 Annex 2. All of the assets are physical assets.

69

1 Any UPU investments that were made are specifically
2 excluded by the government, and the government says we do not
3 recognize any assets purchased with the UPU contribution to be 4 included. If you look at Annex 1 and 2, it deducts those 5 amounts from the recognized minimum investments that revert

6 back to the estate. We are talking about physical assets, your 7 Honor.

8 I think if Mr. Gleizer reads that document completely,
9 he will agree with us.

10 MR. GLEIZER: Let's read it, your Honor. Page 2
11 says --

12 THE COURT: Of what?

13 MR. GLEIZER: Of what counsel is looking at, Exhibit
14 L

15 THE COURT: Exhibit I?

16 MS. BOLATTI: Yes.

17 MR. GLEIZER: Page the 2.

18 THE COURT: OK.

19 MR. GLEIZER: According to the terms of point 70, 26, 20 and --

21 THE COURT: Where are you reading, please?

22 MR. GLEIZER: Two paragraphs from the bottom.

23 "According to the terms of point 70, 26, and similar of the 24 concession agreement signed between the ex-concessionaire

25 Correo Argentino S.A. and the national state, all the goods

70

1 acquired by the concessionaire and recognized as an investment
2 are to revert to the national state."

3 MS. BOLATTI: At the same page, your Honor --

4 MR. GLEIZER: Let me finish, please.

5 MS. BOLATTI: I'm sorry.

6 MR. GLEIZER: And one of the assets are there are

7 physical assets in Addendum 1 that were recognized as

8 investment that revert to Argentina, there are these physical 9 assets.

10 THE COURT: Was there an Addendum 1?

11 MR. GLEIZER: Yes, at page 4, your Honor.

12 MR. BLACKMAN: Addendum 1 shows the UPU amount as a 13 deduction.

14 THE COURT: I'm not following you.

15 MR. BLACKMAN: What this decree is supposed to do is 16 to identify what assets are being taken over.

17 MR. GLEIZER: Right.

18 THE COURT: Taken over from Correo?

19 MR. BLACKMAN: From Correo by the government.

20 Addendum 1 has a minus sign in front of the UPU amount. In 21 other words, deducted from the assets that are being taken over 22 is the UPU amount. The UPU amount is not taken over. And the 23 details of that minus $1,039,000 are set forth in Addendum 2, 24 which says detailed own investment sums and those provided by 25 the quality service fund, a dependent entity of the Universal

1 Postal Union, and it adds up the CASA investment, and then it
2 adds up the UPU investment.

3 The UPU investment, if you go back to Addendum 1, is

4 in what is deducted. You get the total of 46 million, which is

5 the investment of CASA that is being taken over.

6 This document shows exactly the opposite of what Mr.

7 Gleizer is contending. What he does here, your Honor, with all

8 respect to him, is just to pull things out of context and cause

9 all of us to be spending a lot of time on something that really

10 is quite straightforward on the declaration of Rivera and the 11 bankruptcy judge's decree.

12 MR. GLEIZER: In Addendum I they separate what is 13 recognized and not recognized. But it says all these sums pass

14 to the national state. Your Honor, I get very nervous when I

15 am personally attacked. The concession at 26.1 says all

16 assets.

17 THE COURT: I don't think there is a personal attack.

18 There are issues here. You are raising issues, they are 19 raising issues. What is UPU again?

20 MR. BLACKMAN: Universal Postal Union.

21 MR. GLEIZER: Your Honor, I am asking if your Honor

22 allows me to -- I spoke with both banks. Of course they are

23 banks. They don't like to give out information. But if there

24 is a specific order saying who put the money here, you will see

25 that these are all payments pertaining to the service of postal

1 service. It is all payments from Germany to Argentina, the

2 German private company to the Argentino Correo, payments from

3 UPU. That is what they are. They are all pertaining to 4 services.

5 THE COURT: Are you talking payments to Correo or 6 payments by Correo?

7 MR. GLEIZER: To Correo, because it is money that came 8 in. It is money that came in for service provided, and that is 9 exactly what --

10 THE COURT: Obviously, some money came in to make up
11 the $11.1 million. The question is who owns it now that it is 12 in and there. I thought the issue we started out with and the 13 issue we have to end with is -- I didn't think there was any 14 question about the fact that Correo owned the money.

15 MR. GLEIZER: No. Correo is the title holder.

16 Argentina owns the money. The judge says so.

17 THE COURT: Wait a minute. Did the UPU at some point
18 pay Correo something?

19 MR. GLEIZER: Sure, all the time.

20 THE COURT: What did they pay them for?

21 MR. GLEIZER: I don't know. Correo provides postal 22 services. UPU, I understand, is like an international 23 clearinghouse, and also it promotes undeveloped countries'
24 postal service.

25 THE COURT: We have to draw this to a close. The 73

1 reason I have sat here is that Argentina is a foreign country.

2 Information about what goes on in Argentina is not as easy to 3 obtain or even understand as things that would happen in the 4 United States.

5 There is a substantial amount of money which has been 6 frozen. It is quite obvious that we have bondholders who are 7 suing to recover on defaulted bonds. Some of them have won
8 summary judgment motions, they have judgments. They were 9 entitled to those judgments. They undoubtedly will have a 10 great deal of difficulty enforcing those judgments. There is 11 as of this time no overall debt workout to take care of any 12 bondholders, whether they are suing or not.

13 We have a company Correo which has some relationship
14 with the Argentine government, and Correo has bank accounts at 15 Paribas and Lehman holding 11.1 million. If that money is 16 legitimately available to satisfy what will undoubtedly be a
17 tiny, tiny fraction of the bond liability of the Argentine 18 government on judgments, then this Court does not want to see
19 that vanish. At the same time, if it is not available
20 lawfully, then this Court must not hold up that money.

21 The facts that have been presented here today, both in 22 documents and in argument, are strongly in favor of what Ms.
23 Bolatti has presented. I have to say, however, that I am not 24 completely satisfied that there isn't something else in the 25 picture that does not meet the eye.

1 If those funds are released and if as time goes on it
2 appears that somehow the republic gets those funds, then that
3 will be a deprivation of justice to these judgment creditors
4 and it is perfectly conceivable that that will happen. I will 5 not release those funds unless I have some security or some 6 assurance that if that happens, those funds will be returned.
7 I want the parties to consider that, and I am adjourning the 8 hearing for that to be considered. I am not granting any 9 motion today, and I will not grant any motion to have Correo
10 obtain costs. The hearing is adjourned. Thank you.

04 Civ. 6594 (TPG)

OPINION

Plaintiffs,

- against -

THE REPUBLIC OF ARGENTINA,

Defendant.

-x-

Plaintiffs are the beneficial owners of certain bond indebtedness issued by defendant The Republic of Argentina. The Republic defaulted on such indebtedness in December 2001 during a profound fiscal crisis. Plaintiffs are suing to recover amounts due to them as a result of the default and have moved for summary judgment. Plaintiffs also move to strike certain discovery requests made by the Republic.

The motion for summary judgment is denied. The motion to strike is granted.

FACTS

The bond indebtedness at issue is governed by a Fiscal Agency Agreement dated October 19, 1994 (the "1994 FAA").¹ The 1994 FAA is the same agreement that governed the bond indebtedness on which this court granted summary judgment to the plaintiffs in Lightwater Corporation Ltd. v. Republic of Argentina, No. 02 Civ. 3804, 2003 WL 1878420 (S.D.N.Y. Apr. 14, 2003). Section 22 of the 1994 FAA states that the Republic waives sovereign immunity and consents to jurisdiction in any state or federal court in the borough of Manhattan in the City of New York. The 1994 FAA provides that the Republic's obligations on the bonds are unconditional and that failure to make any payment of principal or interest for 30 days after the applicable payment date constitutes an event of default. A declaration by the Republic of a moratorium on the payment of principal or interest on its public external indebtedness is an event of default as well. Paragraph 12 of the FAA provides for acceleration of principal if there is a failure to pay interest or a moratorium. If either of these events occurs,

each holder of Securities and such Series may by such notice in writing declare the principal amount of Securities of such Series held by it to be due and payable immediately

¹ Some plaintiffs hold beneficial interests in bonds governed by a Fiscal Agency Agreement dated December 10, 1993 ("1993 FAA"). As explained in earlier decisions, the relevant provisions of the 1993 FAA for this opinion are functionally equivalent to those in the 1994 FAA. See, e.g., Greylock Global Distressed Debt Master Fund v. Republic of Argentina, No. 05 Civ. 4246, 2006 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 6476 (S.D.N.Y. Feb. 17, 2006).

On December 24, 2001 the Republic declared a moratorium on payments of principal and interest on the external debt of the Republic. The court refers to its previous opinions for a description of the circumstances of these defaults. Lightwater, 2003 WL 1878420, at *2; Applestein v. Republic of Argentina, No. 02 Civ. 1773, 2003 WL 1990206, at *1 (S.D.N.Y. Apr. 29, 2003). On August 10, 2004, plaintiffs individually sent notices to Bankers Trust Company, the Fiscal Agent of The Republic of Argentina, declaring the principal amounts of the debt securities held by plaintiff to be immediately due and payable.

The bonds that are the subject of this action are listed hereafter. Also listed are the amounts of the beneficial interests owned by plaintiffs.²

The following tables contain the necessary identifying information regarding each plaintiff's beneficial interests in bonds.

² The court notes the distinction between bonds and beneficial interests. In some previous opinions, the court has simply referred to the plaintiffs as owners of "bonds," when in fact plaintiffs are technically owners of "beneficial interests in bonds." The Republic actually issues "a bond" to a depository. The depository, in some form, issues "participations" to brokers, who sell "beneficial interests" to purchasers. These beneficial interests are identified by reference to the underlying bond (CUSIP or ISIN number or both; date of issuance and maturity; rate of interest) and the principal amount of the beneficial interest. This distinction is discussed more fully in Million Air Corp. v. Republic of Argentina, No. 04 Civ. 1048, 2005 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 23904 (S.D.N.Y. Oct. 17, 2005).

DISCUSSION

This Court has already granted summary judgment in other cases to plaintiffs seeking to collect on the Republic's defaulted bonds issued under the 1993 FAA and those issued under the 1994 FAA. This has occurred in Lightwater, supra, and other cases. Only certain specific issues need to be discussed in connection with the present motion.

Acceleration of Principal

As noted in the tables above, plaintiffs have properly accelerated the principal on their beneficial interests.

Standing and Proof of Ownership

In the two opinions in Fontana v. Republic of Argentina, 415 F.3d 238 (2d Cir. 2005), and Applestein v. Province of Buenos Aires, 415 F.3d 242 (2d Cir. 2005), the Second Circuit has held that an owner of a beneficial interest, such as the plaintiffs here, must receive authorization from the registered holder of the bond before it may sue, but that such authorization may be granted subsequent to the filing of a lawsuit. Alternatively, the Republic may waive the authorization requirement.

At a hearing on September 28, 2005, the court engaged the Republic in a discussion of what it would proof it would require before agreeing to waive the authorization requirement. See Transcript, Sept. 28, 2005, H.W. Urban GmbH

v. Republic of Argentina (02 Civ. 5699). The result of that hearing was an agreement that the Republic will waive such objections on two conditions. The first condition is that the plaintiff must provide proof of current ownership. Id. The second condition has to do more precisely with the time of ownership. The plaintiff must furnish proof of when the purchase occurred, or if such purchase occurred before the default date of December 24, 2001, proof of ownership as of the default date is sufficient. Id. Since the Republic would not owe unpaid interest to a plaintiff for periods of time after the default when that plaintiff did not own the beneficial interests, this second condition allows the Republic to determine the precise date when a plaintiff holder's right to receive interest began.

Here, plaintiffs have supplied proof of current ownership. The account statements of March, April and May 2005 are sufficient for this. But none of the plaintiffs has adequately demonstrated when they acquired their beneficial interests or that they owned the interests as of December 24, 2001. Thus they have not fully met the Republic's conditions for waiving its objection to standing.

Discovery Requests

Plaintiffs also move to strike discovery requests made by the Republic associated with a potential champerty defense. For the reasons stated in Mazzini v. Republic of Argentina, No. 03 Civ. 8120, 2005 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 5692 at *27-*28 (S.D.N.Y. Mar. 31, 2005), the motion to strike these discovery requests is granted.

CONCLUSION

For the reasons stated, plaintiffs' motion for summary judgment is denied. Plaintiffs' motion to strike is granted.

SO ORDERED.
